Family Medicine J. L. Buckingham, E. P. Donatelle, W. E. Jacott, M. G. Rosen, Robert B. Taylor, 2013-06-29 JOHN S MILLIS In 1966 the Citizens Commission on Graduate Medical Education observed that the explosive growth in biomedical science and the consequent increase in medical skill and technology of the twentieth century had made it possible for physicians to respond to the episodes of illness of patients with an ever increasing effectiveness but that the increase in knowledge and technology had forced most physicians to concentrate upon a disease entity an organ or organ system or a particular mode of diagnosis or therapy As a result there had been a growing lack of continuing and comprehensive patient care The Commission expressed the opinion that Now in order to bring medicine's enhanced diagnostic and therapeutic powers fully to the benefit of society it is necessary to have many physicians who can put medicine together again The Commission proceeded to recommend the education and training of substantial numbers of Primary Physicians who would by assuming primary responsibility for the patient's welfare in sickness and in health provide continuing and comprehensive health care to the citizens of the United States In 1978 it is or receive hearing health care The reasons are numerous complex and often interconnected For some hearing health care is not affordable For others the appropriate services are difficult to access or individuals do not know how or where to access them Others may not want to deal with the stigma that they and society may associate with needing hearing health care and obtaining that care Still others do not recognize they need hearing health care as hearing loss is an invisible health condition that often worsens gradually over time In the United States an estimated 30 million individuals 12 7 percent of Americans ages 12 years or older have hearing loss Globally hearing loss has been identified as the fifth leading cause of years lived with disability Successful hearing health care enables individuals with hearing loss to have the freedom to communicate in their environments in ways that are culturally appropriate and that preserve their dignity and function Hearing Health Care for Adults focuses on improving the accessibility and affordability of hearing health care for adults of all ages This study examines the hearing health care system with a focus on non surgical technologies and services and offers recommendations for improving access to the affordability of and the quality of hearing health care for adults of all ages
