The Service Sector in Soviet Economic Growth Gur Ofer,1973 Comparison of the service sector in the USSR and abroad maintains that the small share of the service sector in the soviet economy is due chiefly to the socialist economic system and to its economic growth strategy covers theoretical aspects industrial aspects the industrial structure service labour force the service gap in commerce etc and relies primarily on data for the period up to 1968 Bibliography references and statistical tables

Service Industries in Regional Development William J. Coffey,James John McRae,1989 This document presents a broad empirical picture of the national regional and urban structure of the Canadian economy It identifies the factors which may be causing the relative shift towards employment in service industries and occupations and shows that the lack of actual data on interregional flows of service outputs effectively precludes the empirical testing of regional general equilibrium models involving service industries It concludes by bringing forth the regional policy implications embedded in the conceptual and empirical work on service industries

Service Industries and Regions Juan R. Cuadrado-Roura,2013-03-26 The service sector in most advanced economies accounts for up to seventy percent of employment and GDP and given its growing importance has received much research attention over the last two decades However not very much attention has been paid to the relationship between this sector and both its territorial impact and regional effects The main objective of this book is to offer a comprehensive approach to these aspects focusing particularly on the location factors of service industries and the importance of some specific services such as business services and knowledge and information services The contributions have been prepared by well known experts in the field from a wide number of countries The focus of all contributions is not only on theoretical aspects but also provides empirical analyses on specific countries and topics such as the geographical concentration globalization impacts foreign direct investments and innovation

Services and Economic Development in the Asia-Pacific J.W. Harrington,2016-04-01 Until the 1990s industrialization was the dominant development paradigm for the Asia Pacific region Since then advanced services finance business or producer services information and creative services have become deeply embedded in the processes of economic growth and change in the region This rapid tertiary expansion is fundamentally restructuring national and regional economies and urban form in line with the introduction of advanced production systems national modernization programmes and the globalization strategies of governments Services are being actively deployed as instruments of metropolitan reconfiguration and land use change This book explores various aspects of the relationship between service industries and economic development in Japan South Korea China Taiwan Singapore India Australia and New Zealand It provides new sector oriented and regional and national perspectives on services and development Service Industries United States. Technological Progress and the Transformation of China's Economic Development Mode Wen Xiao,2020-10-01 This book explores how technological progress accelerates the transformation of economic development by adopting a fundamental logical approach to technological progress intensive inputs and promotion of productive efficiency to transformation of economic development It investigates the internal mechanisms and the choice of corresponding modes that initiate technological progress to accelerate the transformation of economic development at three basic research levels micro enterprise level mid industry level and macro economy level Based on the above research the book summarizes four dimensions facilitating the transformation agricultural intensification new industrialization modernization of the service industry and the advanced manufacturing industry and linkage of the modern service industry This book is especially valuable in its hierarchical categorization covering theoretical empirical industrial and strategic exploration On one hand it analyzes the mechanisms and approaches influencing the transformation of economic development driven by technological progress from both theoretical and empirical perspectives On the other hand based on the introduction of advanced international experiences it probes into the guarantee basis for the strategic implementation and the corresponding mode choices of the transformations Furthermore it offers specific policy proposals from both the macro level of how technological progress promotes the transformation of economic development and the micro level covering the agricultural industrial and service industries Services - SERVICES 2020 Joao Eduardo Ferreira,Balaji Palanisamy,Kejiang Ye,Siva Kantamneni,Liang-Jie Zhang,2020-09-16 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 16th World Congress on Services SERVICES 2020 held as part of the Services Conference Federation SCF 2020 in Honolulu HI USA in September 2020 The conference was held virtually due to the COVID 19 pandemic The 5 full papers and 4 short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 10 submissions The papers cover topics in the field of software engineering foundations and applications with a focus on novel approaches for engineering requirements design and architectures testing maintenance and evolution model driven development software processes metrics quality assurance and new software economics models search based software engineering benefiting day to day services sectors and derived through experiences with appreciation to scale pragmatism transparency compliance and or dependability Service Industries and Asia Pacific Cities Peter W. Daniels, Kong Chong Ho, Tom Hutton, 2005-04-01 During the second half of the twentieth century development in the Asia Pacific region has been dominated by industrialization However at the beginning of the twenty first century services in particular finance information and creative services have become deeply embedded in the processes of urban growth In Asia Pacific the rise of service industries has lead to national modernization programmes and globalization strategies Services are also driving change in the internal form of city regions and are being actively deployed as instruments of metropolitan reconfiguration and land use changes These changes have created problems such as social polarization and the displacement of traditional industries and residential districts Also there are tensions between local and global processes in the development of service industries and between the imperatives of competitive advantage and sustainable development Service Industries and Asia Pacific Cities brings together a multi disciplinary team of experts to explore and illustrate the theoretical conceptual and practical issues arising from the transformation of Asia Pacific cities by service industries

Service Industries in Developing Countries Erdener Kaynak, 2013-09-13 First Published in 2004 The purpose of this special study is to enhance our understanding of the role of different service sectors in the welfare and development of emerging economies This study includes eight essays covering the topics of a conceptual framework for studying service industries in developing countries and examines marketing techniques for service industries an exploration of the very important but neglected service sector the financial markets in relation to economic development in developing countries a study that argues that financial liberalisation is essential to the economic development of the Third World countries and concludes that many will have to change their outlook and adopt more appropriate and realistic financial policies in the next few years

The Service Sector: Productivity and Growth Ernesto Felli, Furio C. Rosati, Giovanni Tria, 2012-12-06 The economics of the service sector has recently attracted a large attention At a macroeconomic level the discussion has been focused on the issues concerning the relationship between the expansion of the service industry and the potential for a stable and sustained growth Slow productivity growth due to the largely non tradable nature of the output lack of competition due either to regulations or to barriers to entry are among the bads sometimes associated with a service led growth On the other hand new working places are created in the service industries at a rate much higher than in the industrial ones Is a lower rate of technological change and the continuing of inflationary tensions the price to pay for a sustained expansion of employment in the service sector These are in a nutshell the questions that led CEIS Centre for International Studies on Economic Growth University of Rome Tor Vergata to organize the International Seminar on The Service Sector Productivity and Growth held in Rome in May 1993 whose revised proceedings are published in this volume The economists and academicians invited to the conference have faced the issues mentioned above from different perspectives but they concentrated especially on the problems relative to growth and productivity
