Seven Steps To Nirvana Strategic Insights Into Ebusiness Transformation:

The Seven Steps to Nirvana: Strategic Insights into eBusiness Transformation Mohan Sawhney, Jeff Zabin, 2001-06-20 Today's most successful companies never sit still. Even as they introduce their newest e-business initiatives, their next generation of improvements is already near completion. Traditional organizations, especially larger low-tech businesses, must reinvent themselves if they are to hold their positions against these new business competitors. The Seven Steps to Nirvana leads managers through the systematic stages needed to transform traditional businesses regardless of their industries into fierce competitors. Combining hard-hitting analyses with case studies of businesses that made the transition, this concrete practical tour de force opens readers' minds to essential differences between e-commerce and e-business. The evolutionary stages of e-business intervention. Strategies to overcome inertia and organize for speed. Written by one of BusinessWeek's 25 most influential e-business innovators. The Seven Steps to Nirvana is a trove of innovative techniques for brick-and-mortar businesses to meet and overcome the challenges of today's faster, nimbler e-upstarts.

e-Transformation: Enabling New Development Strategies Nagy K. Hanna, 2009-11-11 Could information and communication technology (ICT) become the transformative tool for a new style of global development? Could ICT promote knowledge-based innovation-driven and smart adaptive participatory development? As countries seek a way out of the present period of economic contraction, they are trying to weave ICT into their development strategies. In the same way, organizations have learned to use ICT to transform their business models and strategies. This integration offers a new path to development that is responsive to the challenges of our times. In e-Transformation, Nagy Hanna identifies the key ingredients for the strategic integration of ICT into national development, with examples from around the world. He draws on his rich experience of over 35 years at the World Bank and other aid agencies to outline the strategic options involved in using ICT to maximize developmental impact: transforming public service institutions, networking businesses for innovation and competitiveness, and empowering communities for social inclusion and poverty reduction. He identifies the key interdependencies in e-transformation and offers a holistic framework to tap network effects and synergies across all elements of the process, including leadership, cyber policies, institutions, human resources, technological competencies, information infrastructure, and ICT uses for government, business, and society. Integrating analytical insights and practical applications across the fields of development, political economy, public administration, entrepreneurship, and technology management, the author candidly argues that e-transformation, like all bold ideas, faces implementation challenges. In particular, the aspiration-reality gap needs to be systematically addressed if ICT-enabled innovation and transformation is to become a development practice. E-transformation is first and foremost about thinking strategically and creatively about the options made possible by the information technology revolution in the context of globalization. To this end, the author provides tools and best practices designed to nurture innovation, select entry points, prioritize among competing demands, and sequence and scale up. He outlines the roles of all participants political managerial entrepreneurial social and technical whose leadership is essential for successful innovation

Managing (e)Business Transformation Ali Farhoomand, M. Lynne Markus, Guy Gable, Shamza Khan, 2021-01-21 Managing e Business Transformation comprises text and cases designed to show students how a business can be transformed into an internetworked enterprise where IT infrastructures are used to link customers suppliers partners and employees to create superior economic value The book is written based on the premise that integrating internet technologies throughout the value chain is crucial to building and managing customer relationships Importantly it underscores the centrality of basic business and economic principles within the context of a networked environment The book builds on established business and economic theories concepts and fundamentals to show that e business will soon be synonymous with business The book takes a strong managerial perspective especially popular with MBA students to argue that the internet is simply an enabling technology which allows firms to build the infrastructure needed to operate in an evolving business world The application of theory concepts is emphasized throughout and contains a range of international case studies enhance the learning experience This book is a must for all students studying e business strategy at undergraduate MBA and postgraduate level Also available is a companion website with extra features to accompany the text please take a look by clicking below <http://www.palgrave.com/business/farhoomand/index.asp>

Farhoomand, 2005-01-01 The case studies are topically diverse and span a range of managerial functions and sectors This casebook is an anthology of 28 cases from the series The cases are written with a strong management perspective to offer a practical and interesting look at how successful entrepreneur managers in Hong Kong systematically generate innovations in the shape of successful new products services processes and technologies when faced with various organizational and environmental challenges They constitute a comprehensive self contained course of study each case can also be considered on its own The Future of Competition C. K. Prahalad, Venkat Ramaswamy, 2004-02-18 In this visionary book C K Prahalad and Venkat Ramaswamy explore why despite unbounded opportunities for innovation companies still can't satisfy customers and sustain profitable growth The explanation for this apparent paradox lies in recognizing the structural changes brought about by the convergence of industries and technologies ubiquitous connectivity and globalization and as a consequence the evolving role of the consumer from passive recipient to active co creator of value Managers need a new framework for value creation Increasingly individual customers interact with a network of firms and consumer communities to co create value No longer can firms autonomously create value Neither is value embedded in products and services per se Products are but an artifact around which compelling individual experiences are created As a result the focus of innovation will shift from products and services to experience environments that individuals can interact with to co construct their own experiences These personalized co creation experiences are the source of unique value for consumers and companies alike In this emerging opportunity space companies must build new strategic capital a new theory on how to compete This book presents a detailed view of the new functional organizational infrastructure and governance capabilities that will be required for competing on experiences and co creating unique value      Advances in Databases and Information Systems Leonid Kalinichenko,2003-09-02 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th East European Conference on Advances in Databases and Information Systems ADBIS 2003 held in Dresden Germany in September 2003 The 29 revised full papers presented together with 2 invited contributions were carefully reviewed and selected from 86 submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on compositional development advanced query processing transactions retrieval from the Web indexing techniques active databases and workflows complex value storage data mining formal query semantics spatial aspects of information systems XML processing multimedia data management information integration and query containment      HR Focus ,2003
