The Future of Religious Leadership Alon Goshen-Gottstein, 2018-08-08 The chapters collected in this book prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy address the subject of religious leadership. The subject is of broad relevance in the training of religious leaders and in the practice of religious leadership. As such, it is also germane to religious thought where reflections on religious leadership occupy an important place. What does it mean to be a religious leader in today's world? To what degree are the challenges that confront religious leadership today the same perennial challenges that have arrested the attention of the faithful and their leaders for generations and to what degree do we encounter challenges today that are unique to our day and age? One dimension is surely unique and that is the very ability to explore these issues from an interreligious perspective and to consider challenges, opportunities and strategies across religious traditions. Studying the theme across six faith traditions: Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism, Hinduism and Buddhism. The Future of Religious Leadership: World Religions in Conversation recognizes the common challenges to present day religious leadership. Contributors: Awet Andemicael, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Anantanand Rambachan, Maria Reis, Habito Meir, Sendor Balwant Singh, Dhillon, Miroslav Volf. Development and Faith Katherine Marshall, Marisa Bronwyn Van Saanen, 2007. Publisher's description: The faith and development nexus is both a promising new focus for secular development agencies and a historic reality for centuries. World faiths and individuals inspired by their faith have played many roles in social change and social welfare. Secular development agencies have largely operated in parallel to the world of faith motivated development. The World Bank began in the late 1990s to explore ways in which faith and development are connected. The issue was not and is not about religion but about the recognition that some of the best experts on development are faith leaders living and working in poor communities where strong ties and moral authority give them unique experience and insight. The World Bank's goal is to act as a catalyst and convenor bringing together development practitioners to find common ground, understand one another's efforts and explore differences. Development and Faith explores and highlights promising partnerships in the world between secular and faith development entities. It recounts the evolving history of relationships between faith and secular development institutions. It focuses on the Millennium Development Goals as a common framework for action and an opportunity for new forms of collaboration and partnership.
