Moon And Rainbow The Autobiography Of An Aboriginal:

Moon and rainbow. The autobiography of an aboriginal. [By] Dick Roughsey - Goobalathaldin Dick Roughsey,1971

Moon and Rainbow Dick Roughsey,1971 Dick Roughsey was an Australian Aboriginal artist from the Lardil language group on Mornington Island in the south eastern Gulf of Carpentaria Queensland His tribal name was Goobalathaldin meaning the ocean dancing describing a rough sea He was an active and prominent figure involved in reviving and preserving the cultural life of the Lardil people His best known works are a series of children s picture books that retell traditional Aboriginal stories including The Rainbow Serpent Review of Moon and Rainbow Kevin Gilbert,1972

Indigenous Biography and Autobiography Peter Read,Frances Peters-Little,Anna Haebich,2008-12-01 In this absorbing collection of papers Aboriginal Maori Dalit and western scholars discuss and analyse the difficulties they have faced in writing Indigenous biographies and autobiographies The issues range from balancing the demands of western and non western scholarship through writing about a family that refuses to acknowledge its identity to considering a community demand not to write anything at all The collection also presents some state of the art issues in teaching Indigenous Studies based on auto biography in Austria Spain and Italy A Companion to Australian Aboriginal Literature Belinda Wheeler,2013 This international collection of eleven original essays on Australian Aboriginal literature provides a comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars researchers students and general readers Australian Aboriginal literature once relegated to the margins of Australian literary studies now receives both national and international attention Not only has the number of published texts by contemporary Australian Aboriginals risen sharply but scholars and publishers have also recently begun recovering earlier published and unpublished Indigenous works Writing by Australian Aboriginals is making a decisive impression in fiction autobiography biography poetry film drama and music and has recently been anthologized in Oceania and North America Until now however there has been no comprehensive critical companion that contextualizes the Aboriginal canon for scholars researchers students and general readers This international collection of eleven original essays fills this gap by discussing crucial aspects of Australian Aboriginal literature and tracing the development of Aboriginal literacy from the oral tradition up until today contextualizing the work of Aboriginal artists and writers and exploring aspects of Aboriginal life writing such as obstacles toward publishing questions of editorial control or the lack thereof intergenerational and interracial collaborations combining oral history and life writing and the pros and cons of translation into European languages Contributors Katrin Althans Maryrose Casey Danica Cerce Stuart Cooke Paula Anca Farca Michael R Griffiths Oliver Haag Martina Horakova Jennifer Jones Nicholas Jose Andrew King Jeanine Leane Theodore F Sheckels Belinda Wheeler Belinda Wheeler is Associate Professor of English at Claflin University Orangeburg SC Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines Mitchell Rolls,Murray Johnson,2019-11-05 The Aboriginal Australians first arrived on the continent at least 60 000 years ago occupying and adapting to a range of environmental conditions from tropical estuarine habitats densely forested regions open plains and arid desert country to cold mountainous and often wet and snowy high country Cultures adapted according to the different conditions and adapted again to environmental changes brought about by rising sea levels at the end of the last ice age European colonization of the island continent in 1788 not only introduced diseases to which Aborigines had no immunity but also began an enduring and at times violent conflict over land and resources Reconciliation between Aborigines and the settler population remains unresolved This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Australian Aborigines contains a chronology an introduction an extensive bibliography and more than 300 cross referenced entries on the politics economy foreign relations religion and culture of the Aborigines This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the indigenous people of Australia Justice and Warfare in Aboriginal Australia Christophe Darmangeat, 2020-11-12

Meticulously examining ethnographic sources Christophe Darmangeat argues that warfare among Australian Aborigines was mostly an extension of their judicial systems He demonstrates how violent conflict occurred when circumstances prohibited regulated proceedings Moon and Rainbow Dick Roughsey, 1977 The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature Shameful

