Saving The Fragments:

Writing Our Lives Steven Joel Rubin, 1991 Twenty eight selections from the writings of some of the best known American Jewish novelists dramatists critics and historians span the social and cultural history of American Jews in the twentieth century Often joyous occasionally tragic they provide a fascinating record from immigration to assimilation from life in the ghetto to the current movement by many to recapture their Jewish identity At once personal and historical the selections are poignant and moving testimonies to the perseverance of the American Jewish people

Saving Migrant Birds John Faaborg, 2014-02-19 Rigorous and well defended Faaborg makes many fresh and in some cases provocative points regarding management guidelines for migrant birds Kenneth Able Great Plains Research In the 1980s numerous scientific surveys documented both declining bird populations especially among Neotropical songbirds that winter in the tropics and the loss of tropical rain forest habitat Drawing the seemingly obvious conclusion scientists and environmental activists linked songbird declines to loss of tropical habitats and alerted the world to an impending ecological catastrophe Their warnings led to the establishment of the Neotropical Migratory Bird Conservation Program also known as Partners in Flight the self proclaimed largest conservation effort in history Looking back over more than a decade of efforts to save migrant birds John Faaborg offers the first serious evaluation of the state of songbird populations today the effectiveness of conservation programs such as Partners in Flight and the reliability and completeness of scientific research on migrant birds Taking neither an alarmist nor a complacent approach he shows that many factors besides habitat loss affect bird populations and that Neotropical migrants as a group are not declining dramatically though some species adapt to habitat alteration more successfully than others Faaborg s state of the art survey thus clarifies the kinds of information we will need and the conservation efforts we should undertake to ensure the long term survival of Neotropical migrant birds Presents a carefully and closely reasoned argument about the magnitude of the conservation problems facing migrant birds how we can reduce these problems and how current conservation efforts have enormous value even if there is no immediate crisis Scott K Robinson Professor and Head Department of Animal Biology University of Illinois

Close Saving Truth From Paradox Hartry Field,2008-03-06 Saving Truth from Paradox is an ambitious investigation into paradoxes of truth and related issues with occasional forays into notions such as vagueness the nature of validity and the G del incompleteness theorems Hartry Field presents a new approach to the paradoxes and provides a systematic and detailed account of the main competing approaches Part One examines Tarski s Kripke s and Lukasiewicz s theories of truth and discusses validity and soundness and vagueness Part Two considers a wide range of attempts to resolve the paradoxes within classical logic In Part Three Field turns to non classical theories of truth that that restrict excluded middle He shows that there are theories of this sort in which the conditionals obey many of the classical laws and that all the semantic paradoxes not just the simplest ones can be handled consistently with the naive theory of truth In Part Four these theories are extended to the property theoretic paradoxes and to various other paradoxes and some issues about the understanding of the notion of validity are addressed Extended paradoxes involving the notion of determinate truth are treated very thoroughly and a number of different arguments that the theories lead to revenge problems are addressed Finally Part Five deals with dialethic approaches to the paradoxes approaches which instead of restricting excluded middle accept certain contradictions but alter classical logic so as to keep them confined to a relatively remote part of the language Advocates of dialethic theories have argued them to be better than theories that restrict excluded middle for instance over issues related to the incompleteness theorems and in avoiding revenge problems Field argues that dialetheists claims on behalf of their theories are quite unfounded and indeed that on some of these issues all current versions of dialetheism do substantially worse than the best theories that restrict excluded middle

Eternal God / Saving Time George Pattison,2015-01-29 Starting from the assumption that time is the horizon of the meaning of Being Heidegger Eternal God Saving Time attempts to discover what the central religious idea of eternity or of God as the Eternal might mean today Negotiating ideas of divine timelessness and sempiternity everlastingness as well as the attempts of some philosophers to develop the idea of a temporal God Professor George Pattison surveys a range of positions from analytic philosophy and from the continental tradition from Spinoza through Hegel to the present Intellectual and cultural forces have tended to separate time and eternity and both philosophical and theological examples of this tendency are examined Nevertheless starting from the experience of life in time some modern thinkers have developed a new approach to the Eternal as what grounds or gives time This leads through ideas of novelty utopia hope promise and call to the projection of a creative and transformative memory remembering the future that affirms human solidarity and mutual responsibility Even if this cannot be made good in terms of knowledge it offers a basis for hope prayer and commitment and these options are explored through a range of Christian Jewish Greek and secular thinkers This development re envisages the idea of redemption away from the Augustinian view that time is what we need to be rescued from and towards the idea that time itself might save us from all that is destructive and tyrannical in time s rule over human life

