Matthew And The Didache:

Matthew and the Didache Hubertus Waltherus Maria van de Sandt, 2005 There are significant agreements between the Didache and the Gospel of Matthew as these writings share words phrases and motifs In modern scholarship there seems to be an increasing reluctance however to support the thesis that the Didache used Matthew And indeed such a close relationship might equally suggest that both documents were created in the same historical and geographical setting for example in the Greek speaking part of Syria If the Didache and Matthew did indeed emanate from the same geographical social and cultural setting new questions arise Who were the Christians standing behind the Didache and Matthew Can we trace the developing interests of the respective community or communities in the different textual layers of the Didache and Matthew Is it possible to frame the congregations within the social history of Jews and Jewish believers in Jesus in first century Syria What stage of development or separation between Christians Jewish Christians and Jews is envisaged In order to invite discussion and exchange ideas on this fundamental issue an international conference was organized by the Tilburg Faculty of Theology in April 2003 Scholars of related fields New Testament Second Temple Judaism Liturgy Patristic Studies were brought together to debate about the matter in the light of their diverse specialties and previous research This volume contains the edited proceedings of the meeting of experts Huub van de Sandt is lecturer in New Testament Studies at the Tilburg Faculty of Theology Together with the late David Flusser he is the author of The Didache Its Jewish Sources and its Place in Early Judaism and Christianity 2002 This stimulating collection of essays from an international group of scholars provides extensive and insightful exploration of the possible relationships between the Gospel of Matthew and the Didache and of the location of both texts in Jewish Christian contexts Warren Carter Professor of New Testament Saint Paul School of Theology Kansas City Missouri Matthew and the Didache I Milieu 1 Hypotheses on the Development of Judaism and Christianity in Syria in the Period after 70 C E Bas ter Haar Romeny 2 The Milieu of Matthew the Didache and Ignatius of Antioch Agreements and Differences Clayton N Jefford II The Two Documents Their Provenance and Origin 3 The History and Social Setting of the Matthean Community Wim Weren 4 When Why and for Whom Was the Didache Created Insights into the Social and Historical Setting of the Didache communities Aaron Milavec III Two Documents from the Same Jewish Christian Milieu 5 The Sermon on the Mount and the Two Ways Teaching of the Didache Kari Syreeni 6 The Use of the Synoptics or Q in Did 13b 21 John S Kloppenborg 7 The Halakhic Evidence of Didache 8 and Matthew 6 and the Didache Community s Relationship to Judaism Peter J Tomson 8 Didache 9 10 A Litmus Test for the Research on Early Christian Liturgy Eucharist Gerard Rouwhorst 9 Les charismatiques itinérants dans la Didache et dans l'évangile de Matthieu with an English abstract André Tuilier 10 Two Windows on a Developing Jewish Christian Reproof Practice Matt 18 15 17 and Did 15 3 Huub van de Sandt 11 Eschatology in the Didache and the Gospel of Matthew Joseph Verheyden 12 Do the Didache and Matthew Reflect an Irrevocable Parting of the Ways with Judaism Jonathan A Draper

Matthew, James, and Didache Hubertus Waltherus

Maria van de Sandt, Jürgen Zangenberg, 2008 Sharing many traditions and characteristics the Gospel of Matthew the letter of James and the Didache invite comparative study In this volume internationally renowned scholars consider the three writings and the complex interrelationship between first century Judaism and nascent Christianity These texts likely reflect different aspects and emphases of a network of connected communities sharing basic theological assumptions and expressions Of particular importance for the reconstruction of the religious and social milieu of these communities are issues such as the role of Jewish law the development of community structures the reception of the Jesus tradition and conflict management In addition to the Pauline and Johannine schools Matthew James and the Didache may represent a third religious milieu within earliest Christianity that is especially characterized through its distinct connections to a particular ethical stream of contemporary Jewish tradition The contributors are Jonathan Draper Patrick J Hartin John S Kloppenborg Matthias Konradt J Andrew Overman Boris Repschinski Huub van de Sandt Jens Schroter David C Sim Alistair Stewart Sykes Peter Tomson Martin Vahrenhorst Joseph Verheyden Wim J C Weren Oda Wischmeyer Jürgen K Zangenberg and Magnus Zetterholm

