

Each day of my life,
like a carousel turns,
There are chances to take,
and lessons to learn.

Caught up in problems
that each day would bring,
Chances slip by,
to catch the brass ring.

Whenever I felt my
rib slowing down,
Your gentle hand
would push me around.

Picking me up,
each time that I fell —
You rode beside me on my carousel.

Poetry of Frank Stanford James McWilliams, 2025-07-01 The full throated biography fans have been yearning for Kirkus Starred Review April 2025 When twenty nine year old Frank Stanford put three bullets in his chest on June 3 1978 he ended a life that had been inextricably linked with poetry since childhood Deeply influential but largely unknown outside his corner of the poetry world this prodigy of the American South inspired a cult following that has kept his reputation and work flickering on the periphery of the American literary tradition ever since The Life and Poetry of Frank Stanford offers for the first time a comprehensive study of Stanford s life and work introducing to a broad readership poetry that remains both captivating to poets and in its celebration of everyday experience over academic erudition accessible to those who rarely read poetry Stanford s poems range from one line to his 15 283 line epic The Battlefield Where the Moon Says I Love You The vital thread running through all of his poetry is an ear for language that vies with Walt Whitman in its expansiveness and generosity Stanford s omnivorous attraction to vernacular particularly Black and rural vernacular centered on an admiration for the marginalized and eccentric Blending the Southern Gothic of Faulkner and O Connor with a racially egalitarian vision his poetry thrives on the stories and traditions of the oppressed and forgotten The themes that preoccupied Stanford s prolific output language sex death class geography commercialism surrealism film race also preoccupied the poet in his daily life which was marked by heavy drinking philandering mental instability emotional abuse and through it all an inveterate desire for beauty Constantly attentive to this tension biographer James McWilliams traces the short and painfully complicated life of this hidden talent who left a lifetime s worth of poetry that through its grounding in the mundane achieved a vision of the transcendent

Hope Mirrlees's Paris A Poem Richard Aldington's A Fool in the Forest and Nancy Cunard's Parallax As well as presenting a new history of this neglected genre the book examines the ways in which the modernist long poem represented the seminal literary form for grappling with the crises of European modernity in the wake of World War I
