Group Relations and Other Meditations Carlos Sapochnik, 2021-09-30 This book examines the Tavistock tradition of using group relations conferences as temporary training organizations for groups and institutions and how those can inform and enrich the theory and practice of experiential learning more generally First this book analyses the structures rituals and beliefs of group relations conferences drawing on the author's learned experience in the field followed by meditations extending to broader areas such as the social nature of corruption martial arts Western culture's longing for creativity and the use of drawing in social science research It addresses the tension between psychoanalysis and systemic theory in group relations thinking refining and re-defining key concepts of the practice challenging notions of dependence and dependency performative poetics learning the politics of power nostalgia and the unspoken reasons for the wish to join conference staff teams It offers a critique of the polarity concerning terms such as spontaneity the sense of mystery openness to the unexpected and trust in unconscious processes as opposed to the desire for certainty and the confusion anxiety and aggression evoked when groups find themselves without familiar signposts Drawing on his thinking developed over the course of a professional life as organizational consultant artist designer teacher researcher and poet the author invites the reader to challenge boundaries towards a less inflexible and defended engagement with the Other The metaphor of bricolage

an activity that inspires creativity and originality suggests possible ways of putting known things together to approach new meaning as provisional and shifting The many strands thus gathered reveal new dimensions of group life that crucially affect our everyday living and surviving both as individuals and as members of society This work will allow psychoanalysts psychotherapists group therapists organizational consultants and trainers to put the lessons learned from group relations conferences into everyday practice
