Darwin's Savages Matthew Carr, 2025-05-29 In December 1832 Charles Darwin sailed into Tierra del Fuego down at the tip of South America and encountered Indians for the first time I would not have believed how entire the difference between savage and civilised man is he wrote It is greater than between a wild and a domesticated animal But he was shocked by the war of extermination he witnessed in northern Patagonia waged by the colonising army of Buenos Aires Darwin's Savages explores how these experiences influenced Darwin's writings as well as the justifications for racial exterminations that others drew from his work In a sweeping account of soldiers missionaries anthropologists and skullcollecting scientists Matthew Carr traces the connections between colonial expansionism and scientific racism and the tragic extinction of indigenous peoples in one of the most remote places on Earth Combining travelogue history and essay this is a compelling journey through Patagonia past and present from indigenous graveyards and military memorials to archaeological sites and natural history museums Amid global battles for historical memory culture wars over race and empire and ongoing struggles for indigenous rights Carr chronicles the conquest of Argentina's First Peoples and the ideas that made it possible

Darwinism in Argentina Leila Gómez, 2012 Darwinism in Argentina Major Texts 1845 1909 brings together essays letters short stories and public lectures by travelers scientists writers and politicians about Darwin and the theory of evolution in nineteenth century Argentina This selection of texts provides a thorough overview of the socio ideological implications of the theory of evolution in South America as well as the intellectual debate this scientific theory promoted in the discourses of fiction law history and medicine in the formation of modern Argentina Some writers in this book considered the theory of evolution to be Argentinean because Darwin first conceived his theory traveling in the Beagle across the big cemetery of glyptodont and megatherium fossils on the pampas and in Patagonia This anthology includes texts from William H Hudson Francisco Mu iz Florentino Ameghino Eduardo Holmberg Domingo F Sarmiento Hermann Burmeister the Perito Moreno Leopoldo Lugones Jos Mar a Ramos Mej a and Jos Ingenieros among others Many of these texts have not been translated to English or reprinted until this edition which was originally published with fewer texts in Spanish in 2008 Leila G me z's introduction reconstructs the historical scientific contexts of the Darwinist debate in Argentina the role of paleontology as modern discipline in South American countries and the tensions between metropolitan and local scientific knowledge Both the anthology and the introduction present a panorama of Darwin and evolution in Argentina and the complex mechanism of inclusion and exclusion of indigenous African descendants mestizos and immigrants in the modern nation Darwinism in Argentina provides critical perspectives on evolutionism in South America that will interest students and specialists in literature history and science

Cultural Phylogenetics Larissa Mendoza Straffon, 2016-02-10 This book explores the potential and challenges of implementing evolutionary phylogenetic methods in archaeological research by discussing key concepts and presenting concrete applications of these approaches The volume is divided into two parts The first covers the theoretical and conceptual implications of using evolution based models in the sociocultural domain illustrates the sorts of questions that these methods can help answer and invites the reader to reflect on the opportunities and limitations of these perspectives The second part comprises case studies that address relevant empirical issues such as inferring patterns and rates of cultural transmission detecting selective pressures in cultural evolution and explaining the nature of cultural variation This book will appeal to archaeologists interested in applying evolutionary thinking and inferential methods to their field and to anyone interested in cultural evolution studies Los viajes del perito Moreno

Marta Cichero,2000 Collecting from the Margins María Mercedes Andrade,2016-03-23 From the cabinets of wonder of the Renaissance to the souvenir collections of today selecting accumulating and organizing objects are practices that are central to our notions of who we are and what we value Collecting both private and institutional has been instrumental in the consolidation of modern notions of the individual and of the nation and numerous studies have discussed its complex political social economic anthropological and psychological implications However studies of collecting as practiced in colonized cultures are few since the role of these cultures has usually been understood as that of purveyors of objects for the metropolitan collector Collecting from the Margins Material Culture in a Latin American Context seeks to counter the historical understanding of collecting that posits the metropolis as collecting subject and the colonial or postcolonial society as supplier of collectible objects by asking instead how collecting has been practiced and understood in Latin America Has collecting been viewed or portrayed differently in a Latin American context Does the act of collecting when viewed from a Latin American perspective unsettle the way we have become accustomed to think about it What differences if any arise in the activity of collecting in colonized or previously colonial societies Spanning the period after the independence wars until the 1980s this collection of ten essays addresses a broad range of examples of collecting practices in Latin America Collecting during the nineteenth century is addressed in discussions of the creation of the first national museums of Argentina and Colombia in the post independence period as well as in analyses of the private collections of modernistas such as Enrique G me z Carrillo Rub n Dar o Jos Asunci n Silva and Delmira Agustini at the end of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth The practice of collecting in the twentieth century is discussed in analyses of the self described revolutionary practices of Oswald de Andrade Augusto de Campos and the films of Ruy Guerra as well as the polemical collections of Pablo Neruda and the unsettling collections portrayed in Gabriel Garc a M rquez s One Hundred Years of Solitude De guerreros a delincuentes María F.
