Power In The South:

Values, Interests and Power: South African foreign policy in uncertain times Daniel D. Bradlow, Elizabeth Sidiropoulos, 2020-01-01

About the publication South Africa's foreign policy makers are facing a substantial challenge. From the advent of the democratic era in 1994 through to the early 2000s South Africa was a highly respected actor in international affairs with a number of impressive accomplishments in the areas of global governance, peacekeeping and international norm entrepreneurship. However, since that time the country's international standing has declined. The value-based and innovative foreign policy that earned the early post-apartheid South African government such great international respect has been replaced by a more transactional and tactically driven approach to international affairs. The country's position as Africa's leading economy and voice in international affairs is increasingly being challenged by other African states. This book explores how South Africa can develop a foreign policy strategy that is appropriate to the uncertain times in which we live and that both helps the country address its overwhelming domestic challenges of poverty, inequality and unemployment and regain its former high international reputation. The contributors to this book offer analyses and proposals for developing such a strategy within the context of the country's constitutional order and institutional constraints and that addresses the diverse and complex global and regional aspects of the country's international relations. Endorsements:

In this valuable book, which should be on every diplomat's bookshelf, some of SA's foremost experts offer the government frank and compelling advice on how to conduct a much better foreign policy over the next decade. The authors challenge Pretoria to muster all the country's assets and skills and not just those of the ruling party to pursue only the most important foreign policy goals. And to be guided always by the lodestar of the Constitution.

Peter Fabricius, Foreign Policy Analyst, former Foreign Affairs Editor at Independent Newspapers

In this one-of-a-kind book of twelve chapters by emerging and experienced scholars, the authors probe into factors shaping South African foreign policy, lessons learned and the future strategy of the country's foreign policy in an ever-changing world. A compelling read for policy makers and scholars.

Ambassador Prof Iqbal Jhazbhay, University of South Africa

Member of the ANC's NEC International Relations Sub-Committee, its breadth will engage newcomers; its insights will be useful to scholars and practitioners alike.

Professor Amrita Narlikar, President, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA)

This book offers compelling insights on South Africa's foreign policy. These varied pieces provide textured and critical perspectives that may help open up an avenue to re-imagine South Africa's foreign policy afresh in the post-Zuma years. It is a compendium that should appeal to scholars of international relations, practitioners of foreign policy and the broader policy community.

Professor Mzukiso Qobo, Head, School of Governance, University of the Witwatersrand

This nuanced and richly detailed volume offers the reader superb analyses of South Africa's foreign policy. The authors' contributions present both theoretical considerations and specific policy recommendations, which make the book highly useful for both scholars and policy makers. Each chapter is thus certain to significantly contribute to promoting the Federal Power Commission, 1953 Power and Issue Framing in the Contemporary World M. N. I. Sorkar, 2022-03-16 This book puts forward a new angle of understanding the society of states in the milieu of the contemporary world The absence of a regulatory mechanism i e anarchy has been the fundamental issue of international relations This book explains how the normative imperatives information and communication technology ICT and nuclear deterrence generated ambiance have poised the states in a society where they are bound to follow certain normative imperatives that dilute the color and meaning of anarchy and obliges the states to act in a certain way It develops a theoretical proposition with regard to state power defined in terms of the capability of determining the outcomes The proposition first elaborates how international institutions foster normative imperatives then in line with this ontology it narrows down the focus solely on the power of the states in the contemporary world It explains how the power that can determine the outcome today is holistic in nature comprising both materialistic and normative factors In the next step it tailors the proposition in a way so as to employ it for a specific empirical work The book does not end just positing the theoretical proposition the proposition is testified through some case studies with regard to climate negotiations under the UNFCCC The empirical part not only serves to examine the plausibility of the theoretical proposition but it also presents the logic of the major actors and the politics with respect to some of the major issues of climate change i e mitigation funding policy and mechanism and adaptation The scholars in this arena climate activists and climate conscious people in general would find this book worth reading as it kindles a different angle to understand the issues in the context of the contemporary world and as it elaborates the logic framing process and mechanism of reaching outcomes through complex negotiation process No other work has so far analyzed the issues covering the entire period of 21 apex UNFCCC negotiations that led to the Paris Agreement Apart from university libraries this book thus has the prospect to be sold in the markets targeting the academicians climate change experts bureaucrats negotiators and the common readers
