Religion In The Making:

Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1926 Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1996 Alfred North Whitehead writes in the opening chapter of Religion in the Making it is my purpose to consider the type of justification which is available for belief in doctrines of religion This is a question which in some new form challenges each generation it is the peculiarity of religion that humanity is always shifting its attitude towards it This classic text in American philosophy by one of its foremost figures offers a concise analysis of the various factors in human nature which go toward forming a religion It exhibits the inevitable transformation of religion with the transformation of knowledge and directs attention to the foundation of religion on our apprehension of those permanent elements by reason of which there is a stable order in the world permanent elements apart from which there could be no changing world Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1967 Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity Roy A. Rappaport,1999-03-25 Roy Rappaport argues that religion is central to the continuing evolution of life although it has been displaced from its original position of intellectual authority by the rise of modern science His book which could be construed as in some degree religious as well as about religion insists that religion can and must be reconciled with science Combining adaptive and cognitive approaches to the study of humankind he mounts a comprehensive analysis of religion s evolutionary significance seeing it as co extensive with the invention of language and hence of culture as we know it At the same time he assembles the fullest study yet of religion s main component ritual which constructs the conceptions which we take to be religious and has been central in the making of humanity s adaptation The text amounts to a manual for effective ritual illustrated by examples drawn from anthropology history philosophy comparative religion and elsewhere Religion in the Making Arie L. Molendijk,Peter Pels,1998 Secularism and Religion-Making Markus Dressler,Arvind Mandair,2011-10-03 This book conceives of religion making broadly as the multiple ways in which social and cultural phenomena are configured and reconfigured within the matrix of a world religion discourse that is historically and semantically rooted in particular Western and predominantly Christian experiences knowledges and institutions It investigates how religion is universalized and certain ideas social formations and practices rendered religious are thus integrated in and subordinated to very particular mostly liberal secular assumptions about the relationship between history politics and religion The individual contributions written by a new generation of scholars with decisively interdisciplinary approaches examine the processes of translation and globalization of historically specific concepts and practices of religion and its dialectical counterpart the secular into new contexts This volume contributes to the relatively new field of thought that aspires to unravel the thoroughly intertwined relationships between religion and secularism as modern concepts The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Migration Rubina Ramji,Alison Marshall,2022-05-19 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion and Migration presents the story of religion and migration predominantly through the experiences of Muslims Sikhs Hindus and Buddhists considering intersectional issues including race ethnicity class gender and generation throughout Many chapters are grounded in embodied ethnography including participant observation fieldwork interviews oral history collections and qualitative analysis drawing on sociological and anthropological theory as well as non western and historical approaches to religion Chapters also chronicle migration in regional transnational multicultural and populist contexts examining everyday religiosity and religion across generations The volume includes chapters on Islam and Muslim identity Chinese and Vietnamese Buddhism Filipino and Korean religiosity and Polish Catholicism Religious Publishing and Print Culture in Modern China Philip Clart,Gregory Adam

Scott,2014-12-16 Scholarly interest in print culture and in the study of religion in modern China has increased in recent years propelled by maturing approaches to the study of cultural history and by a growing recognition that both were important elements of China s recent past The influence of China in the contemporary world continues to expand and with it has come an urgent need to understand the processes by which its modern history was made Issues of religious freedom and of religion s influence on the public sphere continue to be contentious but important subjects of scholarly work and the role of print and textual media has not dimmed with the advent of electronic communication This book Religious Publishing and Print Culture in Modern China 1800-2012 speaks to these contemporary and historical issues by bringing to light the important and abiding connections between religious development and modern print culture in China Bringing together these two subjects has a great deal of potential for producing insights that will appeal to scholars working in a range of fields from media studies to social historians Each chapter demonstrates how focusing on the role of publishing among religious groups in modern China generates new insights and raises new questions They examine how religious actors understood the role of printed texts in religion dealt with issues of translation and exegesis produced print media that heralded social and ideological changes and expressed new self understandings in their published works They also address the impact of new technologies such as mechanized movable type and lithographic presses in the production and meaning of religious texts Finally the chapters identify where religious print culture crossed confessional lines connecting religious traditions through links of shared textual genres commercial publishing companies and the contributions of individual editors and authors This book thus demonstrates how in embracing modern print media and building upon their longstanding traditional print cultures Christian Buddhist Daoist and popular religious groups were developed and defined in modern China While the chapter authors are specialists in religious traditions they have made use of recent studies into publishing and print culture and like many of the subjects of their research are able to make connections across religious boundaries and link together seemingly discrete traditions Religion and the Making of Society Charles Davis,1993-11-18 In this book a leading contemporary theologian provides an account and a critique of contemporary thinking on the function of religion in society The chief questions of the day are taken up expounded with lucidity and clarity and assessed for their contributions to social theory The practical relevance of the theoretical analyses emerges especially in a critique of Michael Novak s attempt to make democratic capitalism an ideal and in an original attempt to ground religious hope in communicative rationality

