Role Of Memory In Ethnic Conflict:

The Role of Memory in Ethnic Conflict E. Cairns, M. Roe, 2002-12-13 What insights can we gain from the social sciences about the role memory plays in creating or re creating the many conflicts threatening global peace in the twenty first century Indeed can knowledge about the relationship between memory and conflict help resolve intergroup conflicts and heal individual hurts This book presents a series of essays both theoretical and empirical that approach these questions from a variety of disciplines that will highlight a much neglected aspect of one of the major problems facing the world today

The Politics of Memory in the Italian Populist Radical Right Marianna Griffini, 2023-06-19 The Politics of Memory in the Italian Populist Radical Right examines the role of colonial memory in the contemporary Italian populist radical right which includes the Lega and Fratelli d'Italia FdI The book originally adopts postcolonialism as an analytical framework to critically examine which roles colonial memory plays in the Italian populist radical right Considering the timeframe between 2013 and 2021 this book suggests that the contemporary Italian populist radical right selectively shaped its memory of the colonial past expunging the most difficult aspects from it The fact that the Italian populist radical right parties examined do not fully acknowledge the controversial aspects of Italy's colonial past which are bracketed off discourse may contribute to the deployment of colonial discourse by these same parties when discussing immigration From this Italian case study broader implications can be drawn regarding the role of colonial memory in political discourse which is a topical matter across Europe The book will be of interest to those studying populism the radical right Italian politics and history colonialism and the politics of memory

Disputed Memory Tea Sindbæk Andersen, Barbara Törnquist-Plewa, 2016-06-20 The world wars genocides and extremist ideologies of the 20th century are remembered very differently across Central Eastern and Southeastern Europe resulting sometimes in fierce memory disputes This book investigates the complexity and contention of the layers of memory of the troubled 20th century in the region Written by an international group of scholars from a diversity of disciplines the chapters approach memory disputes in methodologically innovative ways studying representations and negotiations of disputed pasts in different media including monuments museum exhibitions individual and political discourse and electronic social media Analyzing memory disputes in various local national and transnational contexts the chapters demonstrate the political power and social impact of painful and disputed memories The book brings new insights into current memory disputes in Central Eastern and Southeastern Europe It contributes to the understanding of processes of memory transmission and negotiation across borders and cultures in Europe emphasizing the interconnectedness of memory with emotions mediation and politics

Memory Studies in India, 2025-05-29 This pioneering volume marks a significant contribution to memory studies in India offering an in depth exploration of how collective and individual memories shape and reshape identities narratives and historical knowledge By addressing a diverse array of topics from forgotten events massacres and monuments to public spaces and food rituals across various epochs the essays in this collection bring new insights into India's complex cultural history. With contributions from scholars across different stages of their academic careers, this volume not only enriches the field of memory studies but also paves the way for future research in India and beyond.

Memory, Identity, and Nationalism in European Regions Apryshchenko, Victor, Karnaukhova, Oxana, 2019-04-07. Memory studies is a well-established academic discipline, but the revised issue of ethnicity poses a new set of research questions, particularly in relation to the problem of the operational character of memory and ethnicity in the context of traumatized identity. Contemporary political processes in Europe, populism and nationalism, in addition to ethnic challenges in the form of demographic shifts, have created a situation in which new national identities have been developed simultaneously with emerging competitive historical memories. Memory, Identity, and Nationalism in European Regions is an essential scholarly resource that investigates the interactions between politics and managed historical memory and the discourse of ethnicity in European regions. Featuring topics such as anthropology, memory, politics, and national identity, this book is ideally designed for scholars, practitioners, specialists, and politicians.

Memory, Transitional Justice, and Theatre in Postdictatorship Argentina Noe Montez, 2018. In this work examining Argentine theatre over the past four decades and drawing on contemporary research, Noe Montez considers how theatre can serve as activism and alter public reception to a government addressing human rights violations by its predecessor.

