Sex Power And Travel:

New Sociologies of Sex Work Kate Hardy, Sarah Kingston, 2016-05-06 Sex work studies have seen an expansion in publications over the past decade drawing together disciplines from across the social sciences namely sociology criminology and social policy There has however been a tendency for research and writing to focus on the more obvious aspect of the sex industry the visible elements of female street prostitution and those features which attract media attention such as the criminalised aspects of the sex trade The sex industry is diverse in terms of its organisation presentation participants and how it is located in the broader context of globalisation and regulation there is a need for publications which demonstrate this breadth This book makes an outstanding contribution to the sociology of sex work through advancing theoretical policy methodological and empirical ideas as each chapter pushes the boundaries of a specific area by offering new and critical research as well as commentary

Sex Tourism in Bahia Erica Lorraine Williams, 2013-10-30 For nearly a decade Brazil has surpassed Thailand as the world s premier sex tourism destination As the first full length ethnography of sex tourism in Brazil this pioneering study treats sex tourism as a complex and multidimensional phenomenon that involves a range of activities and erotic connections from sex work to romantic transnational relationships Erica Lorraine Williams explores sex tourism in the Brazilian state of Bahia from the perspectives of foreign tourists tourism industry workers sex workers who engage in liaisons with foreigners and Afro Brazilian men and women who contend with foreigners stereotypical assumptions about their licentiousness She shows how the Bahian state strategically exploits the touristic desire for exotic culture by appropriating an eroticized blackness and commodifying the Afro Brazilian culture in order to sell Bahia to foreign travelers

Women Who Buy Sex Sarah Kingston, Natalie Hammond, Scarlett Redman, 2020-05-10 Drawing on empirical data from women who pay for sexual services and those who provide services to women this ground breaking study is the first of its kind in the UK detailing the experiences of women who pay for sex in an explicit direct prearranged way Unlike previous research on clients which has predominantly focused on men who buy sex or women who engage in romance tourism in places such as the Caribbean this innovative research offers new and original insights into the demand side of commercial sex Too often it is assumed that only men pay for sex from women or other men Women are assumed to be service providers and are unimaginable as clients This book therefore offers a radical departure from existing scholarship on commercial sex In addition the book examines the experiences of couples who pay for commercial sex a client group that has received scant investigation The book explores women s reasons for their engagement in commercial sex services their backgrounds and characteristics their strategies for remaining safe and managing potential risks as well as their sexual health strategies The nature of sexual service bookings with women clients is also examined exploring the types of services women seek the places where bookings occur and the fees they pay Finally the experiences of men women and trans sex workers who provide sexual services to women are examined By drawing on our unique data and comparing it to the literature on men clients we present our theory Converging Sexualities We argue that commercial sex is a site of behavioural convergence and that women clients are behaving in ways that could be described as masculine or feminine Our study therefore offers new ways to understand sexuality This book will be of interest to researchers in the field of sexuality sex work and women s behaviour

The Registration and Monitoring of Sex Offenders Terry Thomas, 2012-03-29 This book seeks to provide the first serious and detailed narrative of the conception and implementation of the sex offender registers It seeks to do so in a clear and easy to follow text that will be both informed and critical It will also serve as a resource book for those wanting to make further study of the process of registration and monitoring

Travelling in Different Skins Dúnlaith Bird, 2012-07-05 D nlaith Bird argues that vagabondage a physical and textual elaboration of gender identity in motion emerges as a totemic concept in European women s travel writing from 1850 For travellers including Olympe Audouard Isabella Bird Isabelle Eberhardt and

Freya Stark vagabondage is a means of pushing out the physical geographical and textual parameters by which women are defined Travelling in Different Skins explores the negotiations of European women travel writers from 1850 1950 within the traditionally male oriented discourses of colonialism and Orientalism Moving from historical overview to close textual reading it traces a complex web of tacit collusion and gleeful defiance These women improvise access to the highly gendered imaginative geography of the Orient Tactics including cross dressing commerciality and the effacement of their male companions are used to carve out a space for their unconventional and often sexually hybrid constructions Using a composite theoretical basis of the later critical work of Judith Butler and Edward Said this comparative study of British and French colonial empires and gender norms draws out the nuances in these travellers constructions of gender identity Women travel writers are shown to play an important role in the legacy of sexual experimentation and self creation in the Orient traditionally associated with male writers including Gide and Pierre Loti and now ripe for critical re evaluation This study demonstrates how these women use lived experiences of restriction and negotiation to elaborate advanced theories of motion and gender construction presaging the concerns of twenty first century feminism and post colonialism Sex in Tourism

Neil Carr,Liza Berdychevsky,2021-11-04 This book encompasses the diversity and complexity of sex in tourism incorporating the light dark and shades of grey in between It brings together work and ideas from a diverse array of researchers from around the world and examines the affects and effects of diverse sexual encounters in tourism romance tourism sex tourism and sexual exploitation in tourism including the sexual exploitation of children in travel and tourism and sexual harassment Sex in tourism has arguably been an understudied area of research relative to the central roles that sex plays within tourism experiences This volume explores the complexity and nuanced nature of sex in tourism in more detail It will be of interest to students and researchers of tourism impacts tourist behaviour hospitality management destination management and development