The Making of Religion Andrew Lang,1898 Religion in the Market Era François Gauthier,2025-05-30 This book aims to expand the limits of the social scientific study of religion and define a coherent model of recent global transformations of religion challenging the paradigm of secularisation and post secularisation Using a wide ranging selection of case studies including global Islam post Soviet Eastern Europe and China the author argues that since the 1980s religion has been dramatically shaped around the world by neoliberalism and consumerism Providing a global macro level history of how religion has changed in the past four decades this book contends that the rise of economics as a dominant social sphere is central to understanding the ongoing changes in contemporary world religions Religion in China and Its Modern Fate Paul R. Katz,2014-04-01 Paul R Katz has composed a fascinating account of the fate of Chinese religions during the modern era by assessing mutations of communal religious life innovative forms of religious publishing and the religious practices of modern Chinese elites traditionally considered models of secular modernity The author offers a rare look at the monumental changes that have affected modern Chinese religions from the first all out assault on them during the 1898 reforms to the eve of the Communist takeover of the mainland Tracing the ways in which the vast religious resources texts expertise symbolic capital material wealth etc that circulated throughout Chinese society during the late imperial period were reconfigured during this later era Katz sheds new light on modern Chinese religious life and the understudied nexus between religion and modern political culture Religion in China and Its Modern Fate will appeal to a broad audience of religionists and historians of modern China Mapping the Academic Debate Johannes Duschka, Christoph Kleine, Monika Wohlrab-Sahr, Florian Zemmin, 2024-12-16 This volume maps the international academic debate on secularity It places seminal contributions from within Western academia alongside less well known texts from various parts of the world in several cases this is the first time that they have been translated into English The volume demonstrates that the academic debate on secularity was and is a global debate with contributions from many regions The collected texts relate to each other either directly or indirectly by referring to similar arguments whether reinforcing or criticising them and thus create a discourse When speaking of global secularity we therefore do not insinuate a uniform world secularity resulting from the alleged global diffusion of Western norms ideas and concepts It is rather a web of relations that is constituted via various different references These references are not evenly distributed the development in the West is often the point of reference to which positions from other regions relate to which they connect or from which they distance themselves But the references are not completely unidirectional We also present texts from Europe that underline the multidirectionality of the process even early on Thereby the volume offers the reader the material with which to trace these global exchanges and references The Making of Religion Samuel McChord Crothers, 1908 Asia and the Secular Pascal Bourdeaux, Eddy Dufourmont, André Laliberté, Rémy Madinier, 2022-09-20 This volume looks at the secular state in the context of contemporary Asia and investigates whether there existed before modernity antecedents to the condition of secularity understood as the differentiation of the sphere of the religious from other spheres of social life The chapters presented in this book examine this issue in national contexts by looking at the historical formation of lexicons that defined the secular the secular state and secularism This approach requires paying attention to modern vernacular languages and their precedents in written traditions with often a very long tradition This book presents three interpretive frameworks multiple modernities variety of secularisms and typologies of post colonial secular states
