Nutrition And Food Choices:

The Psychology of Food Choice Richard Shepherd,Monique Raats,2006-01-01 Written by leading international experts this book explores one of the central difficulties faced by nutritionists today how to improve people's health by getting them to change their dietary behaviour It provides an overview of the current understanding of consumer food choice by exploring models of food choice the motivations of consumers biological learning and societal influences on food choice and food choices across the lifespan It concludes by examining the barriers to dietary change and how nutritionists can best impact upon dietary behaviour

Food Choices Mary Jo Tuckwell,1988 Abstract Selecting a healthful diet has become a challenge that often requires a trade off between nutritional value cost and time skill required for preparation Designed to equip young adults with the food and nutrition knowledge needed to make informed choices this text presents a multidisciplinary approach based on biological social and economic sciences Divided into three skill building sections that revolve around food choices building nutrition knowledge making informed decisions and healthy eating patterns comprise the subject areas Nutrition physiology dieting sports nutrition food resources and child feeding are some of the topics discussed Written in textbook form with questions at the end of each chapter tables graphs nutritive value of foods tables triceps skinfold charts and recipes are also included

Food Choice And The Consumer David Marshall,David W. Marshall,1995-12-31 The provision of food for consumers is affected by factors concerned with a variety of disciplines such as technical feasibility choice and environment This book explores these factors

Aware Food Choices: Bridging the Gap Between Consumer Knowledge About Nutritional Requirements and Nutritional Information Angela Tarabella,Barbara Burchi,2015-12-11 This Brief provides a snapshot of the continuing debate in the food industry on how to bridge the gap between consumer knowledge of nutrition principles and the nutrition information system currently in place for labelling Aware Food Choices Bridging the Gap Between Consumer Knowledge About Nutrition and Nutritional Information examines the available literature on consumer understanding of nutritional information and comments on the current poor knowledge shown by consumers about nutrition principles Another focus of this Brief is on the evolution of nutritional information in food labelling and current regulations on nutritional claims and product facts In reviewing attempts to improve the nutrition information system this work points out that consumers must first understand the data provided in order to utilize the system to make healthy food choices Therefore any campaigns aimed at improving the information system must concentrate on consumer data understanding of nutrition principles and components as opposed to a sole focus on labelling upgrades

The Psychology of Food Choice Richard Shepherd,Monique Raats,2006 One of the central problems in nutrition is the difficulty of getting people to change their dietary behaviours so as to bring about an improvement in health What is required is a clearer understanding of the motivations of consumers barriers to changing diets and how we might have an impact upon dietary behaviour This book brings together theory research and applications from psychology and behavioural sciences applied to dietary behaviour The authors are all international leaders in their respective fields and together give an overview of the current understanding of consumer food choice Nutrition and Food Choices Kristen W. McNutt,David R. McNutt,1978
