Kremansk Prophecy Dragoljub Golubovic, Dejan Malenkovic, 2003-03-04 The intent and purpose of this book is to successfully gather and present the authentic messages of the two Kremansk prophets Milosh and Mitar Tarabic as they told them Born in a remote mountain village of Kremno beneath the mountain Tara these two humble illiterate peasants had practically no elementary knowledge of history or geography They were nevertheless able to foretell all the important events occurring in the nineteenth century during which they lived as well as events not occurring until the twentieth century They also had messages pertaining to the events that are yet to happen in the distant future They didn't speak in riddles as other prophets did They never made it a dilemma about what would happen or even when or how Their messages were timely precise and chronologically correct The Tarabics received their messages from an unknown source Their Godfather the priest Zachary Zacharic preserved them by writing them down The process was long and tedious and it took years to gather them The manuscripts had originally been hidden and were finally uncovered and compiled by Father Zachary's grandson Dejan Malenkovic with whose help this book was finally written Even though this book deals with unusual and fascinating events the authors are not attempting to explain them nor are they discussing man's secret and unusual supernatural knowledge As non scientists we are not capable of explaining something that mankind has not been able to explain since the age of antiquity We just wrote what we found and time will tell whether a phenomenon scientifically unexplainable is also nonexistent

Parbury's oriental herald and colonial intelligencer, 1839 Sultanahmet, Istanbul's Historic Peninsula Pinar Aykaç, 2022-01-05 This book explores how the museum concept has expanded beyond the boundaries of a single building into the historic city itself through musealization Articulating the musealization of historic cities as a specific urban process the book here presents a study of the transformation of the Sultanahmet district on Istanbul's historic peninsula which has been the major focus of planning conservation and museological studies in Turkey since the 19th century as the public face of the city The author aims to offer empirically grounded and context specific insight into the role of museums in the regeneration of historic cities Musealization as an urban process varies in different geographical cultural and ideological contexts and across different time periods By discussing the Sultanahmet district as a specific context of yet another city subjected to the musealization process this book provides further insights into this important global phenomenon
