Strong Performers and Successful Reformers in Education Lessons from PISA for Korea OECD, 2014-03-14 The story of Korean education over the past 50 years is one of remarkable growth and achievement Korea is one of the top performing countries in the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA survey and among those with the highest

Validity of Educational Assessments in Chile and Latin America Jorge Manzi, María Rosa García, Sandy Taut, 2021-09-11 This edited volume presents a systematic analysis of conceptual methodological and applied aspects related to the validation of educational tests used in Latin American countries Inspired by international standards on educational measurement and evaluation this book illustrates efforts that have been made in several countries to validate different types of educational assessments including student learning assessments measurements of non cognitive aspects in students teacher evaluations and tests for certification and selection It gathers the experience of validity studies from the main international assessments in Latin America PISA TIMSS ERCE and ICCS Additionally it shows the challenges that must be taken into account when evaluations are used to compare countries groups or trends of achievement over time The book builds on the premise that measurements in the educational field should not be used if there are no studies that support the validity of the interpretation of their scores or the use made of such tests It shows that despite the recognition given to validity relatively few educational measurement assessments have accumulated enough evidence to support their interpretation and use In doing so this volume increases awareness about the relevance of validity especially when assessments are key component of educational policies

Recruiting, Retaining, and Engaging African-American Males at Selective Public Research Universities Louis A. Castenel, Tarek C. Grantham, Billy J.

Hawkins, 2018-06-01 A problematic yet uncommon assumption among many higher education researchers is that recruitment retention and engagement of African American males is relatively similar and stable across all majority White colleges and universities In fact the harsh reality is that selective public research universities SPRUs have distinctive academic cultures that increase the difficulty of diversifying their faculty and student populations This book will discuss how traditions and elitist assumptions make it very difficult to recruit retain and engage African American males The authors will examine these issues from multiple perspectives in three sections that highlight research policies and practices impacting the experiences of African American males including Pre Collegiate Preparation African American Male Student Athletes and Undergraduate and Graduate Considerations for African American Male Initiatives

Parental Choice? P. L. Thomas, 2010-07-01 Education has rarely been absent from local and national public discourse Throughout the history of modern education spanning more than a century we have as a culture lamented the failures of public schooling often making such claims based on assumptions instead of any nuanced consideration of the many influences on teaching and learning in any child's life notably the socioeconomic status of a student's family School reform then has also been a frequent topic in political discourse and public debate Since the mid twentieth century a rising call for market forces to replace government run schooling has pushed to the front of those debates Since A Nation at Risk in the early 1980s and the implementation of No Child Left Behind at the turn of the twenty first century a subtle shift has occurred in the traditional support of public education fueled by the misconception that private schools out perform public schools along with a naive faith in competition and the promise of the free market Political and ideological claims that all parents deserve school choice has proven to be a compelling slogan This book unmasks calls for parental and school choice with a postformal and critical view of both the traditional bureaucratic public school system and the current patterns found the body of research on all aspects of school choice and private schooling The examination of the status quo and market based calls for school reform will serve well all stakeholders in public education as they seek to evaluate the quality of schools today and form positions on how best to reform schools for the empowerment of free people in a democratic society

Test Fairness in the New Generation of Large-Scale Assessment Hong Jiao, Robert W. Lissitz, 2017-06-01 The new generation of tests is faced with new challenges In the K 12 setting the new learning targets are intended to assess higher order thinking skills and prepare students to be ready for college and career and to keep American students competitive with their international peers In addition the new generation of state tests requires the use of technology in item delivery and embedding assessment in real world authentic situations It further requires accurate assessment of students at all ability levels One of the most important questions is how to maintain test fairness in the new assessments with technology innovative items and technology delivered tests In the traditional testing programs such as licensure and certification tests and college admission tests test fairness has constantly been a key psychometric issue in test development and this continues to be the case with the national testing programs As test fairness needs to be addressed throughout the whole process of test development experts from state admission and licensure tests will address test fairness challenges in the new generation assessment The book chapters clarify misconceptions of test fairness including the use of admission test results in cohort comparison the use of international assessment results in trend evaluation whether standardization and fairness necessarily mean uniformity when test takers have different cultural backgrounds and whether standardization can insure fairness More technically chapters also address issues related to how compromised items and test fairness are related to classification decisions how accessibility in item development and accommodation could be mingled with technology how to assess special populations with dyslexia using Blinder Oaxaca Decomposition for differential item functioning detection and differential feature functioning in automated scoring Overall this book addresses test fairness issues in state assessment college admission testing international assessment and licensure tests Fairness is discussed in the context of culture and special populations Further fairness related to performance assessment and automated scoring is a focus as well This book provides a very good source of information related to test fairness issues in test development in the new generation of assessment where technology is highly involved
