Power Intimacy And The Life Story Personological Inquiries Into Identity:

Power, Intimacy, and the Life Story Dan P. McAdams, 1988-01-01 Who am I And how do I fit into the world These are the questions individuals ask themselves to make sense of their lives Power Intimacy and the Life Story addresses the human quest for identity The author reinterprets some of the classic writings in psychology as he shows how each of us constructs a life story in order to meet the identity challenge and create a sense of unity and purpose in our lives Written for the social scientist practicing clinician educated layperson and student this compelling study describes how we construct stories that are organized by the two general life themes of power and intimacy Using the results of questionnaires and interviews with both college students and older adults the author illustrates an innovative way of understanding human lives in literary terms

Handbook of Research Methods in Personality Psychology Richard W. Robins, R. Chris Fraley, Robert F. Krueger, 2009-12-09 Bringing together leading investigators this comprehensive handbook is a one stop reference for anyone planning or conducting research on personality It provides up to date analyses of the rich array of methodological tools available today giving particular attention to real world theoretical and logistical challenges and how to overcome them In chapters filled with detailed practical examples readers are shown step by step how to formulate a suitable research design select and use high quality measures and manage the complexities of data analysis and interpretation Coverage ranges from classic methods like self report inventories and observational procedures to such recent innovations as neuroimaging and genetic analyses

The Narrative Study of Lives Amia Lieblich, Ruthellen Josselson, 1997-05-31 The narrative approach is a relevant and enriching technique for uncovering describing and interpreting the meaning of experience This collection explores the challenges of performing narrative work in an academic setting writing about it in an ethical and revealing fashion and drawing meaningful conclusions This stellar collection of scholars examine such topics as how the larger construct of personality can read out of a life story the development of multicultural identity as a dynamic process the transition away from delinquent behaviour the importance of cultural continuity for understanding loneliness in elderly refugees race relations and how it relates to the meaning of the decade in which the interviewee

Learning by Going: Transformative Learning through Long-term Independent Travel Birgit Phillips, 2019-03-12 Birgit Phillips explores the concept of transformative travel as it pertains to long term independent travelers and offers a broad philosophical understanding of the complex socio cultural processes involved in identity negotiation She examines both the elements that contribute to the transformation of values and identities and the mechanisms by which this transformation occurs By deploying a pluralistic reflexive interpretive research approach Phillips foregrounds the personal experiences of the individual study participants and the meanings they attach to their travel experiences In addition since the study spanned over 14 years the author is able to provide a wide ranging picture of the complete travel experience from initial motivations to post travel reintegration as well as the long term effects on traveler values and identities

The Person Dan P.

McAdams,2008-12-22 Drawing on cutting edge scientific research classic personality theories and stirring examples from biography and literature The Person presents a lively and integrative introduction to the science of personality psychology Author Dan McAdams organizes the field according to a broad conceptual perspective that has emerged in personality psychology over the past 10 years According to this perspective personality is made up of three levels of psychological individuality dispositional traits characteristic adaptations such as motives and goals and integrative life stories Traits adaptations and stories comprise the three most recognizable variations on psychological human nature grounded in the human evolutionary heritage and situated in cultural and historical context The fifth edition of this beautifully written text expands and updates research on the neuroscience of personality traits and introduces new material on personality disorders evolution and religion attachment in adulthood continuity and change in personality over the life course and the development of narrative identity The Oxford Handbook of Diversity and Work Quinetta M. Roberson,2013-01-31 Greater workforce diversity and business trends make the management of such diversity an important challenge for organizational leaders The Oxford Handbook of Diversity and Work offers a comprehensive review of current theory and research and stimulates thoughtful and provocative conversation about future study of diversity in the workplace Disruption of Habits During the Pandemic AA: VV:,2022-09-23T00:00:00+02:00 In the year 2020 what we used to think that our habits have been profoundly disrupted Lockdown still represents an unprecedented experience for all of those who went through it since it radically affected our freedom of movement and social interaction that used to make up our everyday lives Some people believe that once the pandemic ends nothing will be the same Others think that once the virus becomes weaker or a vaccine is at our disposal and the fear is diminished everything will go back to normal because the mechanism of habit is in many ways similar to the mechanisms of nature reiterating the uniformity of its functioning Who is right then Both positions perhaps When philosophers addressed the issue of customs namely collective habits generally emphasized the caution required when it comes to changing them and if we look back on history Could pandemics affect shared habits in specific territories as ultimately generated in reaction to other natural risks and or to their threats Warring with Words Michael Hanne,William D. Crano,Jeffery Scott Mio,2014-08-01 Scholars in many of the disciplines surrounding politics explicitly utilize either a narrative perspective or a metaphor perspective though rarely the two in combination to analyze issues theoretical and practical domestic and international in the broad field of politics Among the topics they have studied are competing metaphors for the state or nation which have been coined over the centuries in diverse cultures the frequency with which communal and international conflicts are generated at least in part by the clashing religious and historical narratives held by opposing groups the cognitive short cuts employing metaphor by which citizens make sense of politics the need for political candidates to project a convincing self narrative the extent to which the metaphors used to formulate social issues determine the policies which will be developed to resolve them the failure of narratives around the security of the nation to take account of the individual experiences of women and children This volume is the first in which eminent scholars from disciplines as diverse as social psychology anthropology political theory international relations feminist political science and media studies have sought to integrate the narrative and the metaphor perspectives on politics It will appeal to any scholar interested in the many ways in which narrative and metaphor function in combination as cognitive and rhetorical instruments in discourse around politics The Handbook of Narrative Analysis Anna De Fina,Alexandra

