Audiotopia Josh Kun, 2005-11-01. Ranging from Los Angeles to Havana to the Bronx to the U.S. Mexico border and from klezmer to hip hop to Latin rock, this groundbreaking book injects popular music into contemporary debates over American identity. Josh Kun, a MacArthur Genius Fellow, insists that America is not a single chorus of many voices folded into one but rather various republics of sound that represent multiple stories of racial and ethnic difference. To this end, he covers a range of music and listeners to evoke the ways that popular sounds have expanded our idea of American culture and American identity. Artists as diverse as The Weavers, Café Tacuba, Mickey Katz, Rahsaan Roland Kirk, Bessie Smith, and Ozomatli reveal that the song of America is endlessly hybrid, heterogeneous, and enriching—a source of comfort and strength for populations who have been taught that their lives do not matter. Kun melds studies of individual musicians with studies of painters such as Jean Michel Basquiat and of writers such as Walt Whitman, James Baldwin, and Langston Hughes. There is no history of race in the Americas that is not a history of popular music, Kun claims. Inviting readers to listen closely and critically, Audiotopia forges a new understanding of sound that will stoke debates about music, race, identity, and culture for many years to come.

The New Uncanny A.S. Byatt, Christopher Priest, Ramsey Campbell, Etgar Keret, Hanif Kureishi, Sara Maitland, Alison MacLeod, Jane Rogers, Gerard Woodward, Frank Cottrell Boyce, Nicholas Royle, Ian Duhig, Mathew Holness, Adam Marek, 2013-12-03. Winner of the 2008 Shirley Jackson Award for Best Anthology. In 1919, Sigmund Freud published an essay that delved deep into the tradition of horror writing and claimed to understand one of its darkest tricks. Like a mad scientist, he performed literary vivisection on a still-breathing body of work, exploring its inner anatomy and pulling out mysterious organs for classification. His aim: to present to the world a complete theory of das unheimliche, the uncanny. In the spirit of this great experiment, 14 leading authors have here been challenged to write fresh fictional interpretations of what the uncanny might mean in the 21st century, to update Freud's famous checklist of what gives us the creeps and to give the hulking canon of uncanny fiction a shot in the arm, a shock to the neck bolts. It's not too great a stretch to see Comma as the literary equivalent of Factory Records. The Herald, 2 Dec. Delightful and disturbing. The Independent, on Sunday 14 Dec. Edition of individual eBooks The Neural Imagination Irving Massey,2012-11-29 Art and technology have been converging rapidly in the past few years an important example of this convergence is the alliance of neuroscience with aesthetics which has produced the new field of neuroaesthetics Irving Massey examines this alliance in large part to allay the fears of artists and audiences alike that brain science may explain away the arts The first part of the book shows how neuroscience can enhance our understanding of certain features of art The second part of the book illustrates a humanistic approach to the arts it is written entirely without recourse to neuroscience in order to show the differences in methodology between the two approaches The humanistic style is marked particularly by immersion in the individual work and by evaluation rather than by detachment in the search for generalizations In the final section Massey argues that despite these differences once the reality of imagination is accepted neuroscience can be seen as the collaborator not the inquisitor of the arts A Composer's Insight: Richard Rodney Bennett Timothy Salzman,2003 This is a five volume series on major
