Representation of the Chinese American Family Qijun Han, 2016-03-08 There has been an increasing recognition of the fluidity and ambiguity of ethnic identities within the context of global mobility With that in mind how have films constructed the identity of ethnic Chinese in the United States This book addresses this issue through three sub questions First why is the family narrative so characteristic of films about Chinese Americans in transnational Chinese cinema In other words how and why are images of Chinese or Chinese Americans in transnational Chinese cinema different from those in Hollywood movies Second how does transnational Chinese cinema define and negotiate the aesthetic conventions of melodrama commonly used to depict Chinese American families In terms of establishing melodrama as an evolving mode of how does Chinese American cinema historically connect with both Hollywood and Chinese cinema Third what have the narrative treatments of Chinese American families in transnational Chinese cinema contributed to the ongoing representation of Chinese culture and construction of ethnic Chinese identities in Western societies This book traverses fields such as cultural studies Chinese studies media studies American studies and film studies and engages with a select corpus of films from the 1990s to the 2000s directed by Chinese American Taiwanese and Hong Kong filmmakers and produced in the USA Taiwan Hong Kong and mainland China to analyze the role the American Chinese family plays in their work With sensitivity towards transnational bonds and historical processes a negotiation process of three sets of conflicting forces has subsequently emerged the traditional and the modern the national and the transnational and Chinese American identity crisis in favor of a Chinese identity or a true American identity Contrasting cultural beliefs undoubtedly create cross cultural and generational conflicts within the family yet also open the way to negotiation and compromise This research on the cinematic depiction of Chinese Americans reveals the historically significant transnational connection among Chinese American Chinese and American cultures On the one hand ethnic Chinese are represented by boundaries that establish and define the Chinese American community against other communities and yet on the other hand the representation of family life and structure of Chinese immigrants is multiple and fluid as culture itself is unstable and uncertain Therefore a process of fixation and a process of fluidity seem to take place at the same time The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory Hunter Vaughan, Tom

Conley, 2018-07-30 The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory offers a unique and progressive survey of screen theory and how it can be applied to a range of moving image texts and sociocultural contexts Focusing on the handbook angle the book includes only original essays from established authors in the field and new scholars on the cutting edge of helping screen theory evolve for the twenty first century vistas of new media social shifts and geopolitical change This method guarantees a strong foundation and clarity for the canon of film theory while also situating it as part of a larger genealogy of art theories and critical thought and reveals the relevance and utility of film theories and concepts to a wide array of expressive practices and specified arguments The Anthem Handbook of Screen Theory is at once inclusive applicable and a chance for writers to innovate and really play with where they think the field is can and should be heading

Land of Smoke and Mirrors Vincent Brook, 2013-01-22 Unlike the more forthrightly mythic origins of other urban centers think Rome via Romulus and Remus or Mexico City via the god Huitzilopochtli Los Angeles emerged from a smoke and mirrors process that is simultaneously literal and figurative real and imagined material and metaphorical physical and textual Through penetrating analysis and personal engagement Vincent Brook uncovers the many portraits of this ever enticing ever ambivalent and increasingly multicultural megalopolis Divided into sections that probe Los Angeles's checkered history and reflect on Hollywood's own self-reflections the book shows how the city despite considerable remaining challenges is finally blowing away some of the smoke of its not always proud past and rhetorically adjusting its rear view mirrors Part I is a review of the city's history through the early 1900s focusing on the seminal 1884 novel Ramona and its immediate effect but also exploring its ongoing impact through interviews with present-day Tongva Indians attendance at the 88th annual Ramona pageant and analysis of its feature film adaptations Brook deals with Hollywood as geographical site film production center and frame of mind in Part II He charts the events leading up to Hollywood's emergence as the world's movie capital and explores subsequent developments of the film industry from its golden age through the so-called New Hollywood citing such self-reflexive films as Sunset Blvd Singin' in the Rain and The Truman Show Part III considers LA noir a subset of film noir that emerged alongside the classical noir cycle in the 1940s and 1950s and continues today The city's status as a privileged noir site is analyzed in relation to its history and through discussions of such key LA noir novels and films as Double Indemnity Chinatown and Crash In Part IV Brook examines multicultural Los Angeles Using media texts as signposts he maps the history and contemporary situation of the city's major ethno-racial and other minority groups looking at such films as Mi Familia Latinos Boyz N the Hood African Americans Charlotte Sometimes Asians Falling Down Whites and The Kids Are All Right LGBT

Multicultural America Carlos E. Cortés, 2013-08-15 This comprehensive title is among the first to extensively use newly released 2010 U.S. Census data to examine multiculturalism today and tomorrow in America This distinction is important considering the following NPR report by Eyder Peralta Based on the first national numbers released by the Census Bureau the AP reports that minorities account for 90 percent of the total U.S. growth since 2000 due to immigration and higher birth rates for Latinos According to John Logan a Brown University sociologist who has analyzed most of the census figures The futures of most metropolitan areas in the country are contingent on how attractive they are to Hispanic and Asian populations Both non-Hispanic whites and blacks are getting older as a

Race, Ethnicity, and Language Data Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Care Services, Subcommittee on Standardized Collection of Race/Ethnicity Data for Healthcare Quality Improvement, 2009-12-30 The goal of eliminating disparities in health care in the United States remains elusive Even as quality improves on specific measures disparities often persist Addressing these disparities must begin with the fundamental step of bringing the nature of the disparities and the groups at risk for those disparities to light by collecting health care quality information stratified by race ethnicity and language data Then attention can be focused on where interventions might be best applied and on planning and evaluating those efforts to inform the development of policy and the application of resources A lack of standardization of categories for race ethnicity and language data has been suggested as one obstacle to achieving more widespread collection and utilization of these data Race Ethnicity and Language Data identifies current models for collecting and coding race ethnicity and language data reviews challenges involved in obtaining these data and makes recommendations for a nationally standardized approach for use in health care quality improvement
