Rearming Israel Defense Procurement Through The 1990s:

Rearming Israel Aharon Klieman, Reuven Pedatzur, 2019-09-16 This study analyzes the key functions of arms planning and procurement in the ongoing Israeli defence effort Part I addresses individual constraints placed on the shaping of arms control policy Part II asks how Israel might best meet its arms needs over the next decade Arms Procurement Decision Making: China, India, Israel, Japan, South Korea and Thailand Ravinder Pal Singh, 1998 SCOTT copy 1 From the John Holmes collection Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective The Global Arms Trade Andrew T. H. Tan, 2014-05-22 The Global Arms Trade is a timely comprehensive and in depth study of this topic a phenomenon which has continued to flourish despite the end of the Cold War and the preoccupation with global terrorism after 11 September 2001 It provides a clear description and analysis of the demand for and supply of modern weapons systems and assess key issues of concern This book will be especially useful to scholars policy analysts those in the arms industry defence professionals students of international relations and security studies media professionals government officials and those generally interested in the arms trade A History of Israel Howard M. Sachar, 2013-07-31 First published in 1976 Howard M Sachar's A History of Israel From the Rise of Zionism to Our Time was regarded one of the most valuable works available detailing the history of this still relatively young country Decades later readers can again be immersed in this monumental work The second edition of this volume covers topics such as the first of the Aliyahs in the 1880s the rise of Jewish nationalism the beginning of the political Zionist movement and later how the movement changed after Theodor Herzl the Balfour Declaration the factors that led to the Arab Jewish confrontation Palestine and its role both during the Second World War and after the war of independence and the many wars that followed it over the next few decades and the development of the Israeli republic and the many challenges it faced both domestic and foreign and still faces today This is a truly enriching and exhaustive history of a nation that holds claim to one of the most complicated and controversial histories in the world

Defence Industries in the 21st Century Çağlar Kurç, Richard A. Bitzinger, Stephanie G. Neuman, 2021-05-13 Defence Industries in the 21st Century explores the transformation in the global defence industrial production through examining the interaction between international and domestic factors With the global defence industry and arms market likely continue to expand and mature the ways in which this progression could influence international politics remain obscure In practice as the contents of this book show the defence industrial bases and arms export policies of emerging states display significant variance This variance is the result of a unique balance between domestic and international factors that has shaped the defence industrialisation behaviour and policies of the less industrialised states One of the most important conclusions of the book is that the interplay between domestic and international factors clearly influences the variation in the emerging states defence industrialisation policies as well as their success or failure While international factors create opportunities they also limit the options available to emerging economies Domestic factors also play an important role by shaping the policy choices of the states decision makers Exploring the balance between international and domestic factors and the ways in which they influence defence industrialisation in emerging states Defence Industries in the 21st Century will be of great interest to scholars of Defence Industries Arms Manufacturing and Defence Strategic and Security Studies more generally The chapters were originally published in Defence Studies Comparative Strategy and All Azimuth

China's Military Procurement in the Reform Era Yoram Evron, 2015-06-26 The decisions that shape the policy of weapons procurement are an important area of national security policy This is all the more true for China which during recent decades has vacillated between different sources and directions of military build up This book explores the politics of military procurement in China under the successive leaderships of Deng Xiaoping Jiang Zemin and Hu Jintao It shows how China's political and military leaders have sought to adjust military procurement policy to meet China's strategic objectives to relate it to non military needs to strike a balance between the import of weapons and indigenous production and to determine the connections between hardware and other components of military power Exploring in detail five major shifts in the nation's military procurement it traces the considerations and negotiations among China's civilian and military leaderships By doing so it offers both a conceptual framework and empirical grounds for evaluating the factors that shape China's military procurement directions as well as their limitations prospects and operational implications As the first book to study comprehensively and systematically the attributes shaping China's military procurement it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Chinese politics Chinese history and military and strategic studies

Threat of Ballistic Missiles in the Middle East Arieh Stav, 2004-06-01 This addresses the complex issue of defence against ballistic missiles by intercepting them at various stages of their trajectory The book poses both technical and conceptual questions regarding the issue of missile to missile interception and other options

The Sword And The Olive Martin Van Creveld, 2008-08-06 Combining razor sharp analysis with dramatic narrative vivid portraits of soldiers and commanders with illuminating discussions of battle tactics and covert actions The Sword and the Olive traces the history of the IDF from its beginnings in Palestine to today The book also goes beyond chronology to wrestle with the political and ethical struggles that have shaped the IDF and the country it serves struggles that are manifesting themselves in the recent tragic escalation of the Palestinian Israeli conflict Often revisionist in attitude surprising in many of its conclusions this book casts new light on the struggle for peace in the Middle East

War In The Gulf Joseph Alpher, 2019-03-20 A study by a team of researchers at the Jaffee Centre for Strategic Studies at Tel Aviv University It assesses the strategic ramifications for Israel of military political economic and social aspects of the Gulf War and concludes with a set of policy recommendations for Israel

Enjoying the Melody of Term: An Psychological Symphony within Rearming Israel Defense Procurement Through The 1990s

In a world taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of fast communication, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony created by the published word frequently disappear into the background, eclipsed by the persistent sound and distractions that permeate our lives.
