identifying strategies for effective conservation and argues for a new formulation of conservation values that redefine human relationships and interaction with nature Chapters are enlivened by the personal experiences of the author and the first person narratives of conservation activists and scientists throughout the world who are learning to practice and succeed in conservation efforts under Anthropogenic conditions Drawing on global examples this book will be of great value to students and scholars of biodiversity conservation and environmental science ready to consider a new way of looking at the care and nurture of nature in the Anthropocene

The Race to Save the Lord God Bird Phillip Hoose, 2014-08-26 The tragedy of extinction is explained through the dramatic story of a legendary bird the Ivory billed Woodpecker and of those who tried to possess it paint it shoot it sell it and in a last ditch effort save it. A powerful saga that sweeps through two hundred years of history it introduces artists like John James Audubon bird collectors like William Brewster and finally a new breed of scientist in Cornell's Arthur A. Allen and his young ornithology student James Tanner whose quest to save the Ivory bill culminates in one of the first great conservation showdowns in U.S. history an early round in what is now a worldwide effort to save species. As hope for the Ivory bill fades in the United States the bird is last spotted in Cuba in 1987 and Cuban scientists join in the race to save it. All this plus Mr Hoose's wonderful story telling skills comes together to give us what David Allen Sibley author of The Sibley Guide to Birds calls the most thorough and readable account to date of the personalities fashions economics and politics that combined to