Saving Fear in Christian Spirituality Ann W. Astell,2019-11-30 Hailed in Sacred Scripture as the beginning of wisdom Ps 111 10 the fear of the Lord is seldom mentioned and little understood today A gift of the Spirit and a moral virtue or disposition the fear of the Lord also frequently entails emotional experiences of differing kinds compunction dread reverence wonderment and awe Starting with the Bible itself this collection of seventeen essays explores the place of holy fear in Christian spirituality from the early church to the present and argues that this fear is paradoxically linked in various ways to fear s seeming opposite love Indeed the charged dynamic of love and fear accounts for different experiences and expressions of Christian life in response to changing historical circumstances and events The writings of the theologians mystics philosophers saints and artists studied here reveal the relationship between the fear and the love of God to be profoundly challenging and mysterious its elements paradoxically conjoined in a creative tension with each other but also tending to oscillate back and forth in the history of Christian spirituality as first one then the other comes to the fore sometimes to correct a perceived imbalance sometimes at the risk of losing its companion altogether Given this historical pattern clearly evident in these chronologically arranged essays the palpable absence of a discourse of holy fear from the mainstream theological landscape should give us pause and invite us to consider if and how under what aspect in which contexts a holy fear inseparable from love might be regained or discovered anew within Christian spirituality as a remedy both for a crippling anxiety and for a presumptive recklessness This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Christian spirituality theology biblical studies religious studies and religion and literature Contributors Ann W Astell Pieter G R de Villiers Donna R Hawk Reinhard John Sehorn Catherine Rose Cavadini Joseph Wawrykow Robert Boenig Ralph Keen Wendy M Wright Ephraim Radner Julia A Lamm Cyril O Regan Brenna Moore Maj Britt Frenze and Todd Walatka

Saving a Place: Endangered Species in the 21st Century John A. Baden,Pete Geddes,2018-02-05 This title was first published in 2000 The noble goals embodied in the Endangered Species Act are colliding with financial and social realities Citizens increasingly face the costs of current policies while initiatives which fail to respect liberty and property meet serious resistance at every turn Despite widespread verbal support for saving species at any cost when trade offs become obvious and values compete support for these policies evaporates This edited collection examines ethically and materially responsible approaches to this problem written by leading international figures from a variety of disciplines The result is the most comprehensive and constructive analysis of the effectiveness and viability of endangered species protection available

Saving One Another: Philodemus and Paul on Moral Formation in Community Justin Allison,2020-07-20 In Saving One Another Philodemus and Paul on Moral Formation in Community Justin Reid Allison compares how the Epicurean philosopher Philodemus and the Christian apostle Paul envisioned the members of their communities helping one another to grow into moral maturity Allison establishes that Philodemus and Paul are more similar than previously noticed in their conception and practice of moral formation in community and that these similarities offer a critical opportunity to consider important differences between the two as well. By deepening the comparison to include differences alongside similarities and to include theological and socio-economic facets of communal moral formation, Allison shows that Philodemus and Paul uniquely shed fresh light on one another's texts when understood in comparative perspective.

Ever Green: Saving Big Forests to Save the Planet John W. Reid, Thomas E. Lovejoy, 2022-03-29. One of Kirkus Review's Best Nonfiction Books of 2022. Clear, provocative, and persuasive, Ever Green is an inspiring call to action to conserve Earth's irreplaceable wild woods, counteract climate change, and save the planet. Five stunningly large forests remain on Earth: the Taiga, extending from the Pacific Ocean across all of Russia and far northern Europe; the North American boreal, ranging from Alaska's Bering seacoast to Canada's Atlantic shore; the Amazon, covering almost the entirety of South America's bulge; the Congo, occupying parts of six nations in Africa's wet equatorial middle; and the island forest of New Guinea, twice the size of California. These megaforests are vital to preserving global biodiversity, thousands of cultures, and a stable climate, as economist John W. Reid and celebrated biologist Thomas E. Lovejoy argue convincingly in Ever Green. Megaforests serve an essential role in decarbonizing the atmosphere: the boreal alone holds 1.8 trillion metric tons of carbon in its deep soils and peat layers, 190 years' worth of global emissions at 2019 levels, and saving them is the most immediate and affordable large-scale solution to our planet's most formidable ongoing crisis. Reid and Lovejoy offer practical solutions to address the biggest challenges these forests face: from vastly expanding protected areas to supporting Indigenous forest stewards to planning smarter road networks. In gorgeous prose that evokes the majesty of these ancient forests along with the people and animals who inhabit them, Reid and Lovejoy take us on an exhilarating global journey.
