Judaeo-Christian Intellectual Culture in the Seventeenth Century A.P. Coudert, S. Hutton, R.H. Popkin, G.M. Weiner, 2013-03-07 MURIEL MCCARTHY This volume originated from a seminar organised by Richard H Popkin in Marsh s Library on July 7 8 1994 It was one of the most stimulating events held in the Library in recent years Although we have hosted many special seminars on such subjects as rare books the Huguenots and Irish church history this was the first time that a seminar was held which was specifically related to the books in our own collection It seems surprising that this type of seminar has never been held before although the reason is obvious Since there is no printed catalogue of the Library scholars are not aware of its contents In fact the collection of books by late seventeenth and early eighteenth century European authors on for example such subjects as biblical criticism political and religious controversy is one of the richest parts of the Library s collections Some years ago we were informed that of the 25 000 books in Marsh s at least 5 000 English books or books printed in England were printed between 1640 and 1700

Clifton Ward, 2020-05-05 The study of the growth of early Christian intellectual life is of perennial interest to scholars This volume advances discussion by exploring ways in which Christian writers in the second century did not so much draw on Hellenistic intellectual traditions and models as they were inevitably embedded in those traditions The volume contains papers from a seminar in Rome in 2016 that explored the nature and activity of the emergent Christian intellectual between the late first century and the early third century The papers show that Hellenistic scholarly cultures were the milieu within which Christian modes of thinking developed At the same time the essays show how Christian thinkers made use of the cultures of which they were part in distinctive ways adapting existing traditions because of Christian beliefs and needs The figures studied include Papias from the early part of the second century Tatian Irenaeus and Clement of Alexandria from the later second century One paper on Eusebius of Caesarea explores the Christian adaptation of Hellenistic scholarly methods of commentary Christian figures are studied in the light of debates within Classics and Jewish studies

What is Intellectual History? Richard Whatmore,2016-05-18 What is intellectual history Those who practice intellectual history have described themselves as eavesdroppers upon the conversations of the past explorers of alien ideological worlds and translators between historic societies and our own while their critics have often derided them as narrow minded studying the ideas of dead white men Some consider the discipline to be among the most important in the humanities and social sciences because it facilitates a better understanding of contemporary ideological programmes and facilitates their rational evaluation In this engaging and refreshing introduction to the field Richard Whatmore begins by examining the historical development of intellectual history before dissecting its various methodological debates He presents various alternative ways in which we should think about intellectual history as well as presenting his own very clear definition of the field Drawing on a wide range of historical examples Whatmore shows how ideas philosophical political religious scientific artistic originated in their historical context and how they were both shaped by and helped to shape the societies in which they originated He ends by casting a critical eye over the current state of intellectual history and a brief discussion of how it might develop in the future What is Intellectual History will become an essential textbook for scholars and students of intellectual history philosophy politics and the humanities

Darwin, Dharma, and the Divine G. Clinton Godart,2017-01-31 Darwin Dharma and the Divine is the first book in English on the history of evolutionary theory in Japan Bringing to life more than a century of ideas G Clinton Godart examines how and why Japanese intellectuals religious thinkers of different faiths philosophers biologists journalists activists and ideologues engaged with evolutionary theory and religion How did Japanese religiously think about evolution What were their main concerns Did they reject evolution on religious grounds or as was more often the case how did they combine evolutionary theory with their religious beliefs Evolutionary theory was controversial and never passively accepted in Japan It took a hundred years of appropriating translating thinking and debating to reconsider the natural world and the relation between nature science and the sacred in light of evolutionary theory Since its introduction in the nineteenth century Japanese intellectuals including Buddhist Shinto Confucian and Christian thinkers in their own ways and often with opposing agendas struggled to formulate a meaningful worldview after Darwin In the decades that followed as the Japanese redefined their relation to nature and built a modern nation state the debates on evolutionary theory intensified and state ideologues grew increasingly hostile toward its principles Throughout the religious reception of evolution was dominated by a long held fear of the idea of nature and society as cold and materialist governed by the mindless struggle for survival This aversion endeavored many religious thinkers philosophers and biologists to find goodness and the divine within nature and evolution It was this drive argues Godart that shaped much of Japan s modern intellectual history and changed Japanese understandings of nature society and the sacred Darwin Dharma and the Divine will contribute significantly to two of the most debated topics in the history of evolutionary theory religion and the political legacy of evolution It will therefore appeal to the broad audience interested in Darwin studies as well as students and scholars of Japanese intellectual history religion and philosophy

