Severe Head Injuries:

Severe Head Injuries Bernhard L. Bauer, Thomas J. Kuhn, 1997 Severe head injuries are a frequent occurrence in the life of every emergency care specialist, traumatologist, neurosurgeon, and rehabilitation specialist. For example, between 30 000 to 40 000 such injuries occur annually in Germany, while over 75 000 Americans die each year after suffering a severe head injury. Survival and long term outcome depends to a great extent on timely and appropriate diagnosis and treatment. Thus all physicians involved must be aware of the current management procedures, and this reference based on the experience of international experts provides an up to date and practical guideline. Head Injuries Reinhold A. Frowein, Mario Brock, Margareta Klinger, 2012-12-06 The 17th volume of the Advances in Neurosurgery contains a selection of the scientific reports of the 39th annual meeting of the German Society for Neurosurgery which was held in Cologne from May 8-11, 1988. The first section deals in particular with the long term results of severe head injuries as well as with problems of the acute traumatic hematomas and brain edema. The second section covers microsurgical experiences. Attention is focused on the anatomy and operative technique for lesions in and around the jugular foramen and the craniospinal transition. The third section describes the special new results of brain death determination. Beyond this, numerous contributions on clinical and research results were presented in a poster exhibition which was systematically studied in order to give younger neurosurgeons the opportunity for extensive discussion. The volume contains new information which will bring specialists up to date on the latest clinical and research developments in the field. Handbook of Head Trauma Charles J. Long, Leslie K. Ross, 2013-06-29 Providing a thorough collection of information regarding clinical aspects of head injury from acute care to recovery, this treatise interrelates a variety of neural specialties and broadens the rehabilitation process to include the family.

Minor Head Trauma Steven Mandel, Robert T. Sataloff, Sarita R. Schapiro, 2013-12-21 Minor Head Trauma describes and explains techniques for diagnosing, evaluating, and rehabilitating patients with minor head injuries. This book emphasizes the importance of long term treatment of patients beyond the initial moments of injury and treatment in the emergency room. Minor Head Trauma offers insight on a range of related issues from emergency room management to psychiatric evaluation and rehabilitation, the role of electrophysiological testing in patients, including BEAM techniques, the subtleties of neurophysiological diagnosis, neurotoxicological evaluation, and treatment, diagnosis and treatment of temporomandibular joint disorders, the nature and pathogenesis of visual sequelae of head injury, the speech language pathologist's role in treating minor head injuries, the complexities of rehabilitation including problems faced when the patient resumes normal community, professional, and familial activities. Minor Head Trauma is intended for physicians, psychologists, physical therapists, speech language pathologists, nurses, attorneys, and others faced with the challenges of evaluating and treating patients who have sustained minor head trauma. Raimondi, Maurice Choux, Concenzio Di Rocco, 2012-12-06 It is estimated that the functionally significant body of knowledge for a given medical specialty changes radically every 8 years New specialties and sub specialization are occurring at approximately an equal rate Historically established journals have not been able either to absorb this increase in publishable material or to extend their readership to the new specialists International and national meetings symposia and seminars workshops and newsletters successfully bring to the attention of physi cians within developing specialties what is occurring but generally only in demonstration form without providing historical perspective patho anatomical correlates or extensive discussion Page and time limitations oblige the authors to present only the essence of their material Pediatric neurosurgery is an example of a specialty that has developed during the past 15 years and over this period neurosurgeons have obtained special training in pediatric neurosurgery and then dedicated themselves primarily to its practice Centers Chairs and educational programs have been established as groups of neurosurgeons in different countries throughout the world organized themselves respectively into national and international societies for pediatric neurosurgery These events were both preceded and followed by specialized courses national and international journals and ever increasing clinical and investigative studies into all aspects of surgically treatable diseases of the child's nervous system Central Nervous
