My Own Woman:

Woman's Friendship Grace Aguilar, 1851 Her Ladyship's Girl Anwyn Moyle, 2014-07-31 Anwyn Moyle was born at the end of the First World War in a small mining village in Wales. At the age of sixteen she was sent to London to earn her living where she found a live in job as a scullery maid. Her day began at 5 a.m. cleaning grates and lighting fires then she would scrub floors and polish the house all for two shillings a week one of which she had to send home to her mother. Things improved when she secured the position of lady's maid in a house in Belgravia on five shillings a week. Anwyn was required to be a hairdresser, beautician, confidante and secretary. Reporting directly to the lady of the house she was expected to cover up her mistress's affairs. Her time as a lady's maid was over when she was caught with a young aristocrat in her room and banished from the house but Anwyn found further employment in a variety of houses working above and below stairs. However she found her niche in the jolly working class atmosphere of the capital city's pubs. London between the wars and during the Blitz is richly evoked and despite all her hardships Anwyn never asks for the readers sympathy. Her story is full of gregariousness and eccentricity as well as being a poignant account of the history of a woman with an indomitable spirit and love of life. The Woman in White Wilkie Collins, 1861 The Woman in White Wilkie Collins, 2022-05-24 Reprint of the original first published in 1865 *Woman's Place. Stream System Gerald Murnane, 2018-04-03 Stories from a mind bending Australian master a genius on the level of Beckett Teju Cole Never before available to readers in this hemisphere these stories originally published from 1985 to 2012 offer an irresistible compendium of the work of one of contemporary fiction s greatest magicians While the Australian master Gerald Murnane s reputation rests largely on his longer works of fiction his short stories stand among the most brilliant and idiosyncratic uses of the form since Borges Beckett and Nabokov Brutal comic obscene and crystalline Stream System runs from the haunting Land Deal which imagines the colonization of Australia and the ultimate vengeance of its indigenous people as a series of nested dreams to Finger Web which tells a quietly terrifying fractal tale of the scars of war and the roots of misogyny to The Interior of Gaaldine which finds its anxious protagonist stranded beyond the limits of fiction itself No one else writes like Murnane and there are few other authors alive still capable of changing how and why we read
