A Critical Analysis of the Efficacy of Law as a Tool to Achieve Gender Equality Natalie Persadie, 2012-07-26 Law is often perceived as an instrument that can effect social change While this might be so it must be complemented by the necessary financial and human resources to make the law effective Natalie Persadie explains that among developing countries such as Trinidad and Tobago the achievement of legal advances for women at either the international or national levels is particularly difficult where practical measures are not subsequently implemented This is perhaps attributable to a lack of political will Important issues such as gender equality and domestic violence are not given priority and laws aimed at protecting women and promoting women's rights are ineffective scant or unenforced Gender justice can only be realized through a multilevel approach from above and more importantly from below as women have the potential to effect real national and international legal and institutional change to ensure gender equality at both levels