BOOK JACKET The Gospel of Matthew's Dependence on the Didache Alan Garrow, 2003-05-01 This book maps the relationship between Matthew's Gospel and the Didache No consensus regarding the nature of this relationship has yet been achieved neither has serious consideration been given to the possibility that Matthew depended directly on the Didache If it may be shown that such was the case then this infamously enigmatic text may finally be used to answer a series of tantalizing questions what is the pattern of the Synoptic relationships How did the earliest Jewish Christians incorporate Gentiles What was the shape of Eucharistic worship in the first century

Eschatology in the Making Vicky Balabanski, 1997-09-04 If the expectations of the early church concerning the return of Christ and the end of the world were disappointed the magnitude of the disappointment and the form in which it was expressed do not seem to fit with the expectations of modern scholars This 1997 study questions both the idea that the delay of Christ's return the parousia was the primary factor shaping the development of eschatological expectation in the early church and the linearity of the models used to understand the development of early Christian eschatology Vicky Balabanski argues that Matthew's Gospel shows a more imminent expectation than Mark's and that there were fluctuations in eschatological expectation caused by factors within these early communities and those of the Didache She traces these fluctuations and offers some new interpretative keys to Mark 13 Matthew 24 and 25 and Didache 16 as well as some vivid and original historical reconstructions

Matthew and the Mishnah Akiva Cohen, 2016-06-10 Akiva Cohen investigates the general research question how do the authors of religious texts reconstruct their community identity and ethos in the absence of their central cult His particular socio-historical focus of this more general question is how do the respective authors of the Gospel according to Matthew and the editors of the Mishnah redefine their group identities following the destruction of the Second Temple Cohen further examines how after the Destruction both the Matthean and the Mishnaic communities found and articulated their renewed community bearings and a new sense of vision through each of their respective author redactor's foundational texts. The context of this study is thus that of an inner Jewish phenomenon: two Jewish groups seeking to re-establish their community identity and ethos without the physical temple that had been the cultic center of their cosmos.

A Theology of Matthew's Gospel Michael J. Wilkins, 2025-10-07

A Theology of Matthew's Gospel develops the perspective that Matthew wrote his Gospel to identify, defend, and proclaim Jesus Immanuel, God with us, as the Davidic Messiah who fulfilled the OT expectations of humanity's redemption. Matthew's Gospel establishes Jesus's identity as the heir to the promises of Israel's throne through King David and heir to the promises of blessing to all the nations through the patriarch Abraham.

1.1 So this first Gospel offers evangelistic hope in Jesus's message of the gospel to Jews contending that they should turn to Jesus as their long-awaited Messiah. Matt 11:2-6. But strikingly, Matthew's Gospel also offers evangelistic hope to Gentiles, emphasizing that salvation through Jesus Messiah is available to all the nations.

