Radiohead and more From the places themselves how they got their names what s happened there through the ages to the poems and parodies that it s inspired this is a beautifully evocative tribute to one of Britain s and Radio 4 s best loved broadcasts Lost Sounds Alan Renton,2001-04 Lost Sounds visits a number of lighthouses at different times over the last 130 years to reveal the philanthropic scientific and romantic story of the fog signal how it came about how the machinery worked and for the mariner and the keeper what it sounded like The development of fog signals complemented the expansion of lighthouse construction worldwide from the last quarter of the 19th century and represented the attempt to provide a vital navigation aid to mariners when the beam of light from the lighthouse lens was obscured by fog Lost Sounds reveals the practical development of sound signals from the early percussion instruments to the later succession of compressed air sirens and diaphones through to the last remaining electric emitters But it is much more than that it is a record of another part of maritime history Coade Stone Howell G. M. Edwards,Christopher J. Brooke,2024-10-25 The history and nature of artificial stone for use in architecture is a subject still shrouded in myth and misconception This book aims to lay bare those misconceptions and present a scientific and architectural account of these materials and especially Coade Stone the most successful of all which found great favour during the Georgian period Many examples of Coade Stone cast sculpture still exist and several key examples are presented in context and as case studies Eleanor Coade s artificial stone was so good that many observers could not distinguish it from the natural stone it replaced the growth in replication of the neo classical statuary and building adornment required in the late Georgian and Regency period was well satisfied by the use of Coade stone A holistic evaluation of Coade stone artefacts is undertaken whereby the use of analytical data historical documentation invoices company records impressed marks and expert connoisseurship will establish the attribution of Coade stone artefacts some of which are currently in the unknown category Several new scientific analyses are presented that demonstrate the true nature of high temperature fired ceramic Coade Stone and allow comparison with other forms of artificial stone such as the cold cured cementitious variations which eventually replaced it in the Victorian period Blood on the Wave John Sadler,2012-11-05 A history of combat in Scottish waters from the Iron Age to the Cold War and the changes in the technology and tactics of naval warfare Scotland s long coastline runs from the waters of Galloway and the Solway through the Irish Sea to the long sea lochs and myriad islands of the Celtic west around grim Cape Wrath the coast of Caithness Pentland Firth and the Orkneys eastward down to the Moray Firth the eastern seaboard to the Forth and the sentinel of the Bass Rock It is an ancient strand redolent with history Sea battles have been fought in its lee from the time of Agricola to the Atlantic convoys In Blood on the Wave John Sadler embarks on a pilgrimage around Scotland s rugged and stunning coastline to explore the fascinating history that has occurred in its waters Beautifully illustrated throughout with photographs and line drawings the narrative also describes developments in ship building technique and design developments in naval gunnery with a look at coastal defenses From the long oared Norse galleys that swept down through the isles and the sea lochs to
