you have He has respect for actors and for everybody A bad director very often doesn't have that respect Liv Ullman's words about Ingmar Bergman hint at the consummate director he was one who knew the business the strengths and weaknesses of actors and crews the arrangement of the set the framing of the camera and all other particulars of the fine art of directing This work presents Bergman's life and work beginning with his youth in Uppsala Sweden and covering his formative years his development as an artist and his career as a world renowned director A brief synopsis for each of Bergman's films is provided with such information as producer screenwriter cinematographer editor art director music sound credits running time casts Bergman's own comments and the reactions of critics Ingmar Bergman Geoffrey Macnab, 2009-06-17 Ingmar Bergman was the last and arguably the greatest of the old style European auteurs and his influence across all areas of contemporary cinema has continued to be considerable since his death in July 2007 Drawing on interviews with collaborators and original research this book puts Bergman's career into the context of his life and offers a new and revealing portrait of this great filmmaker Geoffrey Macnab explores the often painfully autobiographical nature of his work while also looking in detail at Bergman as a craftsman He considers Bergman's working relationship with his actors especially the actresses he helped make into international stars his passion for theatre literature and classical music and his obsession with death and cruelty The book traces his traumatic childhood asking how his experiences growing up as the son of a strict Lutheran pastor fed into his later writing and filmmaking It also looks at his political life chronicling his teenage flirtation with Nazism his bitter spat in the mid 70s with the Swedish authorities over his tax affairs and his often vexed relationship with his fellow Swedes Geoffrey Macnab also considers how Bergman's work was financed and distributed his relationship with US agents and how close he came to working in Hollywood When I was 10 years old I received my first rattling film projector with its chimney and lamp which went round and round and round I found it both mystifying and fascinating Ingmar Bergman

Ingmar Bergman Marc Gervais, 1999 Ingmar Bergman has long been revered as a master craftsman of cinema whose works are intensely revealing of himself while resonating powerfully with his audience This book explores how Bergman achieves this cinematic magic through specific choices in the use of film language and the texturing and structuring of his images sounds and rhythms Sonatas, Screams, and Silence Alexis Luko, 2015-08-11 Sonatas Screams and Silence Music and Sound in the Films of Ingmar Bergman is the first musical examination of Bergman's style as an auteur filmmaker It provides a comprehensive examination of all three aspects music sound effects and voice of Bergman's signature soundtrack style Through examinations of Bergman's biographical links to music the role of music sound effects silence and voice and Bergman's working methods with sound technicians mixers and editors this book argues that Bergman's soundtracks are as superbly developed as his psychological narratives and breathtaking cinematography Interdisciplinary in nature this book bridges the fields of music sound and film Screening the Face P. myths as that of Medusa This is exemplified by a wide range of European and American films including Ingmar Bergman's Persona Desire and Consent in Representations of Adolescent Sexuality with Adults Maureen Turim, Diane Waldman, 2023-10-02 This book presents an innovative comparative view of how the issue of adolescent sexuality and consent is differently treated in various media Analyzing teenage sexual encounters with adults across a variety of media including films television novels and podcasts the volume takes a positive stance on the expression of teenage sexuality while remaining sensitive to the power of adults to abuse and manipulate The anthology treats these representations as negotiations between conflicting forces desire sexual self knowledge unequal power and the law the latter both actual legal statutes and internalized law in the philosophical and psychoanalytic sense Questions of unequal power inherent in such relations are theorized The authors examine variations of this configuration of sexual relations between teenagers and adults from different perspectives to consider how various forms of expression rework it formally These essays are attuned to both nuances of presentation and contexts of reception and they consider how aesthetics play a role Contributing to the general debate about the ways that societies construct and regulate adolescent sexuality this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of media studies cultural studies film studies television studies sociology and gender studies Wild Strawberries Philip French, Kersti French, 2019-07-25 Wild Strawberries 1958 is probably Ingmar Bergman's most personal film and one which explores his relation to the history of Swedish cinema Philip and Kersti French give a detailed account of Bergman's powerful and intense direction of the film They set the film firmly in the context of Swedish life and culture The authors also trace connections with the plays of August Strindberg and the paintings of Edvard Munch and Carl Larsson

