Fearing the Dark Edmund G. Bansak, 2003-10-09 Cat People 1942 and I Walked with a Zombie 1943 established Val Lewton's hauntingly graceful style where suggestion was often used in place of explicit violence His stylish B thrillers were imitated by a generation of filmmakers such as Richard Wallace William Castle and even Walt Disney in his animated Adventures of Ichabod and Mr Toad 1949 Through interviews with many of Lewton's associates including his wife and son and extensive research his life and output are thoroughly examined Phantom Ladies Tim Snelson, 2014-11-15 Defying industry logic and gender expectations women started flocking to see horror films in the early 1940s The departure of the young male audience and the surprise success of the film Cat People convinced studios that there was an untapped female audience for horror movies and they adjusted their production and marketing strategies accordingly Phantom Ladies reveals the untold story of how the Hollywood horror film changed dramatically in the early 1940s including both female heroines and female monsters while incorporating elements of women's genres like the gothic mystery Drawing from a wealth of newly unearthed archival material from production records to audience surveys Tim Snelson challenges long held assumptions about gender and horror film viewership Examining a wide range of classic horror movies Snelson offers us a new appreciation of how dynamic this genre could be as it underwent seismic shifts in a matter of months Phantom Ladies therefore not only includes horror films made in the early 1940s but also those produced immediately after the war ended films in which the female monster was replaced by neurotic psychotic or hysterical women who could be cured and domesticated Phantom Ladies is a spine tingling eye opening read about gender and horror and the complex relationship between industry and audiences in the classical Hollywood era Showmen, Sell It Hot! John McElwee, 2015-07-20 A noted Hollywood historian takes a first ever marketing look at the selling of classic motion pictures generated by Hollywood's fabled movie factories in this lush coffee table retrospective Movie buffs will enjoy seeing the effects of the Depression censorship world war the Cold War television and the counter culture movement on the changing tastes of moviegoers and the way showmen responded with creative and sometimes zany ad campaigns Chapters include the sexy and salacious pre Code pictures the launch of the new dance team of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in Flying Down to Rio MGM's gamble on the Marx Brothers with A Night at the Opera lavish campaigns for The Wizard of Oz in original release and reissue creation of a new star John Wayne in John Ford's Stagecoach Orson Welles failed Citizen Kane campaign Billy Wilder's unusual and dark Hollywood statement picture Sunset Boulevard the selling of Rebel Without a Cause Giant and East of Eden following the death of James Dean Alfred Hitchcock's personal gamble with Psycho and much more Hollywood's Melodramatic Imagination Geoff Mayer, 2021-12-22 Melodrama is the foundation of American cinema It is however a poorly understood term While it is a pervasive and persuasive dramatic mode it is not tied to any specific moral or ideological system It is not a singular genre rather it operates as a genre generating machine capable of determining the aesthetics and structure of the drama within many genres Melodrama centers the conflict around the clash between good and evil and provides a sense of poetic justice but the specific values embedded in notions of good and evil are determined by the culture and they shift from nation to nation region to region and period to period This book explores the populist westerns of the 1930s the propaganda films that followed the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the popularity of Sax Rohmer's master villain Fu Manchu Melodramas of passion and film noir also offer a challenge to melodrama with its seemingly alienated protagonists and downbeat endings Yet with few exceptions Hollywood was able to assimilate these genres within its melodramatic imagination The Birth of Death and Other Comedies Tom Whalen, 2011 Russell H Greenan's It Happened in Boston is one of the most radical narratives to appear in the late 1960s this is a book that encompasses everything as David L Ulin noted in Bookforum Yet due in large part to the difficulty of classifying Greenan's fiction many readers are unaware of his other novels In The Birth of Death and Other Comedies The Novels of Russell H Greenan Tom Whalen drawing widely from the American literary tradition locates Greenan's lineage in the work of Hawthorne and Poe where allegory and dream mingle with and illuminate realism as well as in the fiction of Twain West Hammett Cain and Thompson Examining Greenan's characteristic themes and strategies Whalen provides perceptive readings of the dark comedies of this criminally neglected American master and in a coda reflects on Greenan's career and the reception of his work Revolution in 35mm Andrew Nette, Sam Deighan, 2024-09-24 Revolution in 35mm Political Violence and Resistance in Cinema from the Arthouse to the Grindhouse 1960-1990 examines how political violence and resistance was represented in arthouse and cult films from 1960 to 1990 This historical period spans the Algerian war of independence and the early wave of post colonial struggles that reshaped the Global South through the collapse of Soviet Communism in the late 80s It focuses on films related to the rise of protest movements by students workers and leftist groups as well as broader countercultural movements Black Power the rise of feminism and so on The book also includes films that explore the splinter groups that engaged in violent urban guerilla struggles throughout the 1970s and 1980s as the promise of widespread radical social transformation failed to materialize the Weathermen the Black Liberation Army and the Symbionese Liberation Army in the United States the Red Army Faction in West Germany and Japan and Italy's Red Brigades Many of these movements were deeply connected with and expressed their values through art literature popular culture and of course cinema Twelve authors including academics and well know film critics deliver a diverse examination of how filmmakers around the world reacted to the political violence and resistance movements of the period and how this was expressed on screen This includes looking at the financing distribution and screening of these films audience and critical reaction the attempted censorship or suppression of much of this work and how directors and producers eluded these restrictions Including over two hundred illustrations the book examines filmmaking movements like the French Japanese German and Yugoslavian New Waves subgenres like spaghetti westerns Italian poliziotteschi Blaxploitation and mondo movies and films that reflect the values of specific movements like feminists Vietnam War protesters and Black militants The work of influential and well known political filmmakers such as Costa Gavras Gillo Pontecorvo and Glauber Rocha is examined side by side with grindhouse cinema and lesser known titles by a host of all but forgotten filmmakers including many from the Global South that are deserving of rediscovery
