Religion Education And Adolescence International And Empirical Perspectives:

Religion, Education and Adolescence Leslie J. Francis, Jeff Astley, Mandy Robbins, 2005 Religion, Education, and Adolescence John Rowlands, 2005-02 Religious diversity religious enthusiasm and religious misunderstanding remain at the heart of so much social economic and political conflict in the world today Never before has religious education been so important significance of listening to the religious perceptions of adolescents using the best research techniques pioneered by the empirical social sciences including sociology psychology and anthropology the International Seminar of Religious Education and Values draws together Christian Islamic and Jewish perspectives from England Germany Israel Norway Turkey and Wales Religion, Education and Adolescence Leslie J. Francis, Jeff Astley, Mandy Robbins, 2005 Religious Education in a World of Religious Diversity Wilna A.J. Meijer, Siebren Miedema, Alma Lanser-van der Velde, 2009 This volume brings together a selection of papers presented at the Fifteenth Session of the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values ISREV which took place in 2006 in Driebergen the Netherlands addressing the theme Religious Education in a World of Religious Diversity The authors were invited to combine the concept of diversity with the dimensions of temporality of time and history in reworking their contributions for this book This temporal aspect is in a sense inherent in educational thinking On the one hand education as intergenerational transmission has a conservative aspect tradition being what is actually and presently transmitted from the past and or what is considered worthwhile to be passed on On the other hand acknowledging the activity of students themselves as a prerequisite for any education to happen brings the open endedness and therefore the future into the pedagogical arena in terms of development learning reflection edification et cetera So the question answered in this volume is what does this inherent historicity mean for religious education as well as for the concept religion and religious diversity In answering this question the contributions represent the global character of the concern with religious diversity in relation to religious education and originate respectively from the following countries Canada Bhikkhu English United States Moran Latvia Ilshko Russia Kozyrev Germany Pirner South Africa Roux du Preez Ferguson Japan Omori Australia de Souza Turkey Sel uk and the Netherlands Meijer Miedema Religion and Youth Pink Dandelion, 2016-04-08 What is the future of religion given the responses of young people What impact do existing religious forms have on youth What kind of spirituality and religion are young people creating for themselves Religion and Youth presents an accessible guide to the key issues in the study of youth and religion including methodological perspectives It provides a key teaching text in these areas for undergraduates and a book of rigorous scholarship for postgraduates academics and practitioners Offering the first comprehensive international perspective on the sociology of youth and religion this book reveals key geographical and organisational variables as well as the complexities of the engagement between youth and religion The book is divided into six parts organised around central themes Generation X and their legacy The Big Picture surveys of belief and practice in the USA UK and Australia Expression how young people construct and live out their religion and spirituality Identity the role of religion in shaping young people's sense of self and social belonging Transmission passing on the faith or not Researching Youth Religion debates issues and techniques in researching young people's religion and spirituality James A Beckford writes the Foreword and Linda Woodhead the Epilogue The Empirical Science of Religious Education Mandy Robbins, Leslie Francis, 2016-01-22 The Empirical Science of Religious Education draws together a collection of innovative articles in the field of religious education which passed the editorial scrutiny of Professor Robert Jackson over the course of his impactful fourteen year career as editor of the British Journal of Religious Education These articles have made an enormous contribution to the international literature establishing of the empirical science of religious education as a research field The volume draws together organises and illustrates the contours of this emerging field and is an essential compendium which covers work in teacher education and teacher experience student understanding attitudes and values varieties of religious schooling and worldview and life interpretation Organised into ten thematic sections the contributors cover the field comprehensively and bring with them an international and reflexive approach to their research It is an essential resource for those practitioners and researchers who wish to access original and innovative research undertaken by way of ethnographic fieldwork practitioner research life history approaches to research psychological scales and measures and large surveys Particularly interested readers will be studying PGCE and masters level programmes in religious education as well as qualified religious educators undertaking continuing professional development

Youth in Europe: An international empirical study about the impact of religion on life orientation Hans-Georg Ziebertz, William K. Kay, 2005 This book draws upon empirical data collected from 10 000 adolescent young people in 10 European countries The first volume of this project was about young people's life perspectives and the second about their religious attitudes and practices The current and final volume of this cross cultural study connects both research dimensions The analyses make clear that the influence of religion on values life orientation and politics differs strongly between different groups within Christianity and between Christians Jews and Muslims Many findings contain obvious surprises because they refute mainstream opinion on many topics The book gives detailed and new insights in the public relevance of the religiosity of young people across Europe All three volumes together are indispensable for scholars who work in public religious and educational contexts Young People and the Diversity of (Non)Religious Identities in International Perspective Elisabeth Arweck, Heather Shipley, 2019-07-11 This volume brings together current research on young people non religion and diversity documenting the forms young people's stances may take and the social or spatial contexts in which these may be formed The social contexts studied include the family school and faith communities The spatial contexts include sub urban and rural geographies and places of worship and pilgrimage Youth and non religion are an area of academic interest that has been gaining increasing attention especially as it pertains to youthful expressions of non religion and identities As research on religion and young people spans and expands across academic disciplines and across geographic areas comparative approaches and perspectives such as presented in this volume offer important spaces for reflecting about the experience of religiosity among young people and the ways they are learning about and developing non religious identities Building bridges geographically and methodologically this volume provides an international perspective on religion and nonreligion among young people offering a diversity of religious and nonreligious perspectives Religion, Education and Society Elisabeth Arweck, Robert Jackson, 2016-03-16 This volume presents findings from recent research focusing on young people and the way they relate to religion in their education and upbringing The essays are diverse and multidisciplinary in terms of the religions they discuss including Christianity Islam and Sikhism the settings where young people reflect on religion the classroom youth club peer group families respective religious communities and wider society the different perspectives which relate to religious education and socialisation the teaching of RE the role of teachers in pupils lives the way teachers personal lives shape their approach to teaching school ethos and social context and the place and rationale of RE the contexts within which the authors work different national settings and various academic disciplines and the methodology used qualitative quantitative and mixed method approaches The authors make important contributions to the debate about the role of religious education in the curriculum They demonstrate the crucially important formative influence of religious education in young people s lives which reaches well into their adulthood shaping religious and other identities and attitudes towards the other whatever that other may be This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Beliefs Values Researching RE Teachers. RE Teachers as Researchers Cok Bakker, Hans-Günter Heimbrock, 2007
