Charting the Faith of Australians Philip Hughes,2016-05 The last 50 years have seen more rapid change than at any time in human history Changes in technology have changed every aspect of life from contraception to computation from communication to community formation These changes have affected the ways in which Australians have sought meaning in their lives from the fulfilment of duty to the maximisation of subjective wellbeing They have affected deeply the role that religion has played in life with the focus moving from the preservation of tradition to personal spirituality Over the past 30 years the Christian Research Association has charted these changes It has done so through the examination of census and survey data and through interviews with thousands of individuals It has examined these changes in youth culture and rural culture and has explored the impact of migration and the rise of the Pentecostal and charismatic movements It has suggested ways in which churches and schools might respond to these changes Part 1 of this book tells the story of these changes and how the Christian Research Association has charted them Part 2 contains contributions from various researchers discussing how the Christian Research Association has served the churches Part 3 explores some extensions of and parallels to the work of the Christian Research Association in relation to religious institutions migration and other research The story told in this book is a personal story for Dr Philip Hughes the senior research officer of the Christian Research Association from 1985 to 2016 But it is also a story of global significance as Christian and other religious institutions grapple with changes to their place in society and their roles in changing perceptions of life
