Infant Baptism in Reformation Geneva Karen E. Spierling, 2017-03-02 This book examines the beliefs practices and arguments surrounding the ritual of infant baptism and the raising of children in Geneva during the period of John Calvin's tenure as leader of the Reformed Church 1536 1564 It focuses particularly on the years from 1541 onward after Calvin's return to Geneva and the formation of the Consistory The work is based on sources housed primarily in the Genevan State Archives including the registers of the Consistory and the City Council While the time period of the study may be limited the approach is broad encompassing issues of theology church ritual and practices the histories of family and children and the power struggles involved in transforming not simply a church institution but the entire community surrounding it The overarching argument presented is that the ordinances and practices surrounding baptism present a framework for relations among child parents godparents church and city The design of the baptismal ceremony including liturgy participants and location provided a blueprint of the reformers vision of a well ordered community To comprehend fully the development and spread of Calvinism it is necessary to understand the context of its origins and how the ideas of Calvin and his Reformed colleagues were received in Geneva before they were disseminated throughout Europe and the world In a broad sense this project explores the tensions among church leaders city authorities parents relatives and neighbours regarding the upbringing of children in Reformed Geneva More specifically it studies the practice of infant baptism as manifested in the baptism ceremony in Geneva the ongoing practices of Catholic baptism in neighbouring areas and the similarities and tensions between these two rituals

Children and Childhood in Western Society Since 1500 Hugh Cunningham, 2020-06-10 Updated to incorporate recent scholarship on the subject this new edition of Hugh Cunningham's classic text investigates the relationship between ideas about childhood and the actual experience of being a child and assesses how it has changed over the span of 500 years Through his engaging narrative Hugh Cunningham tells the story of the development of ideas from the Renaissance to the present revealing considerable differences in the way Western societies have understood and valued childhood over time His survey of parent child relationships uncovers evidence of parental love care and in the frequent cases of child death grief throughout the period concluding that there was as much continuity as change in the actual relations of children and adults across these five centuries Since the book's first publication in 1995 the volume of historical research on children and childhood has escalated hugely and is testimony to the level of concern provoked by the dominance of the negative narrative that originated in the 1970s and 1980s A new epilogue revisits the volume from today's perspective analysing why this negative narrative established dominance in Western society and considering how it has affected historical writing about children and childhood enabling the reader to put both this volume and recent debates into context Supported by an updated historiographical discussion and expanded bibliography Children and Childhood in Western Society since 1500 remains an essential resource for students of the history of childhood the history of the family social history and gender history Women, Fertility, and Maternal Art in Renaissance Florence Costanza Gislon Doppel, 2024-12-24 Women Fertility and Maternal Art in Renaissance Florence examines maternity centered art to reveal women's crucial function in saving Florence from a depopulation catastrophe. Nativity and Madonna and Child images that graced many households and chapels in Florentine society formed a program of visual indoctrination championing a birth epic that glorified the social duty of reproduction but dismissed its high risk. As images emphasizing women's reproductive value multiplied throughout the century, the accounts of their deaths in childbirth and the records of their elaborate public funerals present these mothers as new examples of self sacrifice and martyrdom. This book re-centers the history of the Renaissance around women and their bodies both as subjects of artistic representation and as critical but ignored contributors to Florentine society. It proposes a more inclusive vision of an era that is still too often addressed exclusively via the history of its male artists, bankers and merchants. Women Fertility and Maternal Art in Renaissance Florence appeals to both students and scholars in field of art history, social history, Renaissance art and gender studies and also the general reader who has an interest in these areas.

Medieval and Renaissance Lactations Jutta Gisela Sperling, 2016-04-22 The premise of this volume is that the ubiquity of lactation imagery in early modern visual culture and the discourse on breastfeeding in humanist, religious, medical and literary writings is a distinct cultural phenomenon that deserves systematic study. Chapters by art historians, social and legal historians, historians of science and literary scholars explore some of the ambiguities and contradictions surrounding the issue and point to the need for further study, in particular in the realm of lactation imagery in the visual arts. This volume builds on existing scholarship on representations of the breast, the iconography of the Madonna Lactans, allegories of abundance, nature and charity, women mystics, food centered practices of devotion, the ubiquitous practice of wet nursing and medical theories of conception. It is informed by studies on queer kinship in early modern Europe, notions of sacred eroticism in pre-tridentine Catholicism, feminist investigations of breastfeeding as a sexual practice and by anthropological and historical scholarship on milk exchange and ritual kinship in ancient Mediterranean and medieval Islamic societies. Proposing a variety of different methods and analytical frameworks within which to consider instances of lactation imagery, breastfeeding practices and their textual references, this volume also offers tools to support further research on the topic.

A Companion to Paul in the Reformation R. Ward Holder, 2009-04-24 The reception and interpretation of the writings of St Paul in the early modern period forms the subject of this volume, from late medieval Paulinism and the beginnings of humanist biblical scholarship and interpretation through the ways that theologians of various confessions considered Paul. Beyond the ways that theological voices construed Paul, several articles examine how Pauline texts impacted other areas of early modern life, such as political thought, the regulation of family life and the care of the poor. Throughout the volume, it makes clear the importance of Paul for all of the confessions and denies the confessionalism of previous historiography. The chapters written by experts in the field offer a critical overview of current research and introduce the major themes in Pauline interpretation in the Reformation and how they are being interpreted at the start of the 21st century Honorable Mention Roland H Bainton Book Prize 2010 Category Reference Works Domestic Devotions in Early Modern Italy ,2018-11-01 Domestic Devotions in Early Modern Italy illuminates the vibrancy of spiritual beliefs and practices which profoundly shaped family life in this era Scholarship on Catholicism has tended to focus on institutions but the home was the site of religious instruction and reading prayer and meditation communal worship multi sensory devotions contemplation of religious images and the performance of rituals as well as extraordinary events such as miracles Drawing on a wide range of sources this volume affirms the central place of the household to spiritual life and reveals the myriad ways in which devotion met domestic needs The seventeen essays encompass religious history the histories of art and architecture material culture musicology literary history and social and cultural history Contributors are Erminia Ardissino Michele Bacci Michael J Brody Giorgio Caravale Maya Corry Remi Chiu Sabrina Corbellini Stefano Dall Aglio Marco Faini Iain Fenlon Irene Galandra Cooper Jane Garnett Joanna Kostylo Alessia Meneghin Margaret A Morse Elisa Novi Chavarria Gervase Rosser Zuzanna Sarnecka Katherine Tycz and Valeria Viola The Routledge History of Childhood in the Western World Paula S.
