Releases, 1983 Allen J. Beck, Thomas Hester, 1986      Last Served? Cindy Patton, 2005-07-12 Following a decade in which the focus on HIV and AIDS has been on specific social groups a shift in professional perceptions has resulted in a change in the images of women and HIV AIDS Last Served recognizes and analyzes the trend toward more openly acknowledging and planning for women in the pandemic Rather than enumerating the effects on women of confused or conflicting policies and representation the book details why and how this situation occurred The author suggests that new visibility of women cannot in itself quickly or easily change the underlying assumptions which made women simultaneously radiant figures of sexual purity and a magnet for blame during the pandemic s first decade Last Served makes clear how the different ways of posing and answering questions about women and HIV are grounded in already existing ways of thinking about gender and how these underlying preconceptions sometimes create situations whereby attempts to address the practical needs of women often result in reinforcement or introduction of new forms of male domination Combining detailed analysis with practical suggestions Last Served provides insights into the current debates about women and AIDS and suggests future directions for work to overcome discrimination faulty planning and misrepresentation      Encyclopedia of American Prisons ,      The Gender of Crime Dana M. Moss, 1996 If not for the reproductive functions of women would there be anything called women s health care A review of medical literature practice and policy in this country would suggest that the answer is no Offering a startling view of the current state of health care for women in the United States and laying the foundation for a new widely defined women s medicine Man Made Medicine makes an urgent statement about gender bias in the medical establishment and its pernicious effects on the well being of women and the care they receive These essays by physicians lawyers activists and scholars present a rare interdisciplinary approach to a complex set of issues Gender stereotyping and bias in the collection analysis and reporting of scientific data and in the ways health related news is covered by the media are examined The exclusion of women from the health care policy making process and the effect such exclusion has on the determination of priorities among potential areas of research are also explored With discussions of the plight of specific populations of women whose health care needs are not being sufficiently met for example immigrants prisoners the mentally ill or women with HIV AIDS disabilities or reproductive health problems this book considers matters of race and class within the parameters of gender as it builds a fundamental challenge to the existing health care system A range of current reform proposals are also evaluated in terms of their potential impact on women Suggesting no less than a radical rethinking of women s medicine Man Made Medicine gives essential direction to the discussions that will shape the future of health care in this country It will be of great interest to a wide audience including health care advocates policymakers scholars and readers generally concerned with women s health issues Contributors Ellen Barry Laurie Beck Joan Bertin Janet Calvo Wendy Chavkin Kay Dickersin Abigail English Elizabeth Fee Carol Gill Nancy Krieger Joyce McConnell Judy Norsigian Ann Scales Susan Stefan Lauren Schnaper Catherine Teare

Controlling the Dangerous Classes Randall G.

Shelden,Pavel V. Vasiliev,2017-12-19 Throughout history the powerful have created laws developed agencies to enforce those laws and established institutions to punish lawbreakers Maintaining the social order to their advantage resulted in the systematic repression of disadvantaged groups the dangerous classes The third edition retains a historical approach to exploring patterns of social control and through current examples demonstrates how those strategies continue today The authors trace the roots of race class and gender bias in how laws are written interpreted and applied The management of dangerous classes is not a recent phenomenon there is a long history of keeping those who derive the least advantage from the status quo and therefore pose the greatest threat under control There was and is one system of justice for the privileged and a very different system for the less privileged The criminal justice system from the law to daily operations of the police courts and corrections generally comes down hardest on those with the least amount of power and influence and is the most lenient with those with the most power and influence The book raises critical questions What is a crime What is law Whose interests are served by the law and the criminal justice system What patterns are repeated generation after generation How does the criminal justice system relate to larger issues such as social inequality social class race and gender Contemplation of these topics contributes to informed public dialogue and careful deliberation about the present state and the future of criminal justice
