far from her native land where she shall ply the loom and serve my couch But depart provoke me not that thou mayest the rather go in peace So said he and the old man was afraid and obeyed his word and fared silently along the shore of the loud sounding sea Then went that aged man apart and prayed aloud to king Apollo whom Leto of the fair locks bare Hear me god of the silver bow that standest over Chryse and holy Killa and rulest Tenedos with might O Smintheus If ever I built a temple gracious in thine eyes or if ever I burnt to thee fat flesh of thighs of bulls or goats fulfil thou this my desire let the Danaans pay by thine arrows for my tears

Smith,1990-02-01 A Choice Outstanding Academic Title Capturing military men in contemplation rather than combat Sherry L Smith reveals American army officers views about the Indians against whom they fought in the last half of the nineteenth century She demonstrates that these officers and their wives did not share a monolithic negative view of their enemies but instead often developed a great respect for Indians and their cultures Some officers even came to question Indian policy expressed misgivings about their personal involvement in the Indian Wars and openly sympathized with their foe The book reviews the period 1848 1890 from the acquisition of the Mexican Cession to the Battle of Wounded Knee and encompasses the entire trans Mississippi West Resting primarily on personal documents drawn from a representative sample of the officer corps at all levels the study seeks to juxtapose the opinions of high ranking officers with those of officers of lesser prominence who were perhaps less inclined to express personal opinions in official reports No educated segment of American society had more prolonged contact with Indians than did army officers and their wives yet not until now has such an overview of their attitudes been presented Smith s work demolishes the stereotype of the Indian hating officer and broadens our understanding of the role of the army in the American West
