Stories and Portraits of the Self Helena Carvalhão Buescu, João Ferreira Duarte, 2007 In contemporary societies privatization has long ceased to be just an economic concept rather it must increasingly be made to refer to the ongoing shrinking of the public space under the impact of the representation of individual lives and images which cuts across all discourses genres and media to become one of the primary means of production of culture This volume is intended to cover such an historical social and intellectual ground where self representation comes to the fore Targeting mostly an academic readership but certainly also of interest to the general educated public it collects a wide range of essays dealing with diverse modes of life writing and portraying from a variety of perspectives and focusing on different historical periods and media It thus offers itself as a major contribution to a better understanding of the world we live in its past legacy and present configuration Contents Introduction Signposts of the Self in Modernity Part I The Representational Dilemma Christopher PRENDERGAST The Self as a Work of Art Proust's Scepticism Paulo DE MEDEIROS Re Constructing Re Membering Postcolonial Selves Aleksandra PODSIADLIK Doing Identity in Fiction Identity Construction as a Dialogue between Individuals and Cultural Narratives Clara ROWLAND Self Representation and Temporality Parabasis in Guimarães Rosa's Grande Sertão Veredas Daniel ROVERS New Man Marie Kessels Inner Portrait of a Writing Self Gaston FRANSSEN Good Intentions Ethical Commitment and Impersonal Poetry The Work of Gerrit Kouwenaar Jan RUPP For Getting Plural Selves Narrative and Identity in Caryl Phillips's A Distant Shore Lars BERNAERTS The Straitjacket of Normality The Interaction which will be indispensable for students and scholars of German literature and all those interested in women's and gender studies

The American Biographical Novel Michael Lackey, 2016-04-07 Before the 1970s there were only a few acclaimed biographical novels. But starting in the 1980s there was a veritable explosion of this genre of fiction leading to the publication of spectacular biographical novels about figures as varied as Abraham Lincoln, Ludwig Wittgenstein, Friedrich Nietzsche, Emily Dickinson, Virginia Woolf, Henry James, and Marilyn Monroe, just to mention a notable few. This publication frenzy culminated in 1999 when two biographical novels, Michael Cunningham's The Hours and Russell Banks' Cloudsplitter, were nominated for the Pulitzer Prize, and Cunningham's novel won the award. In The American Biographical Novel, Michael Lackey charts the shifts in intellectual history that made the biographical novel acceptable to the literary establishment and popular with the general reading public. More specifically, Lackey clarifies the origin and evolution of this genre of fiction, specifies the kind of truth it communicates, provides a framework for identifying how this genre uniquely engages the political, and demonstrates how it gives readers new access to history.

Recasting Historical Women Stephanie Bird, 1998-04 This book presents critical readings of eight contemporary German novels which feature historically documented women as their main protagonist and which reconstruct women's lives by combining source material and invention. Protagonists include Cornelia Goethe, Caroline Schlegel-Schelling, Karoline von Guenderode, and Charlotte Corday. Through a thorough examination of these novels, the wider complexities of female identity, feminism, literary technique, and historiography are illuminated and discussed. The author examines how historical events are used to substantiate ideological positions and how the narrators consider this problematic aspect of their project.

Imagining the Age of Goethe in German Literature, 1970-2010 John David Pizer, 2011 This is the first book-length study devoted to modern German author as character fiction set in the Age of Goethe. It shows for the first time in a sustained manner the powerful hold the Goethezeit continues to exercise on the imagination of many of Germany's leading writers. This inner German dialogue across the ages provides an important corrective to the dominant critical view that contemporary German language literature is composed primarily under the sign of both globalization and the influence of mass American culture.

Anne Duden: a Revolution of Words Heike Bartel, Elizabeth Boa, 2003 Anne Duden's reputation as one of the most innovative writers of her generation, established in 1982 with the experimental stories in bergang, was confirmed in 1985 by Das Judasschaf, a novel interweaving an individual's anguish with the cultural trauma of the German past. In her acclaimed poem cycles Steinschlag (1993) and Hingegend (1999), Duden pushes the limits of language in densely metaphoric evocations of landscapes and places of political and personal remembrance, mixing lament for ruined nature with grotesque comedy, mystic vision with horror. Duden is a distinguished practitioner of short forms. Her essays display the same intense engagement with the visual arts as informs her narrative texts. Her deep interest in music is echoed in the musicality of short prose poems. This volume presents for the first time a comprehensive collection of approaches to Duden's fiction, poetry, and essays by international scholars. Topics include the ethics and aesthetics of Duden's engagement with German history her constructions of female subjectivity her criticism of western dualistic thinking with its devaluation of the body and exploitation of nature her position within a modernist tradition with roots in the Romantic Age the visual arts and poetic influences such as Hölderlin and Celan the dilemmas of translating Duden's highly individual style Three essays on Steinschlag constitute the first systematic reading of this difficult much praised cycle
