Religion In A Changing World Comparative Studies In Sociology:

Religion in a Changing World Madeleine Cousineau, 1998-08-27 Twenty eight scholars many of them well known in the sociology of religion examine a variety of faith traditions and sociological topics that illustrate the connection between religion and society in many different countries at the dawn of the 21st century The faith traditions include Judaism Roman Catholicism evangelical and mainstream Protestantism Islam Hinduism Yoruba religion Chinese religion and several new religious movements including a UFO cult in Quebec The book will be of interest to scholars in the sociology of religion but a special feature is its utility as a reader in undergraduate and graduate courses The topics represent the range usually presented in a course in the sociology of religion individual religiosity religious identity conversion plausibility structure community church and sect religious leadership organizational analysis new religious movements race gender religion and politics and the relationship of religion to social order and social change

The World's Religions in Figures Todd M. Johnson, Brian J. Grim, 2013-03-25 Created by two of the field's leading experts this unique introduction to international religious demography outlines the challenges in interpreting data on religious adherence and presents a contemporary portrait of global religious belief Offers the first comprehensive overview of the field of international religious demography detailing what we know about religious adherents around the world and how we know it Examines religious freedom and diversity including agnostics and atheists on a global scale highlighting trends over the past 100 years and projecting estimates for the year 2050 Outlines the issues and challenges related to definitions taxonomies sources analyses and other techniques in interpreting data on religious adherence Considers data from religious communities censuses surveys and scholarly research along with several in depth case studies on the global Muslim population religion in China and the religious demography of recently created Sudan and South Sudan Argues against the belief that the twentieth century was a secular period by putting forward new evidence to the contrary Provides resources for measuring both qualitatively and quantitatively important data on the world's religious situation in the twenty first century

Religious Organisations in Sub-Saharan Africa and South Asia Carole Rakodi, 2024-02-05 This book explores the links between religion states social welfare and social change in Sub Saharan Africa and South Asia Building on the author's previous analysis of how religious beliefs practices and values influence social behaviour and relationships especially within families this book focuses on the organisational characteristics of religions and societies The book considers how Muslim Christian Hindu and Buddhist organisations working in different contexts express the religious values of charity and compassion in practical activities to improve social welfare Drawing on extensive empirical research the book maps the organisations involved identifying the factors that explain their choice of activities sources of funding and modes of organisation and highlighting similarities and differences between the religious traditions It considers the involvement of religious actors in school level education as well as in international humanitarian relief and reconstruction and addresses the claim that religious organisations have distinctive features that give them comparative advantages Finally the book reviews research on the roles of religious values and organisations in resisting or promoting social change focusing on women s movements especially their campaigns for changes in family law and the quest for social and legal recognition for sexual and gender minorities The book s wide coverage of two subcontinents in the Global South and several important religious traditions will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of sociology international development religious studies anthropology and area studies as well as to those engaged in policy and action who are looking to improve their understanding of the complex social cultural political and religious contexts in which they work Religion in a Changing World Madeleine Cousineau,1998-08-30 Twenty eight scholars many of them well known in the sociology of religion examine a variety of faith traditions and sociological topics that illustrate the connection between religion and society in many different countries at the dawn of the 21st century The faith traditions include Judaism Roman Catholicism evangelical and mainstream Protestantism Islam Hinduism Yuruba religion Chinese religion and several new religious movements including a UFO cult in Quebec The book will be of interest to scholars in the sociology of religion but a special feature is its utility as a reader in undergraduate and graduate courses The topics represent the range usually presented in a course in the sociology of religion individual religiosity religious identity conversion plausibility structure community church and sect religious leadership organizational analysis new religious movements race gender religion and politics and the relationship of religion to social order and social change

The Transformation of Yiguan Dao in Taiwan Yunfeng Lu,2008-01-01 Yunfeng Lu explores the operation of Yiguan Dao under suppression in Taiwan its transformation from a persecuted sect to a respected religion in the past two decades and the relationship between Yiguan Dao and its rivals in Taiwan s religious market He also develops the religious economy model by extending it to Chinese societies

Leadership in The Salvation Army Harold Hill,2006-10-01 Leadership in The Salvation Army is a review and analysis of Salvation Army history focused on the process of clericalisation The Army provides a case study of the way in which renewal movements in the church institutionalise Their leadership roles initially merely functional and based on the principle of the priesthood of all believers begin to assume greater status the adoption of the term ordination for the commissioning of The Salvation Army s officers in 1978 a hundred years after its founding illustrates this tendency The Salvation Army s ecclesiology has been essentially pragmatic and has developed in comparative isolation from the wider church perhaps with a greater role being played by sociological processes than by theological reflection in its development The Army continues to exhibit a tension between its theology which supports equality of status and its military structure which works against equality and both schools of thought flourish within its ranks Religion and Intimate Partner Violence Nancy Nason-Clark, Barbara Fisher-Townsend, Catherine Holtmann, Stephen McMullin, 2018 Intimate partner violence is a complex ugly fear inducing reality for large numbers of women around the world When violence exists in a relationship safety is compromised shame abounds and peace evaporates Violence is learned behavior and it flourishes most when it is ignored minimized or misunderstood When it strikes the homes of deeply religious women they are more vulnerable more likely to believe that their abusive partners can and will change less likely to leave a violent home temporarily or forever often reluctant to seek outside sources of assistance and frequently disappointed by the response of the religious leader to their call for help These women often believe they are called by God to endure the suffering to forgive and to keep on forgiving their abuser and to fulfill their marital vows until death do us part Concurrently many batterers employ explicitly religious language to justify the violence towards their partners and sometime they manipulate spiritual leaders who try to offer them help Religion and Intimate Partner Violence seeks to navigate the relatively uncharted waters of intimate partner violence in families of deep faith The program of research on which it is based spans over twenty five years and includes a wide variety of specific studies involving religious leaders congregations battered women men in batterer intervention programs and the army of workers who assist families impacted by abuse including criminal justice workers therapeutic staff advocacy workers and religious leaders The authors provide a rich and colorful portrayal of the intersection of intimate partner violence and religious beliefs and practices that inform and interweave throughout daily life Such a focus on lived religion enables readers to isolate examine and evaluate ways in which religion both augments and thwarts the journey towards justice accountability healing and wholeness for women and men caught in the web of intimate partner violence APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service , The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia Ian McAllister, Steve Dowrick, Riaz Hassan, 2003-08-07 First published in 2003 The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia is a high quality reference on significant research in Australian social sciences The book is divided into three main sections covering the central areas of the social sciences economics political science and sociology Each section examines the significant research in the field placing it within the context of broader debates about the nature of the social sciences and the ways in which institutional changes have shaped how they are defined taught and researched
