Moving Images From Edison To The Webcam:

Moving Images John Fullerton, Astrid Söderberg Widding, 2000 Moving Images John Fullerton, Astrid Söderberg Widding, 2000-06-22 Seventeen essays examining the impact of new media on the history of cinema In 1888 Thomas Edison announced that he was experimenting on an instrument which does for the eye what the phonograph does for the ear which is the recording and reproduction of things in motion Just as Edison's investigations were framed in terms of the known technologies of the phonograph and the microscope the essays in this collection address the contexts of innovation and reception that have framed the development of moving images in the last one hundred years Three concerns are of particular interest the contexts of innovation and reception for moving image technologies the role of the observer whose vision and cognitive processes define some of the limits of inquiry and epistemological insight and the role of new media which engaging with the domestic sphere as cultural interface are transforming our understanding of public and private spheres The seventeen previously unpublished essays in Moving Images represent the best of current research in the history of this field They make a timely and stimulating contribution to debates concerning the impact of new media on the history of cinema Contributors include William Boddy Carlos Bustamante Warren Buckland Valeria Camporesi Bent Fausing Oliver Gaycken Alison Griffiths Christopher Hales Jan Holmberg Solveig Jlich Frank Kessler Jay Moman Sheila C Murphy Pelle Snickars Paul C Spehr Björn Thuresson and Ke Walldius Camera Image Quality Benchmarking Jonathan B.

Phillips, Henrik Eliasson, 2018-01-09 The essential guide to the entire process behind performing a complete characterization and benchmarking of cameras through image quality analysis Camera Image Quality Benchmarking contains the basic information and approaches for the use of subjectively correlated image quality metrics and outlines a framework for camera benchmarking The authors show how to quantitatively compare image quality of cameras used for consumer photography This book helps to fill a void in the literature by detailing the types of objective and subjective metrics that are fundamental to benchmarking still and video imaging devices Specifically the book provides an explanation of individual image quality attributes and how they manifest themselves to camera components and explores the key photographic still and video image quality metrics The text also includes illustrative examples of benchmarking methods so that the practitioner can design a methodology appropriate to the photographic usage in consideration The authors outline the various techniques used to correlate the measurement results from the objective methods with subjective results The text also contains a detailed description on how to set up an image quality characterization lab with examples where the methodological benchmarking approach described has been implemented successfully This vital resource Explains in detail the entire process behind performing a complete characterization and benchmarking of cameras through image quality analysis Provides best practice measurement protocols and methodologies so readers can develop and define their own camera benchmarking system to industry standards Includes many photographic images and diagrammatical illustrations to clearly convey image quality concepts Champions benchmarking approaches that value the importance of perceptually correlated image quality metrics Written for image scientists engineers or managers involved in image quality and evaluating camera performance Camera Image Quality Benchmarking combines knowledge from many different engineering fields correlating objective perception independent image quality with subjective perception dependent image quality metrics

Moving Image Technology Leo Douglas Graham Enticknap, 2005 The author explains scientific technical and engineering concepts clearly and in a way that can be understood by non scientists He integrates a discussion of traditional film based technologies with the impact of emerging new media technologies such as digital video e cinema and the Internet

Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture John Powers, 2023 The Bolex camera 16mm reversal film stocks commercial film laboratories and low budget optical printers were the small gauge media technologies that provided the infrastructure for experimental filmmaking at the height of its cultural impact Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture examines how the avant garde embraced these material resources and invested them with meanings and values adjacent to those of semiprofessional film culture By reasserting the physicality of the body in making time lapse and kinesthetic sequences with the Bolex filmmakers conversed with other art forms and integrated broader spheres of humanistic and scientific inquiry into their artistic process Drawing from the photographic qualities of stocks such as Tri X and Kodachrome they discovered pliant metaphors that allowed them to connect their artistic practice to metaphysics spiritualism and Hollywood excess By framing film labs as mystical or adversarial they cultivated an oppositionality that valorized control over the artistic process And by using the optical printer as a tool for excavating latent meaning out of found footage they posited the reworking of images as fundamental to the exploration of personal and cultural identity Providing a wealth of new detail about the making of canonized avant garde classics by such luminaries as Carolee Schneemann Jack Smith and Stan Brakhage as well as rediscovering works from overlooked artists such as Chick Strand Amy Halpern and Gunvor Nelson Technology and the Making of Experimental Film Culture uses technology as a lens for examining the process of making where ideas come from how they are put into practice and how arguments about those ideas foster cultural and artistic commitments and communities

Shooting the Family Patricia Pisters, Wim Staat, 2005 Shooting the Family a collection of essays on the contemporary media landscape explores ever changing representations of family life on a global scale The contributors argue that new recording technologies allows families an unusual kind of freedom until now unknown to define and respond to their own lives and memories Recently released videos made by young migrants as they discover new homelands and resolve conflicts with their parents for example reverberate alongside the dark portrayals of family life in the formal filmmaking of Ang Lee This book will be a boon to scholars of film theory and media studies as well as to anyone interested in the construction of the family in a postmodern world