Autobiographies Rosamund Dalziell, 2018-07-04 Writing autobiography is a risky business What is shameful can be inadvertently rather than deliberately revealed Yet reading autobiography can also be risky as it may lead to the confrontation of shame in ourselves Perhaps it is this element of risk together with the magnetism of another person's confession of shameful experience that make us such avid readers of autobiography Rosamund Dalziell proposes that shame is the driving force in many Australian autobiographies Indeed she suggests that the representation of shame is fundamental to the autobiographical process Shame seeks concealment and this she argues explains both why this fascinating link has not before been explored and why when it is pointed out we immediately know it to be authentic Shameful Autobiographies looks at pervasive patterns of shame in the autobiographies of such leading Australian writers as Germaine Greer Sally Morgan Bernard Smith Kathleen Fitzpatrick Morris Lurie Ruby Langford Ginibi and Robert Dessaix In so doing it establishes the centrality of shame to problems of Australian identity and to current political debate for instance it is shame that fuels angry repudiations of the so called black armband view of history The calm clarity of Rosamund Dalziell's writing strengthens her powerful insights and arguments the most potent of which is that autobiographical confrontation with shame can heal deep wounds both for writers and for readers This mature and innovative book will enrich the experience of all readers of autobiography First Knowledges Design Alison Page, Paul Memmott, 2021-04-27 Aboriginal design is of a distinctly cultural nature based in the Dreaming and in ancient practices grounded in Country It is visible in the aerodynamic boomerang the ingenious design of fish traps and the precise layouts of community settlements that strengthen social cohesion Alison Page and Paul Memmott show how these design principles of sophisticated function sustainability and storytelling refined over many millennia are now being applied to contemporary practices Design Building on Country issues a challenge for a new Australian design ethos one that truly responds to the essence of Country and its people About the series Each book is a collaboration between Indigenous and non Indigenous writers and editors the series is edited by Margo Neale senior Indigenous curator at the National Museum of Australia Other titles in the series include Songlines by Margo Neale Country by Bill Gammage Plants by Zena Cumpston Michael Fletcher Astronomy 2022 Innovation 2023

Histories of Australian Rock Art Research Jo McDonald, 2022-09-06 Australia has one of the largest inventories of rock art in the world with pictographs and petroglyphs found almost anywhere that has suitable rock surfaces in rock shelters and caves on boulders and rock platforms First Nations people have been marking these places with figurative imagery abstract designs stencils and prints for tens of thousands of years often engaging with earlier rock markings The art reflects and expresses changing experiences within landscapes over time spirituality history law and lore as well as relationships between individuals and groups of people plants animals land and Ancestral Beings that are said to have created the world including some rock art Since the late 1700s people arriving in Australia have been fascinated with the rock art they encountered with detailed studies commencing in the late 1800s Through the 1900s an impressive body of research on Australian rock art was undertaken with dedicated academic study using archaeological methods employed since the late 1940s Since then Australian rock art has been researched from various perspectives including that of Traditional Owners custodians and other community members Through the 1900s there was also growing interest in Australian rock art from researchers across the globe leading many to visit or migrate to Australia to undertake rock art research In this volume the varied histories of Australian rock art research from different parts of the country are explored not only in terms of key researchers developments and changes over time but also the crucial role of First Nations people themselves in investigations of this key component of their living heritage

The Edge of Memory Patrick Nunn, 2018-08-23 How much of the folk tales of our ancestors is rooted in fact and what can they tell us about the future In today's society it is the written word that holds the authority We are more likely to trust the words found in a history textbook over the version of history retold by a friend after all human memory is unreliable and how can you be sure your friend hasn't embellished the facts But before humans were writing down their knowledge they were passing it on in the form of stories The Edge of Memory celebrates the predecessor of written information the spoken word tales from our ancestors that have been passed down transmitting knowledge from one generation to the next Among the most extensive and best analysed of these stories are from native Australian cultures These stories conveyed both practical information and recorded history describing a lost landscape often featuring tales of flooding and submergence Folk traditions such as these are increasingly supported by hard science Geologists are starting to corroborate the tales through study of climatic data sediments and land forms the evidence was there in the stories but until recently nobody was listening In this book Patrick Nunn unravels the importance of these tales exploring the science behind folk history from around the world including northwest Europe and India and what it can tell us about environmental phenomena from coastal drowning to volcanic eruptions These stories of real events were handed down the generations over thousands of years and they have broad implications for our understanding of how human societies have developed through the millennia and ultimately how we respond collectively to changes in climate our surroundings and the environment we live in

Dhuuluu-Yala Anita Heiss, 2003 Dhuuluu Yala is a Wiradjuri phrase meaning to talk straight and this book is straight talk about publishing Indigenous literature in Australia It also includes broader issues that writers need to consider engaging with readers and reviewers The book covers the period up to the mid 1900s though some references are included up to 2000 Changes have been made since that date however the issues identified in Dhuuluu Yala remain current and to a large extent unresolved The history of defining Aboriginality in Australia and the experience of being Aboriginal have both impacted on the production of Aboriginal writing today These twin themes are the major focus of the book The pioneering roles of Aboriginal writers who have gone before and created a space has allowed for the growth of an Indigenous publishing industry Indeed a literary and publishing culture have developed also because of the increasing desire and need for an authentic Indigenous voice in Australian literature Although funding and other mechanisms are in place and possibilities afforded Indigenous writers have improved opportunities are still limited leading to some authors choosing to self publish

Indigenous Participation in Australian Economies II Natasha Fijn, Ian Keen, Christopher Lloyd, Michael Pickering, 2012-07-01 This volume arises out of a conference in Canberra on Indigenous Participation in Australian Economies at the National Museum of Australia on 9 10 November 2009 which attracted more than thirty presenters
