Serving Special Needs Students In The School Library Media Center:

Serving Special Needs Students in the School Library Media Center Margaret Keefe, Robert King, 1995-05-30

School library media specialists are now considered part of the teaching staff and are charged with integrating their library and information skills curriculum with the more general classroom curriculum. At the same time more and more special needs students are part of every school and every classroom. Thus the media specialist must work effectively with special needs students on a regular basis to develop their information skills and must also serve as a resource to classroom teachers. This professional reference offers practical information to school library media specialists on how to serve special needs students and their classroom teachers effectively. The first part of the book highlights the teaching role of the media specialist and discusses how and what to teach special needs students. The second part views the media specialist as an information expert who must structure the library and its resources for students with special needs. The third section treats the media specialist's role as a professional who must collaborate with other teachers.

Administering the School Library Media Center

Betty J. Morris, 2010-08-16 This is the most comprehensive textbook on school library administration available now updated to include the latest standards and address new technologies. This reference text provides a complete instructional overview of the workings of the library media center from the basics of administration budgeting facilities management organization selection of materials and staffing to explanations on how to promote information literacy and the value of digital tools like blogs wikis and podcasting. Since the publication of the fourth edition of Administering the School Library Media Center in 2004 many changes have altered the landscape of school library administration the implementation of NCLB legislation and the revision of AASL standards just to mention two. The book is divided into 14 chapters each devoted to a major topic in school library media management. This latest edition gives media specialists a roadmap for designing a school library that is functional and intellectually stimulating while leading sources provide guidance for further research.

Block Scheduling and Its Impact on the School Library Media Center Marie Shaw, 1999-02-28 Across the country educators are facing the challenge of restructuring the secondary school to meet the needs of students in the twenty first century. Block scheduling provides sustained time and fosters an environment for active and experiential learning a key to student success in life. The author who has spearheaded the adoption of block scheduling in her school's library media center has prepared a complete guide for library media specialists contemplating or moving to block scheduling. In preparing this guide she has incorporated the experiences of twelve secondary school libraries across the country that have also moved to block scheduling. Step by step this guide walks the library media specialist through planning networking curriculum and instruction professional development technology and assessment. Practical suggestions forms lesson plans and case studies of other media centers that have successfully adopted block scheduling will help the library media specialist to make the transition to the block

Block scheduling places a high demand on staff materials and information technologies Shaw stresses that networking of people and resources is essential to successful adoption of block scheduling She takes the reader through the planning and transitional phases of a high school adopting block scheduling and addresses concerns about instructional change ongoing curriculum and the role of the library media specialist as a teacher of information technology She provides ideas on where to find professional development and how to network with other library media specialists with expertise in the block and offers practical suggestions on resource sharing study hall flexible scheduling budget collection development substitute teachers and assessment techniques Toward a 21st-Century School Library Media Program Esther Rosenfeld, David V.

Loertscher, 2007-10-15 This collection of enlightening and stimulating articles written by some of the most important figures in school librarianship demonstrates how teacher librarians classroom teachers and administrators can work together to create a 21st century school library media program With topics that emphasize student success leadership partnerships curriculum design collaborative planning and teaching literacy 21st century skills emerging technologies and so much more this compendium brings together the best of the best discussions The practicing teacher librarian as well as the student seeking to expand his or her knowledge of the field will find this compilation especially beneficial in providing an overview of the most critical issues related to the role the teacher librarian plays in their school The articles previously published in the peer reviewed Teacher Librarian The Journal for School Library Professionals with several included from the magazine VOYA Voice of Youth Advocates reveal how school libraries and teacher librarians are moving forward to meet the challenges of this new century Educational Media and Technology Yearbook Michael Orey, V.