Ingmar Bergman and the Rituals of Art Paisley Livingston, 2019-06-30 Through close readings of Bergman's famous and lesser known films as well as through study of his early stage productions untranslated essays interviews and scripts Paisley Livingston elucidates Bergman's rigorous critique of the violence persecution and deceit in modern culture Bergman's focal point is the dilemma of the artist in society the nature and value of his exchanges with the public He envisions modern art in terms of its relation to a moribund tradition in its dependence on destructive and sterile ritual patterns art has lost the power to influence the development of our lives Bergman criticizes the vestiges of cult values in both popular and elite forms of art from the idolatry of the star system to the aggressive primitivism of certain avant garde experiments Linking his innovations in film form to an investigation of the processes of social interaction Bergman is able to confront the artist's relation to both the order and the disorder of culture Lance Comfort Brian McFarlane, 2019-01-04 In the years between 1941 and 1965 Lance Comfort made some of the most entertaining films in Britain There was the striking success of his second feature as director Hatter's Castle 1941 and when he returned to this melodramatic vein in 1945 he made a series of highly proficient and enjoyable studies in obsession including Bedelia 1946 with Margaret Lockwood as a murderess and Temptation Harbour 1947 starring Robert Newton as a decent man in the grip of erotic attraction Comfort's career has never been charted in full that is from the apprenticeship in the 1930s through the melodramas of the 1940s to the often rewarding co features of the following two decades His is in many ways a prototypical career in British cinema his very attractive body of work has been marginalised by critical focus on a few giant figures This is a book that will appeal to all students and researchers in British cinema as well as to anyone with an interest in British films and why they were the way they were in their most productive period

Cultural Specificity in Indonesian Film David Hanan,2017-02-16 This book explores ways in which diverse regional cultures in Indonesia and their histories have been expressed in film since the early 1950s It also explores underlying cultural dominants within the new nation established at the end of 1949 with the achievement of independence from Dutch colonialism It sees these dominants for example forms of group body language and forms of consultation not simply as a product of the nation but as related to unique and long standing formations and traditions in the numerous societies in the Indonesian archipelago on which the nation is based Nevertheless the book is not concerned only with past traditions but explores ways in which Indonesian filmmakers have addressed critically distinctive aspects of their traditional societies in their feature films including at times the social position of women linking past to the present where relevant in dynamic ways

Self-Projection Linda Haverty Rugg,2014-03-01 In 1957 a decade before Roland Barthes announced the death of the author Francois Truffaut called for a new era in which films would resemble the person who made them and be even more personal than an autobiographical novel More than five decades on it seems that Barthes has won the argument when it comes to most film critics The cinematic author we are told has been dead for a long time Yet Linda Haverty Rugg contends not only that the art cinema auteur never died but that the films of some of the most important auteurs are intensely if complexly related to the lives and self images of their directors Self Projection explores how nondocumentary narrative art films create alternative forms of collaborative self representation and selfhood The book examines the work of celebrated directors who plant autobiographical traces in their films including Truffaut Bergman Fellini Tarkovsky Herzog Allen Almod var and von Trier It is not simply that these directors and many others like them make autobiographical references or occasionally appear in their films but that they tie their films to their life stories and communicate that link to their audiences Projecting a new kind of selfhood these directors encourage identifications between themselves and their work even as they disavow such connections And because of the collaborative and technological nature of filmmaking the director s self projection involves actors audience and the machines and institution of the cinema as well Lively and accessible Self Projection sheds new light on the films of these iconic directors and on art cinema in general ultimately showing how film can transform not only the autobiographical act but what it means to have a self
