Rolling in Ditches with Shamans Wendy Leeds-Hurwitz, 2004-01-01 Rolling in Ditches with Shamans charts American anthropology in the 1920s through the life and work of one of the amateur scholars of the time Jaime de Angulo 1887 1950 Although he earned a medical degree de Angulo chose to live on an isolated ranch in Big Sur California where he participated fully in the lives of the people who were his ethnographic informants The period of his most extensive research coincides almost perfectly with the professionalization of anthropology and de Angulo provides a link between those who are generally recognized as the most important figures of the day Franz Boas Alfred Kroeber and Edward Sapir The fields of salvage ethnography and linguistics which Boas emphasized were aimed at recording the culture language and myths of the Native groups before they became completely acculturated In keeping with these dictates de Angulo recorded data from thirty groups mostly in California which otherwise might have been lost In an unusual move for that time he also wrote fiction and poetry describing the modern lives of the people he studied something of little interest to Boas but of great interest today His most enduring work is Indian Tales a fictional synthesis of myths learned from various California Indians De Angulo's range of interests originality and expertise exemplified the curiosity and brilliance of those who pioneered American anthropology at this time

The 1904

Anthropology Days and Olympic Games Susan Brownell, 2008-12-01 One of the more problematic sport spectacles in American history took place at the 1904 World's Fair in St Louis which included the third modern Olympic Games. Associated with the Games was a curious event known as Anthropology Days organized by William J McGee and James Sullivan. At that time the leading figures in American anthropology and sports respectively McGee recruited Natives who were participating in the fair's ethnic displays to compete in sports events with the scientific goal of measuring the physical prowess of savages as compared with civilized men. This interdisciplinary collection of essays assesses the ideas about race imperialism and Western civilization manifested in the 1904 World's Fair and Olympic Games and shows how they are still relevant. A turning point in both the history of the Olympics and the development of modern anthropology these games expressed the conflict between the Old World emphasis on culture and New World emphasis on utilitarianism. Marked by Franz Boas's paper at the Scientific Congress the events in St Louis witnessed the beginning of the shift in anthropological research from nineteenth century evolutionary racial models to the cultural relativist paradigm that is now a cornerstone of modern American anthropology. Racist pseudoscience nonetheless reappears to this day in the realm of sports. Truth and Power in American Archaeology Alice Beck Kehoe, Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication. Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories. Returns James Clifford, 2013-11-04 Returns third in a trilogy explores the ways people recover and renew their roots. James Clifford looks at native peoples who have become not victims but inventive agents of a tangled open ended modernity. Their returns to the land performances of heritage and diasporic ties are strategies for moving toward traditional futures. Turning on the Power Nathan Sowry, 1980 Presents examples of expandable power in job activities and work activities. Based on Dr Rosabeth Moss Kanter's pioneering management studies. American Anthropology and Company Stephen O. Murray, 2018-08-01 In American Anthropology and Company linguist and sociologist Stephen O Murray explores the connections between anthropology linguistics sociology psychology and history in broad ranging essays on the history of anthropology and allied disciplines. On subjects ranging from Native American linguistics to the pitfalls of American Latin American and East Asian fieldwork among other topics American Anthropology and Company presents the views of a historian of anthropology interested in the theoretical and institutional connections between disciplines that have always been in conversation with anthropology. Recurring characters include Edward Sapir Alfred Kroeber Robert Redfield W I and Dorothy Thomas and William Ogburn. While histories of anthropology rarely cross disciplinary boundaries Murray moves in essay after essay toward an examination of the institutions theories and social networks of scholars as never before maintaining a healthy skepticism toward anthropologists views of their own methods and theories. The Enigma of Max Gluckman Robert J. Gordon, 2018-09 2019 Choice Outstanding Academic Title The Enigma of Max Gluckman examines one of the most influential British anthropologists of the twentieth century. South

African born Max Gluckman was the founder of what became known as the Manchester School of social anthropology a key figure in the anthropology of anticolonialism and conflict theory in southern Africa and one of the most prolific structuralist and Marxist anthropologists of his generation From his position at Oxford University as graduate student and lecturer to his career at Manchester Gluckman was known to be generous and engaged with his closest colleagues but brutish and hostile in his denunciations of their work if it did not contribute to the social justice and activist vision he held for the discipline Conventional histories of anthropology have treated Gluckman as an outlier from mainstream British social anthropology based on his career at the University of Manchester and his gruff manner He was certainly not the colonial gentleman typical of his British colleagues in the field Gluckman was deeply engaged with field research in southern Africa on the Zulus in Barotseland with the Lozi and also in connection with his directorship of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute from 1941 to 1947 which obscured his growing critique of anthropology s methods and ties to Western colonialism and racial oppression in the subcontinent Robert J Gordon s biography skillfully reexamines the colorful life of Max Gluckman and restores his career in the British anthropological tradition Ruth Benedict Virginia Heyer Young,2005-01-01 Benedict s work in fact anticipated trends in anthropology in the decades to come by projecting a framework of individuals not only shaped by their culture but also using their culture for personal or collective objectives BOOK JACKET Homo Imperii Marina Mogilner,2020-04-01 It is widely assumed that the nonclassical nature of the Russian empire and its equally nonclassical modernity made Russian intellectuals immune to the racial obsessions of Western Europe and the United States Homo Imperii corrects this perception by offering the first scholarly history of racial science in prerevolutionary Russia and the early Soviet Union Marina Mogilner places this story in the context of imperial self modernization political and cultural debates of the epoch different reformist and revolutionary trends and the growing challenge of modern nationalism By focusing on the competing centers of race science in different cities and regions of the empire Homo Imperii introduces to English language scholars the institutional nexus of racial science in Russia that exhibits the influence of imperial strategic relativism Reminiscent of the work of anthropologists of empire such as Ann Stoler and Benedict Anderson Homo Imperii reveals the complex imperial dynamics of Russian physical anthropology and contributes an important comparative perspective from which to understand the emergence of racial science in nineteenth and twentieth century Europe and America Invisible Contrarian Regna Darnell, James Cowles Prichard of the Red Lodge Margaret M.
