Israel's Past in Present Research V. Philips Long, 1999-06-30 The debate over history history writing and the scientific study of history is reaching an apex in the late twentieth century and shows no signs of abating in the near future The literature on the topic is prodigious The time is thus ripe for an anthology of essays of the sort that Professor Long has collected essays that trace the history of the issues that have fed into the debate The classic and contemporary essays presented here provide an overview and introduction to the topic bringing together the most essential of these in a handy compilation The book is organized in six sections 1 The State of Old Testament Historiography 2 Ancient

Near Eastern Historiography 3 Ancient Israelite Historiography 4 Method in the Study of Ancient Israelite Historiography 5 The Historical Impulse in the Old Testament 6 The Future of Israel's Past Long's goal is to provide a context for Israelite history writing within the milieu of the ancient Near East expose the methodologies and assumptions of various approaches and perspectives on historiography and provide access to essays that examine the contribution of the Hebrew Scriptures themselves to the origins of history writing The final essay by Long points the way to future research and topics that will move the discussion forward into the next millennium Professor V Philips Long teaches Old Testament at Covenant Theological Seminary St Louis

Teaching and Learning About Religious Diversity in the Past and Present Karel Van Nieuwenhuyse, John Maiden, Stefanie Sinclair, 2025-01-29 This edited book explores examples of different ways in which societies and individuals have dealt with the concepts of religious diversity toleration and peace making in politics and law and how these examples can inform educators and learners in in and non formal education today Chapters introduce and analyse nine key documents the Capitulations of Granada 1492 the Confederation of Warsaw 1573 the Peace of Westphalia 1648 the Royal Charter of Rhode Island 1663 the Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen 1789 the European Convention of Human Rights 1950 the Belfast Good Friday Agreement 1998 the Ohrid Framework Agreement 2001 and the Mardin Declaration 2010 In addition to explaining how each document manages toleration and peace the authors also provide clippings short visual and textual excerpts relating to the document under discussion These aim to challenge thinking about the historical document and its potential significance for the present The book's contributors consider the past as a source of inspiration for learning in formal and informal educational contexts such as classrooms museums and youth work It will be of interest to teachers and scholars in history citizenship philosophy ethics and religious education in schools and beyond

Women and Interreligious Dialogue Catherine Cornille, Jillian Maxey, 2013-09-26 Though women have been objects more often than subjects of interreligious dialogue they have nevertheless contributed in significant ways to the dialogue just as the dialogue has also contributed to their own self understanding This volume the fifth in the Interreligious Dialogue Series brings together historical critical and constructive approaches to the role of women in the dialogue between religions These approaches deal with concrete examples of women's involvement in dialogue critical reflections on the representation of women in dialogue and the important question of what women might bring to the dialogue Together they open up new avenues for reflection on the nature and purpose of interreligious dialogue

Participation and Beliefs in Popular Religiosity Francesco

Zaccaria,2010 Exploring the relation between popular religious participation and beliefs about God human suffering Jesus Christ and the church this empirical theological study offers the picture of a complementary relation between popular religiosity and official religion within Italian Catholicism Italy, Past and Present Antonio Carlo Napoleone Gallenga,1848

Faith in Unions David Isiorho,2022-09-07 Faith in Unions is a personal account representing a critique of Whiteness and Black marginality in the Faith Workers Trade Union In short it is a Black theology critique of the way Muslim and Hindu faith workers have been treated in the British Labour movement This book clearly has things to say about discriminatory practices which puts the discussion about Englishness and Britishness into a wider context I am suggesting a political agenda associated with English ethnicity as the mode of involvement to explain policies that are likely to result in racialised religious exclusion Faith in Unions gives focus to Muslim and Hindu workplace groupings within the Faith Workers Branch and the opposition to their formation from Anglican and Methodist Christian members I am concerned with the struggle for faith recognition within a discriminatory and institutionally racist union structure This book offers an explicit exploration of what I mean by the racialised other in the context of the British Labour movement In this we need to understand the ways historical Christianity has defined Black identities My conclusion hopefully will start a wider discussion of Englishness and English exclusivity

Studying Religion and Society Titus Hjelm,Phil Zuckerman,2013 How do you study religion and society In this fascinating book some of the most famous names in the field explain how they go about their everyday work of studying religions in the field They explain how the ideas for their projects and books have come together how their understanding of religion has changed over the years and how their own beliefs have affected their work They also comment on the changing nature of the field the ideas which they regard as most important and those which have not stood the test of time Lastly they offer advice to young scholars and suggest what needs to be done to enable the field to grow and develop further

The Hindu Religious Tradition Pratima Bowes, 2021-06-23 Originally published in 1977 The Hindu Religious Tradition provides a detailed exploration into the different doctrines regarding the nature of Religious Reality and the many paths of search for this Reality within the Hindu religion The book discusses these differing doctrines from the point of view of their philosophical significance and their use in man's search for the divine in consideration of the traditional teaching that the divine is already in man and can be realised in direct experience It provides a comprehensive account of this tradition through considering all aspects that are integral to it and highlights that the profundity of this tradition lies in that it cannot be limited to the requirements of any one form of conceiving the divine The Hindu Religious Tradition will appeal to those with an interest in Hinduism religious philosophy and theology Manual Work and Mental Work Christoph

Strosetzki, 2023-03-10 Information Text In the early modern period numerous texts deal with professions by presenting the knowledge required in each case individual fields of activity purpose origin and prestige The course of argumentation is humanistic insofar as it mostly starts from the human being The ancient idea of the primacy of mental work over manual work is formative here The importance of Spain results from the fact that the Spanish king Charles V was both emperor and ruler of the colonies in America i.e. he ruled a world empire by the standards of the time After discussing some central categories overall representations of knowledge professions and prominent professional representatives are presented Here the hierarchization and its relativization by satire is revealing The mechanical arts and the artes liberales are then presented on the basis of individual professions selected as characteristic examples each with its own specific knowledge The higher faculties of medicine theology and jurisprudence with their representatives form the conclusion Past and Present Israel

Friedlaender, 1919 The Pragmatics of Defining Religion Platvoet, Arie Molendijk, 2018-11-13 This volume promotes a pragmatic anti essentialist and anti hegemonic approach to the problem of the definition of religion It argues that definitions of religion are context bound strategies for pursuing a variety of purposes extra academic as well as academic Religions being immensely varied complex and multi functional phenomena they need to be studied by several academic disciplines from many different perspectives It is therefore legitimate and useful that many definitions of religions are developed The volume has contributions from scholars in Philosophy of Religion the Comparative Study of Religions Anthropology of Religion Sociology of Religion and Psychology of Religion It has chapters on the polemics of defining religion in modern contexts the history of the concept of religion and the methodology of its definition it includes several definition proposals
