A Long Way Down

Joe and Jade are tired. It has taken them a long time to climb the mountain, and although they are on the way down, they are still far from home.

Suddenly Joe stumbles on some loose rock.

Jade: Watch out! (Joe falls downwards)

Joe: Ow, that hurt!

Jade: (sounding sympathetic) Are you alright?

Joe: What do you think? (In a whisper) Sorry. I think I've twisted my ankle.

Jade: (anxiously) What shall we do? (Wrapping a scarf around his leg) Is that better?

Joe: A little.

Leaning on Jade he manages to limp down the hill. His ankle begins to swell.

Jade: Faster. It's getting very dark. Soon we won't be able to see the path.

Joe: (moaning) OK.

Jade: You're doing really well. Keep going.

Joe: I will keep going but it really hurts.

Children's Self-determination in the Context of Early Childhood Education and Services Federico Farini, Angela Scollan, 2019-06-26 This book investigates the position of young children's self-determination within a range of social contexts such as education, social care, mass media, health, politics, law and the family. It brings to the fore the voices of the children in the present with their interests, agendas and rights. Based on original primary research, the chapters tackle hegemonic discourses on children's self-determination as well as current policies and practices. They address a broad range of topics from the planning of role play to national policies from the use of digital technologies for pedagogy to children's health and well-being and from democratic practices in the classroom to the preservation of traditional family values. The book presents case studies to unravel how childhood and young children's self-determination are constructed at the intersection with intergenerational relationships. Coming from different disciplines and using a diverse range of methodological traditions, the contributions in the volume eventually converge to generate a rich, complex and multi-layered analysis of contemporary cultures of childhood and young children's rights. The Routledge International Handbook of Early Childhood Play Tina Bruce, Pentti Hakkarainen, Milda Bredikyte, 2017-06-14

Historical changes in play are taking place in childhood all over the world with the digitalisation of children's lives. Researchers are worried about the disappearance of advanced forms of play and the prioritization of time spent with loving adults supporting play with babies and toddlers. At the same time, our understanding about the crucial importance of individual development is becoming clearer. The Routledge International Handbook of Early Childhood Play explores these issues and more. It proposes the importance of adult participation in play as adult guidance brings the possibility of moral, cultural and symbolic elements to children's play and enhances the educational opportunities in adult-child joint play. The book also examines the aesthetic dimension of play and its role in the development of imagination and creativity. With contributors from many parts of the world, this unique handbook brings together the latest research and highlights practice which focuses on play. This is an essential and engaging read for all students, academics, teachers and practitioners with an interest in play. International Handbook of Early Childhood Education Marilyn Fleer, Bert van Oers, 2017-10-10

This international handbook gives a comprehensive overview of findings from longstanding and contemporary research, theory and practices in early childhood education in the Northern and Southern hemispheres. The first volume of the handbook addresses theory, methodology and the research activities and research needs of particular regions. The second volume examines in detail innovations and longstanding programs, curriculum and assessment and conceptions and research into child, family and communities. The two volumes of this handbook address the current theory, methodologies and research needs of specific countries and provide insight into existing global similarities in early childhood practices. By paying special attention to what is happening in the larger world contexts, the volumes provide a representative overview of early childhood education practices and research and redress the current North-South imbalance of published work on the subject. Play in the Early Years Marilyn Fleer, 2013-03-28

The Early Years Learning Framework is a key component of the Australian Government's National Quality Framework for early childhood education and care. Play-based learning is an important focus in both the Framework and in early childhood education degrees at Australian universities Play in the Early Years is a comprehensive study of pedagogy and play in early childhood education by a globally recognised leader in the field Marilyn Fleer examines how play has been thought about across time culture and institutions including in childcare family day care schools and community groups The book presents and analyses the latest research and theories about early childhood pedagogy and play Vignettes and real world examples help students connect theory to practice while end of chapter glossaries help to consolidate understanding of key concepts and ideas This is an accessible and engaging textbook that will be an invaluable resource for practitioners and undergraduate students of early childhood education Play and Literacy in Early Childhood Kathleen A.

Roskos,2017-07-05 This volume brings together studies research syntheses and critical commentaries that examine play literacy relationships from cognitive ecological and cultural perspectives The cognitive view focuses on mental processes that appear to link play and literacy activities the ecological stance examines opportunities to engage in literacy related play in specific environments and the social cultural position stresses the interface between the literacy and play cultures of home community and the school Examining play from these diverse perspectives provides a multidimensional view that deepens understanding and opens up new avenues for research and educational practice Each set of chapters is followed by a critical review by a distinguished play scholar These commentaries focus is to hold research on play and literacy up to scrutiny in terms of scientific significance methodology and utility for practice A Foreword by Margaret Meek situates these studies in the context of current trends in literacy learning and instruction Earlier studies on the role of play in early literacy acquisition provided considerable information about the types of reading and writing activities that children engage in during play and how this literacy play is affected by variables such as props peers and adults However they did not deal extensively as this book does with the functional significance of play in the literacy development of individual children This volume pushes the study of play and literacy into new areas It is indispensable reading for researchers and graduate students in the fields of early childhood education and early literacy development Five Plays from the Children's Theatre Company
