The political economy of food and nutrition policies Per Pinstrup-Andersen, 1993-01-01 Few nutritionists and economists fully appreciate how the political environment shapes policy and subsequently affects the relevance of their policy recommendations When governments fail to follow the recommendations of nutritionists and economists and are unable to design and implement cost effective nutrition programs and policies it is often attributed to politics or to lack of political will on the part of decisionmakers Past nutrition planning efforts frequently failed to understand the goals and behavior of the various agents and institutions inside and outside the government that in the final analysis determine whether the planning effort is successful In The Political Economy of Food and Nutrition Policies Per Pinstrup Andersen brings together a group of
