Power And Policy In The Prc Yu-ming Shaw, 1985-08-05      Energy Policy and Regulation in the People's Republic of China C. P. Andrews-Speed, 2004-01-01 China is the world's second largest consumer of commercial energy and is therefore a significant contributor to atmospheric pollution. It is becoming a major player in global and regional markets for energy products, services and investment. This book provides an overview of the formulation and implementation of energy policy in China. Part One provides background information on China's energy sector. Part Two examines the nature of China's energy policy and of the policy making process with examples drawn from the coal and natural gas sectors as well as from the government's drive to promote energy conservation and energy efficiency. Part Three focuses on recent efforts to reform the energy sector in China and to regulate it more effectively, paying particular attention to the electrical power sector and to small scale coal mines. Part Four evaluates from the perspective of the citizen policy relating to the electrical power sector and to the closure of small scale coal mines. Part Five addresses the international dimensions of China's energy policy with accounts of both inward and outward investment and of the international political implications. About the author: Dr Philip Andrews-Speed is Director of the Centre for Energy, Petroleum and Mineral Law and Policy at the University of Dundee, Scotland. He spent fourteen years as a geologist in the international mining and petroleum industries before coming to the Centre in 1994, gaining an LL.M. in Energy Law and Policy and joining the academic staff.

Taiwan Communique and Separation of Powers United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Separation of Powers, 1983      Foreign Relations of the PRC Robert G. Sutter, 2018-07-12 Now in a fully updated edition, this cogent but comprehensive book examines the international relations of the People's Republic of China since its founding in 1949. Noted scholar Robert G. Sutter provides a balanced assessment of the country's recent successes and advances as well as the important legacies and constraints that hamper it, especially in nearby Asia. Long the focus of China's foreign policy attention, Sutter demonstrates how Beijing has carefully created an image of a China that follows consistent policies based on morally correct principles, but its record shows repeated episodes of sometime surprising change and frequent use of violence, intimidation and coercion. China's leaders, he argues, still fail to manage the desire for productive foreign relations with their aspirations to build Chinese security and sovereignty interests. Image building efforts condition Chinese public and elite opinion to be extraordinarily sensitive, self-righteous and often alarmist in dealing with the many disputes China has with its Asian neighbors and the United States. Advances that the PRC has made in other parts of the world focus mainly on commercial interests, limiting its actual impact on world affairs. Sutter shows readers how to use China's rise in nearby Asia as a reliable barometer of how important and effective the country will actually become internationally.

Big Power Ambition under Xi Jinping Suisheng Zhao, 2021-12-14 Instead of emphasizing China as a developing country Chinese President Xi Jinping has identified China as a big power and accentuated China's big power status This book explores the narratives and driving forces behind China's big power ambition Three narratives rooted in Sino centralism are examined One is China's demands for the reform of global governance to reflect the values and interests of China as a rising power Another is China's Belt and Road Initiative to construct a nascent China centred world order The third is the China model and self image promotion in the developing countries There are many forces that have driven or constrained China's big power ambition This collection focuses on two sets of forces One is China's domestic politics and economic incentives and disincentives The other is China's geo political and geo economic interests These forces have both motivated and constrained China's big power ambition The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Contemporary China

Law-Making in the People's Republic of China Jianfu Chen, Yuwen Li, Jan Michiel Otto, Maurice V. Polak, 2021-10-25 Who are the legislators and what are the products of the legislative process in China How does a law come into being What meaning should we ascribe to these legislative products from the perspective of legal certainty Can we recognise a Chinese approach to or style of law making What technical legislative problems have Chinese jurists identified and what sorts of solutions to them are being considered These are the questions which Law making in the PRC attempts to solve The volume opens with papers on the historical perspective of law making on ideology and law making and on a comparison between the PRC's legal framework and the frameworks of other legal systems Part II deals with various Institutions and Actors involved and offers analyses of the National People's Congress the State Council departmental rule making local law making law making in autonomous regions public participation and the proposed law on law making by academics Part III offers three case studies in which important areas of legal development are analysed from a law making point of view The selected areas are administrative law contract law and criminal law

Conflict of Laws in the People's Republic of China Zheng Sophia Tang, Yongping Xiao, Zhengxin Huo, 2016-07-27 The area of conflict of laws in China has undergone fundamental development in the past three decades and the most recent changes in the 2010s regarding both jurisdiction and choice of law rules mark the establishment of a modern Chinese conflicts system Jointly written by three professors from both China and the UK this book provides the most up to date and comprehensive analysis of Chinese conflict of laws in civil and commercial matters covering jurisdiction choice of law procedure judgment and awards recognition and enforcement and interregional conflicts in China

Chinese International Relations Theory Jonathan Ping, Anna Hayes, Brett McCormick, 2025-05-05 This book explores how fundamental aspects of China's rapidly evolving arena of international relations theory are emerging directly from the realms of practice and policy As a unique explanation of the Chinese School by those actually making the decisions assisted and researched in collaboration with eminent global scholars the book guides the global reader through the building of Chinese international relations theory and how China may be accounted for behaviour predicted and useful policy developed With chapters examining critical issues such as Statecraft and party The Belt and Road Initiative Diplomacy and Security in the Asia Pacific China US relations The South China Sea This book will provide new theory to policy makers and prove an invaluable guide to students and scholars of Chinese politics international relations theory diplomacy global studies and international relations Area Handbook for the People's Republic of China Donald P.
