Leonardo N. Mercado,2004 Controversies in Interreligious Dialogue and the Theology of Religions Paul Hedges,2010 This latest volume in the Controversies in Contextual Theology series provides an introduction to the current state of the field for those new to interreligious dialogue and the theology of religions as well as providing insights and new concepts that will be of interest to specialists In particular the current deadlock between pluralist and particularist approaches is re imagined and a strong argument for radical openness to the religious Other is advanced based upon the resources of the Christian heritage The book draws inspiration from many sources including intercultural theology feminist theologies of religions comparative theology postcolonial identity theory scholarly debates on the nature of religion and biblical concepts of hospitality to outline its new approach It concludes that we must seek mutual fulfillment with religious Others while maintaining Christian integrity It also addresses the problems this involves when seeking ethical partnership across religious boundaries No easy answers are given however a vision for radical openness based on Jesus example the Christian heritage and contemporary scholarship is endorsed Truth and Dialogue John Hick,1974 American ed published under title Truth and dialogue in world religions Inter-religious Dialogue Herbert Jai Singh,1967 Theology and the Dialogue of Religions Michael Barnes,2002-03-14 Theology of religions is an area of theological reflection on inter religious relations which raises fundamental questions for all people of faith in a pluralist post modern world How to practise a religious faith with integrity while respecting other claims to ultimate truth Must the other always be regarded as a problematic complication on the fringes of a Christianity centred world Is there a third way between an all dominating exclusivism and a vapid relativism This book contributes to the debate about the place of inter religious relations in the life of the Church by developing a theology of dialogue In offering a critique of much current thinking in this area Michael Barnes SJ proposes instead a theology rooted in the themes of welcome and hospitality He argues for a vision of Christianity as a school of faith a community called not just to teach others but to learn from them as well Christian Theology and Inter-religious Dialogue Maurice Wiles,1992 That Professor Wiles has now turned from the field of Christian doctrine and its history for which he is so well known to that of inter faith dialogue is an indication of the importance which that subject is now assuming This is not a book he confesses which he had expected to write but in recent years he has increasingly felt that the close co existence of different faith communities in the modern world is as important a background to Christian theology as the rise of the scientific world view In his book which arises out of lectures at Manchester and Yale universities Professor Wiles begins by asking whether acceptance of the possibility of open dialogue with other religions is not a desertion of the way in which church has understood its faith down the ages He then goes on to argue that pressure to acknowledge other religions is only one of several pressures arising out of changes in contemporary knowledge and experience of the world which Christians face today A third chapter examines how Karl Rahner tried to incorporate these changes into a coherent theological position and the last chapter builds on this approach and offers a personal account of a Christian theology for dialogue At a time of increasing conservatism and opposition to interfaith activity in the churches here is encouragement to those who believe that narrow christocentricity is not the way forward BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Oppositions of Religious Doctrines William A.
