Politics And Policies Of Sub Saharan Africa:

The Politics and Policies of Sub-Saharan Africa Robert A. Dibia, 2001 This book attempts to correct the impression created by Western media that Sub Saharan Africa is in a state of anarchy The text analyzes and shows that while many Sub Saharan African nations are experiencing the worst time of their history others are enjoying their best times Thus the text argues that although some parts of Africa are experiencing crisis the continent is also a fine region of major new experiments in governance peace building and free market transformation programs Finally the text focuses some of its analyses on the colonial legacy economic and ethnic transformation indigenous institutions and other forces that seem to influence the governance of Sub Saharan African nations

Governing Cities in Africa S. B. Bekker, Laurent Fourchard, 2013 Governing Cities in Africa Politics and Policies brings a unique set of comparative and collaboratively generated insights to bear on some key themes of urbanism in sub Saharan Africa The book brings to the fore themes that are often neglected in urban studies generally such as the role of political parties and interrogates and proposes alternatives to some terms such as informality which are perhaps overused in exploring cities in Africa It has a very dynamic approach to building genuinely new analyses working across a few to several cities at once exploring both astonishing similarities and surprising differences and bringing the clarity of thinking of some of the top scholars working on these issues in the region and beyond This is a rare kind of book based on deep empirical knowledge and complex theoretical reflection drawing insight from different language communities and from a very wide array of different cities it is genuinely comparative and a model for how to build conceptual insights about urban processes

Conflict Resolution and Peace Education in Africa Ernest E. Uwazie, 2003-01-01 Africa today suffers from too much political unrest and violent conflict The contributors to this edited collection recognize a missing link in efforts to foster democracy and with it political stability and peace in Africa s developing countries Democracy can be sustained only where effective means for resolving citizens disputes exist both within and outside the formal legal system The writers whose articles appear here scholars practitioners and peace advocates present their varied knowledge of conflict and war in Africa and strategies for introducing and implementing mediation from Sierra Leone to South Africa This volume is a model exchange of insights and ideas in the important field of conflict resolution as applied to Africa

The Politics of Trade and Industrial Policy in Africa Charles Chukwuma Soludo, Michael Osita Ogbu, Ha-Joon Chang, 2004 This book maps the process and political economy of policy making in Africa It s focus on trade and industrial policy makes it unique and it will appeal to students and academics in economics political economy political science and African studies Detailed case studies help the reader to understand how the process and motivation behind policy decisions can vary from country to country depending on the form of government ethnicity and nationality and other social factors

Violence, Politics and Conflict Management in Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, Marongwe, Ngonidzashe, 2016-09-01 This volume critically interrogates from different angles and dimensions the resilience of conflict and violence into 21st century Africa The demise of European colonial administration in Africa in the 1960s wielded fervent hope for enduring peace for the people of Africa Regrettably conflict alongside violence in all its dimensions physical religious political psychological and structural remain unabated and occupy central stage in contemporary Africa The resilience of conflict and violence on the continental scene invokes unsettling memories of the past while negatively influencing the present and future of crafting inclusive citizenship and statehood he book provides fresh insightful ethnographic and intellectual material for rethinking violence and conflict and for fostering long lasting peace and political justice on the continent and beyond With its penetrating focus on conflict and associated trajectories of violence in Africa the book is an inestimable asset for conflict management practitioners political scientists historians civil society activists and leaders in economics and politics as well as all those interested in the affairs of Africa Resource Politics in Sub-Saharan Africa Matthias Basedau,2005 Patenting of Pharmaceuticals and Development in Sub-Saharan Africa POKU

ADUSEI,2012-10-24 This book critically investigates the patent protection of medication in light of the threats posed by HIV AIDS malaria and tuberculosis epidemics to the citizens of countries in Sub Saharan Africa hereinafter SSA or Africa The book outlines the systemic problems associated with the prevailing globalized patent regime and the regime s inability to promote access to life saving medication at affordable prices in SSA It argues that for pharmaceutical patents to retain their relevance in SSA countries human development concepts must be integrated into global patent law and policy making An integrative approach implies developing additional public health and human development exceptions limitations to the exercise of patent rights with the goal of scaling up access to medication that can treat epidemics in SSA By drawing on multiple perspectives of laws institutions practices and politics the book suggests that SSA countries adopt an evidence based approach to implementing global patent standards in domestic jurisdictions This evidence based approach would include mechanisms like local need assessments and the use of empirical data to shape domestic patent law making endeavors The approach also implies revising patent rules and policies with a pro poor and pro health emphasis so that medication will be more affordable and accessible to the citizens of SSA countries It also suggests considering the opinions of individuals and pro access institutions in enacting crucial pieces of health related statutes in SSA countries The approach in this book is sensitive to the public health needs of the citizens affected by epidemics and to the imperative of building local manufacturing facilities for pharmaceutical research and development in SSA Handbook of Energy Politics Jennifer I. Considine,Keun-Wook Paik,2018 Starting with the fundamentals of the global energy industry Handbook of Energy Politics goes on to cover the evolution of capital and financial markets in the energy industry the effects of technology environmental issues and global warming and geopolitics The book concludes by considering the future including the lessons learned from history where we are most likely to be heading and what steps we can take to mitigate potential energy risks This Handbook will be an invaluable resource for upper level graduates and postgraduate scholars The Europeanization of National Policies and Politics of Immigration T. Faist, A. Ette, 2007-02-28 The Europeanization of National Policies and Politics of Immigration is the first cutting edge volume presenting a comparative empirical investigation on the impact of the EU on migration policy at national level Revealing striking differences this collection examines traditional member states new member states as well as non member states

The Politics of African Industrial Policy Lindsay Whitfield, Ole Therkildsen, Lars Buur, Anne Mette Kjær, 2015-07-02 This book engages in the debate on growth versus economic transformation and the importance of industrial policy presenting a comprehensive framework for explaining the politics of industrial policy Using comparative research to theorize about the politics of industrial policy in countries in the early stages of capitalist transformation that also experience the pressures of elections due to democratization this book provides four in depth African country studies that illustrate the challenges to economic transformation and the politics of implementing industrial policies