2.8-19 The book emphasizes the three horizons that comprise Matthew's gospel: history, theology, and literature. The first horizon focuses on Jesus's history ministry. Here, Matthew provides for us a record of God's activities in history in the arrival of Jesus Messiah and the kingdom of heaven. The second horizon develops Matthew's theological perspective for his audience's. Here, we attempt to understand and isolate Matthew's unique theological perspective of God's activities in Jesus Messiah. This is a central focus emphasizing Matthew's theological perspective of the Old Testament, Christology, the kingdom of heaven, discipleship, the Church, church, Israel, past, present, and future, the death and resurrection of Jesus, mission, commission, and eschatology, eternity. The third horizon emphasizes today's reader's engaging with Matthew's Gospel as literature. Here, we attempt to capture the significance of the perspective of today's reader's understanding of Jesus Messiah's activities in history and Matthew's theological perspective for the contemporary church. In this book, we view Matthew's perspective of God's activities in Jesus's unfolding earthly ministry. The alternating sections of narrative and discourse provide for his readers Jesus's example to follow and Jesus's words to obey. Therefore, Matthew's Gospel is at least in part a manual on discipleship to Jesus Messiah in the kingdom of heaven. In the six Narratives, Matthew reveals Jesus's true identity in his deeds and introduces themes that will lead to instructions to Jesus's disciples in the Discourses. The six Narratives provide the example that Jesus's disciples are commanded to obey. In the five Discourses, Matthew records Jesus's instructions, commands, parables, directives, and prophecies that will guide his followers in their discipleship to Jesus until the end of the age. Combined, the narratives of Jesus's life provide Jesus's example to follow, and the discourses give Jesus's instructions to obey and are the basis of our ongoing transformation to become like Jesus.

Trajectories Through the New Testament and the Apostolic Fathers Andrew Gregory, Christopher Tuckett, 2005-12

The two-volume work The New Testament and the Apostolic Fathers offers a comparative study of two collections of early Christian texts: the New Testament and the texts from immediately after the New Testament period, which are conventionally referred to as the Apostolic Fathers. The second volume, Trajectories through the New Testament and the Apostolic Fathers, discusses broad theological literary and historical issues that arise in the comparative study of these texts and which are of importance to the study of early Christianity It deals with the most important current debates concerning both the Apostolic Fathers and the New Testament such as baptism Pauline theology the function of apocalyptic elements Church order and Jewish and Christian identity Matthew R. Alan Culpepper, 2022-03-01 In this new critical commentary for the New Testament Library series R Alan Culpepper sets the Gospel of Matthew in the context of the competing Jewish and early Christian voices of the first century bringing greater clarity to Matthew's own proclamation of the gospel and inviting readers to give up perhaps long held assumptions about the book In Culpepper's treatment Matthew emerges as a Gospel for a Jewish community distinguishing itself from the Pharisees on one side and other early Christian traditions and leaders especially Paul and his followers on the other side In this framework Matthew calls his community to faithful observance of the law a law observant mission to both Jews and Gentiles and repentance and the practice of forgiving in preparation for the coming judgment Accordingly Matthew takes readers back to an early period before the separation of Jewish Christians from the synagogues By taking seriously Matthew's Jewishness this volume also enables readers to hear the historical Jesus more clearly Excursuses on Matthew's social setting include Jesus as healer Sabbath observance Roman taxation the Pharisees the tithes ancient weddings and the Sanhedrin as well as many shorter units on Second Temple Judaism synagogues and first century Galilean society The New Testament Library series offers authoritative commentary on every book and major aspect of the New Testament providing fresh translations based on the best available ancient manuscripts critical portrayals of the historical world in which the books were created careful attention to their literary design and a theologically perceptive exposition of the biblical text The contributors are scholars of international standing The editorial board consists of C Clifton Black Princeton Theological Seminary John T Carroll Union Presbyterian Seminary and Susan E Hylen Candler School of Theology Emory University A Handbook on the Jewish Roots of the Gospels Craig Evans, David Mishkin, 2022 A survey of the historical theological and practical issues of reading the Gospels as Jewish literature Includes over thirty articles by well known experts on current topics relating to Jesus and the Gospels in light of new developments in archaeology ancient texts and Jewish society in late antiquity The Church of Antioch and the Eucharistic Traditions (ca. 35-130 CE) Amiel Drimbe, 2020-10-12 The author has chosen 1 to analyse the Eucharistic traditions of earliest Christianity and 2 to trace their use within the church of Antioch focusing on the following key texts 1 Cor 11 23 25 Matt 26 26 29 Did 9 1 10 6 and Ignatius Phil 4 1 Therefore connecting the four Eucharistic texts to the early church of Antioch constitutes the main objective of this study Introduction
