Relocating the Remains Keith Piper, 1997 Relocating the Personal Barbara Kamler, 2001-02-22 A rich array of interesting ways to teach personal writing critically and in settings where it has typically been excluded Bodies in Code Mark B. N. Hansen, 2012-10-02 Bodies in Code explores how our bodies experience and adapt to digital environments

Cyberculture theorists have tended to overlook biological reality when talking about virtual reality and Mark B N Hansen's book shows what they've been missing Cyberspace is anchored in the body he argues and it's the body not high tech computer graphics that allows a person to feel like they are really moving through virtual reality Of course these virtual experiences are also profoundly affecting our very understanding of what it means to live as embodied beings Hansen draws upon recent work in visual culture cognitive science and new media studies as well as examples of computer graphics websites and new media art to show how our bodies are in some ways already becoming virtual Donald Rodney Richard Birkett, 2023-05-30 An illustrated examination of Donald Rodney's seminal digital media work Autoicon 1997 2000 Donald Rodney's Autoicon a work originally produced as both a website and CD ROM was conceived by the artist in the mid 1990s but not completed until two years after his death in 1998 Referencing Jeremy Bentham's infamous nineteenth century Auto Icon the work proposes an extension of the personhood and presence of Rodney while critically challenging dominant conceptions of the self the body and historicity Grounded in a partial collection of medical documents that constitute biomedicine's attempts to comprehensively know and maintain Rodney's body during his lifelong experience of sickle cell anemia Autoicon pursues the artist's address from the mid 1980s onward of the British social and institutional body's cellular composition through racialized biopolitical power Autoicon consists of a Java based AI and neural network that engages the user in text based chat and provides responses by drawing from a dense body of data points related to Rodney and his work including documentation of artworks medical records interviews images notes and video Pulling both from this internal archive and the external archive of the Internet a montage machine composes constantly mutating images according to a rule based system established around Rodney's working process In this One Work edition curator Richard Birkett traces the distinct contemporary presence of Autoicon and the ideas and relations that emerged around its conception before and after Rodney's death particularly linking the work to the artist's seminal 1997 exhibition 9 Night in Eldorado Birkett addresses Autoicon as both an index of entangled social and material relations around Rodney a form of dispersed memory and a vector of critical creative production that continues to resonate with contemporary artistic practices and radical thought While attuned to late twentieth century discourse around the body's dissolution into the virtual and the technological potential for extending consciousness in its content and structure Autoicon locates these discourses of the human and posthuman in relation to the durable productive forces of post Enlightenment racialization and ableism The workings of the mind that Autoicon presents are intrinsically tied to Rodney s wider use in his work of bodily matter and genealogically bound to a Black history of displacement dispossession and resistance experienced physiologically socially and familially by the artist Autoicon offers up a counter manifestation of the subject as formed and multiplied through temporal disjuncture affectability and acts of preservation care and collectivity

Echoes of Harbin Dan Ben-Canaan,2024-03-06 Echoes of Harbin Reflections on Space and Time of a Vanished Community in Manchuria deals with Harbin a Chinese city that was established by Russians in 1898 and was a home for 38 different national ethnic communities for more than 60 years Among the communities and second in size was the Jewish community This book exposes several areas that have contributed to the Jewish experience in China particularly in Harbin and paints a revealing picture of what a Jewish community in an alien land was and how it functioned in a space that was shared with other communities While it starts with a unique space called Manchuria that had its mark on the town of Harbin it uncovers the active and productive life of a community that wished for a haven but found unrest and hostilities and had to look for it elsewhere

Relocating Consciousness Daphne M. Grace,2007-01-01 This book deals directly with issues of consciousness within works of postcolonial and diasporic writers It discusses fiction autobiography and theory to re formulate a writing of consciousness addressing contemporary cultural theory related to a wide range of dynamic writers and ground breaking novels A critical analysis of literature contextualises consciousness understood here as the source of language and human creativity and explores ways in which consciousness is involved in the creative process Tackling the controversial nature of consciousness itself the book argues that consciousness must be understood in its philosophical and social contexts The idea of relocating consciousness calls for a new aesthetics and ethics of living in the diasporic world where we are all to some extent migrant The book explores notions of consciousness as alternative narrative structures to society while expanding contemporary postcolonial theory beyond the limited dimension of power based on violence to a more visionary exploration of experience based on consciousness as unity in diversity Themes explored include sacred experience as empowerment trauma terror and the impact of consciousness cosmopolitanism and globalisation and the literature of human survival Written in a lively and accessible manner the book will appeal to all readers who enjoy being on the cutting edge of contemporary world literature