Israeli and Palestinian Narratives of Conflict Robert I. Rotberg, 2006-09-07. Why does Hamas refuse to recognize the legitimacy of the state of Israel? What makes the Israeli-Palestinian conflict so intractable? Reflecting both Israeli and Palestinian points of view, this volume addresses the two powerful, bitterly contested, competing historical narratives that underpin the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

Memory and Myths of the Norman Conquest Siobhan Brownlie, 2013. In an innovative approach drawn from Memory Studies, this book seeks to uncover how the Norman Conquest is popularly remembered. The Norman Conquest is one of the most significant events in British history, but how is it actually remembered and perceived today? This book offers a study of contemporary British memory of the Norman Conquest, focussing on shared knowledge, attitudes, and beliefs. A major source of evidence for its findings are references to the Norman Conquest in contemporary British newspaper articles. 807 articles containing references to the Conquest were collected from ten British newspapers covering a recent three-year period. A second important source of information is a quantitative survey for which a representative sample of 2000 UK residents was questioned. These sources are supplemented by the study of contemporary books and film material, as well as medieval chronicles for comparative purposes, and the author also draws on cultural theory to highlight the characteristics and functions of distant memory and myth. The investigation culminates in considering the potential impact of memory of the Norman Conquest in Britain today. Siobhan Brownlie is a Lecturer in the School of Arts, Languages, and Cultures at the University of Manchester.

Reconciliation, Civil Society, and the Politics of Memory Birgit Schwelling, 2014-10-15 How did civil society function as a locus for reconciliation initiatives since the beginning of the 20th century The essays in this volume challenge the conventional understanding of reconciliation as a benign state driven process They explore how a range of civil society actors from Turkish intellectuals apologizing for the Armenian Genocide to religious organizations working towards the improvement of Franco German relations have confronted and coped with the past These studies offer a critical perspective on local and transnational reconciliation acts by questioning the extent to which speech became an alternative to silence remembrance to forgetting engagement to oblivion      Memory, Trauma, and Identity Ron Eyerman, 2019-04-09 This volume brings together Ron Eyerman s most important interventions in the field of cultural trauma and offers an accessible entry point into the origins and development of this theory and a framework of an analysis that has now achieved the status of a research paradigm This collection of disparate essays published between 2004 and 2018 coheres around an original introduction that not only provides a historical overview of cultural trauma but is also an important theoretical contribution to cultural trauma and collective identity in its own right The Afterword from esteemed sociologist Eric Woods connects the essays and explores their significance for the broader fields of sociology behavioral science and trauma studies      Troubles of the past? James W. McAuley, Máire Braniff, Graham Spencer, 2023-02-14 This collection brings together academics and practitioners to consider the increasingly central role that memory and recalling the past plays in determining contemporary politics and the future direction of Northern Irish society Using theoretical comparative and case study approaches it considers not only how narratives of the past are constructed reconstructed understood and commemorated but also the ways in which the key themes that emerge are harnessed and mobilised to political and social effect in the present The book draws deeply on a wide range of expert opinion and viewpoints to add significantly to existing knowledge surrounding the debates over memory and the ways it is used in Northern Irish society

The Palgrave Handbook of Criminology and War Ross McGarry, Sandra Walklate, 2016-08-22 This interdisciplinary Handbook brings together into one coherent volume a range of international authors who firmly establish the relevance of war within the discipline of criminology The chapters address emerging and prevailing issues in the criminological study of war including state crime corporate crime victimology genocide policing security and various forms of violence Taking a critical standpoint including feminist cultural and radical approaches amongst others the Handbook is split into five clear sections 1 The Criminogenic Contexts of War 2 Violence and Victimization at War 3 Violence War and Security 4 Perpetrators of Violence and the Aftermath of War and 5 Cultural and Methodological Developments for a Criminology of War Edited by two leading experts in the field this Handbook provides an original point of reference on the contemporary debates and applications of criminology and war and will be a key resource for academics and students across criminology international relations critical military studies military sociology peace studies and law

Memory in Mind and Culture Pascal Boyer, James V. Wertsch, 2009-06-08 This text introduces students scholars and interested educated readers to the issues of human memory broadly considered encompassing both individual memory collective remembering by societies and the construction of history The book is organised around several major questions How do memories construct our past How do we build shared collective memories How does memory shape history This volume presents a special perspective emphasising the role of memory processes in the construction of self identity of shared cultural norms and concepts and of historical awareness Although the results are fairly new and the techniques suitably modern the vision itself is of course related to the work of such precursors as Frederic Bartlett and Aleksandr Luria who in very different ways represent the starting point of a serious psychology of human culture

The War of 1948 Avraham Sela, Alon Kadish, 2016-11-21 The 1948 War is remembered in this special volume including aspects of Israeli Jewish memory and historical narratives of 1948 and representations of Israeli Palestinian memory of that cataclysmic event and its consequences The contributors map and analyze a range of perspectives of the 1948 War as represented in literature historical museums art visual media and landscape as well as in competing official and societal narratives They are examined especially against the backdrop of the Oslo process which brought into relief tensions within and between both sides of the national divide concerning identity and legitimacy justice and righteousness of self and other