Travel Narratives, Travel Fictions Daniel Cooper Alarcón, 2024-02-02
In Travel Narratives Travel Fictions Daniel Cooper Alarcón argues that travel literature performs important social and cultural criticism often overlooked in studies of the genre
By examining non fiction and fiction novels and short stories that purposefully examine different types of travel in relationship to each other Cooper Alarcón documents and highlights the sophisticated ways that both types of writing have anticipated and contributed ideas central to critical studies of travel tourism and migration
The author uses the term travel fictions to illustrate the ways in which travel narratives supposed factual accounts of travel often misrepresent distort and fabricate notions about the people and places they purport to describe creating useful mythologies and hinting at the ways in which the acts of reading and writing have become an integral part of traveling shaping not just itineraries but perceptions and beliefs about places travelers visit
Both types of travel writing are influential in this regard and they frequently borrow from one another mutually reinforcing ideas tropes and modes of representation often in problematic ways

Sexual Antipodes Pamela Cheek, 2003-02-28
Sexual Antipodes is about how Enlightenment print culture built modern national and racial identity out of images of sexual order and disorder in public life
It examines British and French popular journalism utopian fiction and travel accounts about South Sea encounter pamphlet literature and pornography as well as more traditional literary sources on the eighteenth century such as the novel and philosophical essays and tales
The title refers to a premise in utopian and exoticist fiction about the southern portion of the globe sexual order defines the character of the state
The book begins by examining how the idea of sexual order operated as the principle for explaining national differences in eighteenth century contestation between Britain and France
It then traces how following British and French encounters with Tahiti the comparison of different national sexual orders formed the basis for two theories of race race as essential character and race as degeneration

Women and Sex Tourism Landscapes Erin Sanders-McDonagh, 2016-08-12
Sexual spaces normally inhabited by mostly female sex workers are understood as masculine spaces and positioned for and around male consumers
However red light zones and public sex performances in both Thailand and Holland are being explored and visually consumed by female tourists in significant numbers
Their presence in red light districts and sexual venues is at odds with the ways in which sexual spaces have normally been positioned Woman and Sex Tourism Landscapes explores female tourists interactions with highly sexualized spaces and places in two very different contexts the Netherlands and Thailand Addressing this incongruence this text explores the ways in which these spaces are constructed and examines the different relations that govern the management of and female tourist interactions with these liminal sexual zones Ethnographic data collected in both countries suggests that far from being male centred spaces the red light districts and associated sexual entertainment venues are very much open to female tourists Drawing on this research the author argues that some women are indeed interested in exploring sexualized zones challenging assumptions about women s involvements with sexual space Thinking specifically about the visual nature of women s sexualized experiences the analysis draws on a range of different theoretical understandings that address power privilege and the gaze An important contribution to a range of debates this book will appeal to students and researchers in tourism geography sociology gender studies and cultural theory

Race and Sexuality Salvador Vidal-Ortiz, Brandon Andrew Robinson, Cristina Khan, 2018-04-27 The connections between race and sexuality are constant in our lives yet they are not often linked together in productive analytical ways This illuminating book delves into the interrelation of race and sexuality as inseparable elements of our identities and social lives The authors approach the topic through an interdisciplinary lens focusing on power social arrangements and hierarchies and the production of social difference Their analysis maps the historical discursive and structural manifestations of race and sexuality noting the everyday effects that the intersections of these categories have on people s lived experiences Considering both US based and transnational cases this book presents an empirical grounding for understanding how race and sexuality are mutually constitutive categories Providing a comprehensive overview of racialized sexualities this book is an essential text for any advanced course on race sexuality and intersectionality

Re-Constructing Place and Space Kamille Gentles-Peart, Maurice L. Hall, 2011-10-18 Cultural traditions transmitted within the primary and secondary migratory communities of the Caribbean are continually subject to loss gain and reinterpretation Communication practices play a role in these processes as they help to sustain and challenge the diasporic subjectivities of the Caribbean Re-Constructing Place and Space Media Culture Discourse and the Constitution of Caribbean Diasporas seeks to explore the influence of embodied discursive and mediated communicative forms on the construction and maintenance of Caribbean diasporic communities The volume emerged from the 2009 New Media and the Global Diaspora Symposium Exploring Media in Caribbean Diasporas held at Roger Williams University in the United States The event sought to encourage interdisciplinary academic discourse on Caribbean migratory populations foregrounding the role of communicative practices in sustaining their traditions In keeping with the spirit of the symposium this volume applies a transdisciplinary lens to understanding the diversity and complexity of Caribbean peoples production of and engagement with communication practices The objectives for the book are two fold The general objective is to contribute to discourse on diasporic identity and performativity The more specific aim of the book is to present a more complex picture of peoples from the Caribbean region and their diasporic communities From the Introduction Writes of Passage James Duncan, Derek Gregory, 2002-01-31
