Religion And Ritual In Chinese Society:

Religion and Ritual in Chinese Society Arthur P. Wolf, 1996 Religion and Ritual in Chinese Society Emily M. Ahern, 1974 Taoist Ritual in Chinese Society and History John Lagerwey, 1987 This is the first comprehensive English language introduction to Taoist ritual both for the scholar and the general reader In this splendid account Taoism is presented as a system of religious symbol and action deeply rooted in centuries of Chinese social life In vivid detail Lagerwey describes the intricacies of Taoist rituals as performed by a single Taoist priest in present day Taiwan With the methodology of a literary critic he explains what the Taoist priests have done and continue to do as intercessors acting to protect their communities and what these beliefs and practices mean to the followers China John Lagerwey, 2010-12-01 Over the last 40 years our vision of Chinese culture and history has been transformed by the discovery of the role of religion in Chinese state making and in local society The Daoist religion in particular long despised as superstitious has recovered its place as the native higher religion But while the Chinese state tried from the fifth century on to construct an orthodoxy based on Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism local society everywhere carved out for itself its own geomantically defined space and organized itself around local festivals in honor of gods of its own choosing gods who were often invented and then represented by illiterate mediums Looking at China from the point of view of elite or popular culture therefore produces very different results John Lagerwey has done extensive fieldwork on local society and its festivals This book represents a first attempt to use this new research to integrate top down and bottom up views of Chinese society culture and history It should be of interest to a wide range of China specialists students of religion and popular culture as well as participants in the ongoing interdisciplinary dialogue between historians and anthropologists John Lagerwey is professor of Daoist history at the cole Pratique des Hautes tudes and of Chinese studies at the Chinese University of Hong Kong He is author of Taoist Ritual in Chinese Society and History and editor of the 30 volume Traditional Hakka Society Series as well as the recently published four volume set Early Chinese Religion Religion and Chinese Society Vol. 2 John Lagerwey, 2021-09-24 Thirty years ago Hu Shih's views of Chinese society and history were representative of Sinology in general China itself had no native religion just local customs its only real religion was an import Buddhism These views have now been completely overturned with massive implications for our understanding not only of China but also of humanity as a whole it is no longer possible to imagine that at least one major traditional society constructed and construed itself without reference to a non mundane world that permeated every facet of society and it therefore becomes indispensable for students of China to take the history of Chinese religion into account and for students of religion to take into account the Chinese experience of and Chinese categories for dealing with religious phenomena The present volumes contain a selection of twenty one essays presented in a conference convened jointly by the Ecole française d'Extrême Orient and the Centre for the Study of Religion and Chinese Society of the Chinese University of Hong Kong on Religion and Chinese Society The Transformation of a Field and Its

History and Magical Power in a Chinese Community P. Sangren, 1987-09-01 This book is a case study of history and culture in the Taiwanese town of Ta ch i and the group of rural villages that constitute its standard marketing community However its scope exceeds that of most community studies The author attempts to construct a holistic view of Chinese culture from an analysis of the relationship between history and ritual in a particular locality The author argues that social institutions and collective representations are dialectically connected in the process of social and cultural reproduction He describes this dialectical process through an analysis of the key cultural concept of ling the magical power attributed to ghosts gods and ancestors In analyzing the symbolic logic of ling he asserts that it can be fully understood only as a product of the reproduction of social institutions and as a manifestation of a native historical consciousness Structuralist and Marxist insights are combined to explain how ling is best understood as both a cultural logic of symbolic relations and a material logic of social relations The book is in three parts Part I is a social and economic history that outlines what one might call an objectivist or positivist view of Ta ch i s history describing events as they were regardless of the perceptions of local participants This material is a background to the synchronic sociological analysis of local territorial cults that constitutes Part II In Part III the author unsettles the objectivist assumptions of Part I by showing how the idiom of ling underlies Taiwanese constructions of history and identity and how the cultural construction of history dialectically reproduces society and creates history The book is illustrated with 8 pages of photographs 17 line drawings and 9 maps

Chinese Death Rituals in Singapore Tong Chee Kiong, 2004-03-01 Through a cultural analysis of the symbols of death flesh blood bones souls time numbers food and money Chinese Death Rituals in Singapore throws light upon the Chinese perception of death and how they cope with its eventuality In the seeming mass of religious rituals and beliefs it suggests that there is an underlying logic to the rituals This in turn leads Kiong to examine the interrelationship between death and the socioeconomic value system of China as a whole
