Rocky Mountain Railroad Memories:

Rocky Mountain Railroad Memories Ed Fulcomer, 1990 A Memory of Trains Louis Decimus Rubin (Jr.), 2000 The author a literary critic and historian uses over 100 of his own photographs to recall his life long love of trains Railfan & Railroad, 2001 Publishers Directory, 1994 Memoirs of Myths and Truths Carl B. Allen, 2008-07 Memoirs of Myths and Truths in an Ordinary Pebble's Extraordinary Life We find the author considers himself an ordinary pebble among others of his time who has gone on a desperate search for love and approval But even an ordinary pebbles like him can have an extraordinary life because he is not ordinary from the start finding at an early age confusion and embarrassment regarding whether an accident or his mind makes him that way It's not until into his young adult stream does he discover another reason for his rebel behavior in school and life Which as a reader you'll recognize some problems in the text of the book cover and in the book's written words or spelling or sentence structure being a struggle You'll see it's not his schooling it's his battle with being dyslexic Yet there is some great writing and inspiration plus the help of a few photos to bring you into his or your memories and times when some myths emerged from stories and some being real truths Pebbles we all are truths are maybe what we think they should be and myths are longer lasting then we may know The author finds himself slowly aware of being in his September years having a sense of belonging to the past and present but a much shorter future With that comes a sense of family and the closeness of friends which has brought him to this place of wonderment that has continued from those wonderful years of youth They have brought him to these joyous thoughts while writing these memoirs and making reflecting on his extraordinary life Starting at first writing this for all his kin and others within that stream surround him but then realize other pebbles of this time can bring back some reflection on these times with a little smile some sadness and reflection too He may have wandered through those youthful years winding through life's paths and finding some running on empty or full or too fast or too slow at the time like the automobiles of the day His nurturing as a child not always satisfying resulted in the building many protective walls around his self Yet like James Dean in East of Eden or Rebel Without a Cause or Giant there was this desperate search for love and approval not always available for many reasons and questionable behavior leading to myths or truths Seeking his own needs while being an ordinary pebble has resulted in finding an extraordinary life There is an expression of views from his heart and mind trying to embrace so much of that extraordinary life that lies hidden deeper within his self and yet always trying to hold and consider that these are parts of his life whether shining with beauty or happiness or sadness finding only to be viewed as an expression of soul He has tried painting but now the written word in expressing some of those myths spoken truths found within the soul and trusted memories They carry simple but complex myths in the life of an ordinary pebble always amazed by the course of the streams found These memoirs are a reflection of our times history love for the automobile then adding the racing with many encounters with lovers and places that have been traveled that brings this extraordinary life into view The book is about people encountered in his life's stream the persons who have enriched this life and helped him to find out who he is. Also that going through this journey gathering memories myths or truths these moments sustained his notion of an ordinary pebble's extraordinary life. These events have allowed reflection on moral issues and things that are questionable judgment. He hopes that you enjoy this time traveling in this stream. Pebbles we are yet we are still the most important part in those streams surrounding us. Finding most everyone else's lives continue similarly within those same small streams we live in rubbing shoulders and sharing our life's stream with others matter more than we know because as others enrich our lives we can do

Creating Memory John Warkentin, 2010 Toronto has over 600 public outdoor sculptures works of art that provide a sense of the rich variety of life and work in the city its peoples cultures and aspirations. Interest in commissioning public sculpture began slowly in the nineteenth and early twentieth century but increased rapidly after the 1950s. This is a book about the sculptures and how they disclose the city to itself. Creating Memory's two introductory sections examine the factors behind this expansion over time and the changes in style as one generation of sculptors succeeded another. It looks at the reasons behind the changes as sculptures were conceived sculpted and erected. More than 10 categories of sculptures are defined and discussed including Founding the City Natural Environment Immigration Ethnic Groups Economic Activities Disaster and Calamity War And Conflict Leaders Ordinary Citizens Community Life and Works of the Imagination.

Meaningful Memories John G. Kelly, 2022-03-17 Nostalgia learning experiences meaningful memories. This book is filled with these from a man who grew up in a strong Irish Catholic community in the North End of Saint John in the 1950s and 1960s went on to practise law and then become a law professor and consultant in Toronto and most recently joyfully embraced RVing and living in an active retirement community. But besides dusting these memories off for enjoyment John G. Kelly has a larger purpose. By cleverly showing how his past experiences and even his F A I L's first attempts in learning have positively impacted his future he demonstrates how we can all learn from our past and use this knowledge to live life to the fullest as a member of an active caring community. Filled with humorous anecdotes recollections of a bygone era reflections on community and a unique outlook on how to get the most from life. Meaningful Memories has something for anyone who likes a good story. However for anyone from Saint John New Brunswick or who grew up in any of the Atlantic provinces for that matter fellow RVers or 65 young olds YOLDS looking to enjoy active retirement to the fullest you will not be able to put this book down.

Biographical Memoirs National Academy of Sciences (U.S.), 1919 List of papers contained in v 1 9 is given in National Academy of Sciences Proceedings Index 1915-24 1926. Sermons in Memory of Theodore Parker, 1860

Placing Memory and Remembering Place in Canada James Opp, John C. Walsh, 2010-11-01 Placing Memory and Remembering Place in Canada maps a fascinating terrain in memory studies by shifting the focus from nation and empire to local places that sit at the intersection of memory making and identity formation main streets city squares village museums internment camps industrial wastelands and the rural landscape. While offering a unique perspective on the politics of place and memory across differing chronologies and geographies the first part of the book Commemorations traces how local expressions of memory such as celebrations museums statues postcards and plaques have contributed to a sense of place and belonging in twentieth century Canada The second part Inscriptions in turn explores how ordinary Canadians have embedded their memories of place in oral stories photographs and the landscape itself With its focus on the materiality of image text and artefact these essays argue for an understanding of place as imagined made claimed fought for and defended always in a state of becoming
