conflicts While the cultural diversity of contemporary societies has to be acknowledged as an empirical and demographic fact whether multiculturalism as a policy offers an optimal conduit for intercultural understanding and social harmony has become increasingly a matter of polarised public debate This book examines the contested philosophical foundations of multiculturalism and its often controversial applications in the context of migrant societies It also explores the current theoretical debates about the extent to which multiculturalism and related conceptual constructs can account for the various ethical challenges and policy dilemmas surrounding the management of cultural diversity in our contemporary societies The authors consider common conceptual and empirical features from a transnational perspective through analysis of the case studies of Australia Canada Columbia Germany New Zealand the United Kingdom and Uruguay This book will be of interest to students and scholars of political science comparative politics international studies multiculturalism migration and political sociology