The Beginnings of Christian Theology in Arabic

Sidney H. Griffith, 2024-12-11 The articles in this collection complement those in Professor Griffith s previous volume Arabic Christianity in the Monasteries of 9th Century Palestine studying the first efforts of Christians living in the early Islamic world to respond to the religious challenges of Islam In particular the author shows how Christian apologists who wrote in Arabic adopted in defense of Christian doctrines the modes of discourse kalam then employed by Muslim controversialists mutakallimun to advance the claims of Islam The writers whose works are studied here developed a truly Christian ilm al kalam that is to say a science of defending Christianity in an Arabic idiom borrowed largely from Muslims The Qur'an in South Asia Kamran Bashir, 2021-09-20 The book investigates modern Qur an commentaries in South Asia and engages with how Muslim scholars have imagined and assessed their past intellectual heritage The research is focused on British India from the time of the Mutiny of 1857 to the moment of the Partition of united India in 1947 Offering critical scrutiny of Muslim exegesis of the Qur an in North India the study especially focuses on the Qur anic thought of Sayyid Ahmed Khan d 1989 Ashraf Ali Thanawi d 1943 and Hamid al Din Farahi d 1930 The volume challenges widespread assumptions of an all pervasive reform and revivalism underlying the academic study of Islam Instead of looking for Muslim revivalism and reform as epistemological foundations it stresses the study of modern Qur an commentaries in particular local and cosmopolitan contexts Departing from the oft repeated explanations of Muslim scholarship and modern Islam through the lens of traditionalism and modernism it discovers how Muslim scholars viewed themselves in relation to the Islamic tradition and how they imagined and assessed their past intellectual heritage Studying the history of the interpretation of the Qur'an in the multiple contexts of nineteenth and early twentieth century British India the book will be of interest to readers of Qur'anic studies modern Islam and South Asian studies Christian Theology and the Secular University Paul A. Macdonald,

Jr., 2017-02-24 If the secular university by definition is non sectarian or non denominational then how can it accommodate a discipline like Christian theology Doesn't the traditional goal of theological study which is to attain knowledge of the divine fundamentally conflict with the main goal of secular academic study which is to attain knowledge about ourselves and the world in which we live So why should theology be admitted or even care about being admitted into secular academic life And even if theology were admitted what contribution to secular academic life could it make Working from a Christian philosophical and theological perspective but also engaging a wide range of theologians philosophers and religious studies scholars Christian Theology and the Secular University takes on these questions arguing that Christian theology does belong in the secular university because it provides distinct resources that the secular university needs if it is going to fulfill what should be its main epistemic and educative ends This book offers a fresh and unique perspective to scholars working in the disciplines of theology philosophy and religious studies and to those in other academic disciplines who are interested in thinking critically and creatively about the place and nature of theological study within the secular university Formation of a Religious Landscape: Shi'i Higher Learning in Safavid Iran Maryam Moazzen, 2017-11-20 In Formation of a Religious Landscape Shi'i Higher Learning in Safavid Iran Maryam Moazzen offers the first systematic examination of Shi'i educational institution and practices by exploring the ways in which religious knowledge was produced authenticated and transmitted in the second half of Safavid rule 1588-1722 By analyzing the deeds of endowment of the Madrasa-yi Sulaymaniyya and other mosque madrasas built by the Safavid elite this study sheds light on the organizing mechanisms and structures utilized by such educational foundations Based on the large number of ijazas and other primary sources including waqfiyyas biographical dictionaries and autobiographies this study also reconstructs the Safavid madrasas curriculum and describes the pedagogical methods used to transmit religious knowledge as well as issues that faced Shi'i higher learning in early modern times Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland, 1912 Contesting Cultural Authority

West, 2012-07-10 The First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution begins Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof The Supreme Court has consistently held that these words usually called the religion clauses were meant to prohibit laws that violate religious freedom or equality In recent years however a growing number of constitutional law and history scholars have contended that the religion clauses were not intended to protect religious freedom but to reserve the states' rights to legislate on If the states' rights interpretation of the religion clauses were correct and came to be accepted by the Supreme Court it could profoundly affect the way the Court decides church state cases involving state laws It would allow the states to legislate on religion even to violate religious freedom discriminate on the basis of religion or to establish a particular religion This book carefully thoroughly and critically examines all the arguments for such an interpretation and more importantly all the available historical evidence It concludes that the clauses were meant to protect religious freedom and equality of the individuals not the states rights The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Patristics Ken Parry, 2015-09-08 This comprehensive volume brings together a team of distinguished scholars to create a wide ranging introduction to patristic authors and their contributions to not only theology and spirituality but to philosophy ecclesiology linguistics hagiography liturgics homiletics iconology and other fields Challenges accepted definitions of patristics and the patristic period in particular questioning the Western framework in which the field has traditionally been constructed Includes the work of authors who wrote in languages other than Latin and Greek including those within the Coptic Armenian Syriac and Arabic Christian traditions Examines the reception history of prominent as well as lesser known figures debating the role of each and exploring why many have undergone periods of revived interest Offers synthetic accounts of a number of topics central to patristic studies including scripture scholasticism and the Reformation Demonstrates the continuing role of these writings in enriching and inspiring our understanding of Christianity
