reading The Learned Practice of Religion in the Modern University Donald Wiebe, 2019-11-14 In these essays Donald Wiebe unveils a significant problem in the academic study of religion in colleges and universities in North America and Europe that studies almost always exhibit a religious bias To explore this issue Wiebe looks at the religious and moral agendas behind the study of religion showing that the boundaries between the objective study of religion and religious education as a tool for bettering society have become blurred As a result he argues religious studies departments have fostered an environment where religion has become a learned or scholarly practice rather than the object of academic scrutiny This book provides a critical history of the failure of 20th and 21st century scholars to follow through on the 19th century ideal of an objective scientific study of religious thought and behaviour Although emancipated from direct ecclesiastical control and to some extent from sectarian theologizing Wiebe argues that research and scholarship in the academic department of religious studies has failed to break free from religious constraints He shows that an objective scientific study of religious thought and practice is not only possible but the only appropriate approach to the study of religious phenomena

Theology and Religious Studies in Higher Education D.L. Bird, Simon G. Smith, 2009-01-22 Theology and religious studies co exist in the majority of departments in higher education institutions within the UK yet there has been very little debate or discussion on how these two disciplines relate to one another in this context and on a more general level This new collection of essays aims to redress the balance and to add to fruitful discussion in this area Including essays by some of today's leading academics on the sometimes contentious relationship between religious studies or the study of religions and theology this volume is international in scope with contributions from scholars from the UK USA South Africa Netherlands Sweden and Iran Many of the essays offer a contextualised account of the evolving relationship between the disciplines The contributors address such issues as the place of theology within today's universities the problem of clashing methodologies in theology and religious studies the possibility for a theological religious studies approaching the study of religions without theology interdisciplinary approaches for bridging the theology religious studies divide and the place of biblical studies in the theology religious studies debate

Teaching Interreligious Encounters Marc A. Pugliese, Alexander Y. Hwang, 2017-08-01 Divided into five components of teaching interreligious encounters Theory Design Textual Analysis Practice and Formation this volume guides both new teachers and seasoned scholars in addressing the sometimes challenging questions raised by contact between divergent faiths

The Oxford Handbook of the Study of Religion Michael Stausberg, Steven Engler, 2016-11-17 The Oxford Handbook of the Study of Religion provides a comprehensive overview of the academic study of religion Written by an international team of leading scholars its fifty one chapters are divided thematically into seven sections The first section addresses five major conceptual aspects of research on religion Part two surveys eleven main frameworks of analysis interpretation and explanation of religion Reflecting recent turns in the humanities and social sciences part three considers eight forms of the expression of religion Part four provides a discussion of the ways societies and religions or religious organizations are shaped by different forms of allocation of resources Other chapters in this section consider law the media nature medicine politics science sports and tourism Part five reviews important developments distinctions and arguments for each of the selected topics The study of religion addresses religion as a historical phenomenon and part six looks at seven historical processes Religion is studied in various ways by many disciplines and this Handbook shows that the study of religion is an academic discipline in its own right The disciplinary profile of this volume is reflected in part seven which considers the history of the discipline and its relevance Each chapter in the Handbook references at least two different religions to provide fresh and innovative perspectives on key issues in the field This authoritative collection will advance the state of the discipline and is an invaluable reference for students and scholars

Theology in the Public Square Gavin D'Costa, 2013-04-10 This imaginative study rethinks the nature of theology and its role in universities The author sketches out a fascinating project using examples from US and UK institutions whereby theology becomes a transformative force within universities Imagines what a Christian university in which all disciplines have been theologized would look like Feeds into discussions about the religious identity of denominationally linked colleges and universities Forms part of a wider attempt to imagine a vital public role for theology that enables it to serve both the Church and the wider community

The Science of Religion: A Defence Donald Wiebe, 2018-10-16 Donald Wiebe Professor of Philosophy of Religion at Trinity College University of Toronto has spent much of his academic career arguing for a clear demarcation between Theology and Religious Studies The Science of Religion A Defence offers a brilliant overview of Professor Wiebe's contributions on methodology in the academic study of religion of the development of his thinking over time and of his intellectual commitment to a science of religion The work is divided into three parts The first part identifies pertinent connections between religion religious studies and science and why reductionism in the academic study of religion when properly applied can bridge the explanatory gap between the sceptic and the devotee The second part treats conceptual debates in the academic study of religion with particular reference to the place of belief understanding and meaning in the modern study of religion The third part addresses the theological resistance to the scientific study of religion and how that resistance can be overcome Finally two new essays are included a critique on The Preconceptions of a Science of Religion by Anthony J Palma and an accompanying reply by Donald Wiebe The Science of Religion A Defence is an essential resource for both scholarly and non scholarly audiences alike and will be of particular interest to both defenders and critics of a scientific study of religion

MasterClass in Religious Education Liam Francis Gearon, 2013-02-14 MasterClass in Religious Education provides a comprehensive exploration of the major themes in religious education research and pedagogy drawing on international research The author draws together historical theological religious and comparative and international perspectives to explore religious education's role in confronting controversial issues and the implications this has for teaching learning and research This book incorporates discussions of current post 9 11 debates on religion in the modern world focusing particularly on the relationship of religion to secular political contexts Liam Gearon pays close attention to debates around religion in liberal democratic societies looking at topics such as citizenship human rights and identity

Religion and Belief Literacy Adam Dinham,2020-11-04 This book presents a crisis of religion and belief literacy to which education at every level is challenged to respond As understanding different religions beliefs and influences becomes increasingly important it fills a gap for a resource in bringing together the debates around religious literacy from theoretical approaches to teaching and policy This timely publication provides a clear pathway for engaging well with religion and belief diversity in public and shared settings