Georgakopoulou,2015-08-17 Featuring contributions from leading scholars in the field The Handbook of Narrative Analysis is the first comprehensive collection of sociolinguistic scholarship on narrative analysis to be published Organized thematically to provide an accessible guide for how to engage with narrative without prescribing a rigid analytic framework Represents established modes of narrative analysis juxtaposed with innovative new methods for conducting narrative research Includes coverage of the latest advances in narrative analysis from work on social media to small stories research Introduces and exemplifies a practice based approach to narrative analysis that separates narrative from text so as to broaden the field beyond the printed page Social Cognition and Communication Joseph P. Forgas,Orsolya Vincze,János László,2013-07-31

Language is the essence of interpersonal behavior and social relationships and it is social cognitive processes that determine how we produce and understand language However there has been surprisingly little interest in the past linking social cognition and communication This book presents the latest cutting edge research from a select group of leading international scholars investigating the how language shapes our thinking and how social cognitive processes in turn influence language production and communication The chapters represent diverse perspectives of investigating the links between language and communication including evolutionary linguistic cognitive and affective approaches as well as the empirical analysis of written and spoken narratives New methodologies are presented including the latest techniques of text analysis to illuminate the psychology of individual language users and entire cultures and societies The chapters address such questions as how are cognitive and identity processes reflected in language How do affective states influence language production Are political correctness norms in language use effective How do partners manage to accommodate to each other s communicative expectations What is the role of language as a medium of interpersonal and intergroup influence How are individual and cultural identities reflected in and shaped by narratives in literature school texts and the media The book is aimed at all students researchers and laypersons interested in the interplay between thinking and communication and should be required reading for all professionals who use language in their everyday work to interact with people Motivation and Action

Jutta Heckhausen,Heinz Heckhausen,2018-03-27 This third edition provides translations of all chapters of the most recent fifth German edition of Motivation and Action including several entirely new chapters It provides comprehensive coverage of the history of motivation and introduces up to date theories and new research findings Early sections provide a broad introduction to and deep understanding of the field of motivation psychology mapping out different perspectives and research traditions Subsequent chapters examine major themes of human motivation including achievement affiliation and power motivation as well as the fundamentals of motivation psychology such as motivated and goal oriented behaviors implicit and explicit motives and the regulation of development In addition the book discusses the roles of motivation in three practical fields school and college the workplace and sports Topics featured in this text include Social Relationships and its effects on sexual or intimacy motivation Conscious and unconscious motivators of behavior Drives and incentives in the fields of achievement intimacy sociability and power How the biochemistry and structures of our brain shapes motivated behavior How to engage in intentional goal directed behavior The potential and limits of motivation and self direction in shaping our lives Motivation and Action Third Edition is a must have resource for undergraduate and graduate students as well as researchers in the fields of motivation psychology cognitive psychology and social psychology as well as personality psychology and agency About the Editor Jutta Heckhausen is the daughter of Heinz Heckhausen who published Motivation and Action as a monograph in 1980 and who died in 1988 just before the 2nd edition came out Dr Heckhausen received her Ph D in 1985 from the University of Strathclyde Glasgow with a dissertation about early mother child interaction and did her Habilitation in 1996 at the Free University of Berlin with a monograph about developmental regulation in adulthood Dr Heckhausen worked for many years at the Max Planck Institute for Human Development in Berlin conducting research about the role of motivation in lifespan development She is currently a professor of psychology at the University of California Irvine

Individual Differences in Conscious Experience Robert G. Kunzendorf, Benjamin Wallace, 2000 Individual Differences in Conscious Experience is intended for readers with philosophical psychological or clinical interests in subjective experience It addresses some difficult but important issues in the study of consciousness subconsciousness and self consciousness The book's fourteen chapters are written by renowned pioneering researchers who collectively have published more than fifty books and more than one thousand journal articles The editors introductory chapter frames the book's subtext that mind brain theories embodying the constraints of individual differences in subjective experience should be given greater credence than nomothetic theories ignoring those constraints The next five chapters describe research and theory pertaining to individual differences in conscious sensations specifically individual differences in pain perception phantom limbs gustatory sensations and mental imagery Then two succeeding chapters focus on individual differences in subconsciousness The final six chapters address individual differences in altered states of self consciousness dreams hypnotic phenomena and various clinical syndromes Series B

Striving and Feeling Leonard L. Martin, Abraham Tesser, 2014-05-12 Recently research on the ways in which goals affect and self regulation influence one another has enjoyed an upsurge New findings are being published and new theories are being developed to integrate these findings This volume reports on the latest of this work including a substantial amount of data and theory that has not yet been published Emanating from a conference exploring affect as both a cause and effect in various social contexts this book examines some of the complex and reciprocal relationships among goals self structures feelings thoughts and behavior The chapters address the effects of intrinsic versus extrinsic goals the different effects of approach versus avoidance goals the role of awareness in goal pursuit and affective states the meaning of affective states in relation to goal attainment the impact of hedonistic concerns as motivational factors how people regulate their moods and the role of the self in affective experiences Autobiographical Memory and the Construction of a Narrative Self Robyn Fivush, Catherine A. Haden, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Ego Development for Effective Coaching and Consulting Thomas Binder, 2023-06-12 Both in research and in practice a number of basic competencies are considered necessary for successful process oriented coaching and consulting activities In the present research work the extent to which these necessary competencies are related to vertical personality development was investigated Loevinger s model of ego development a stage theory of development provides the frame of reference for this study This paper fully summarizes the current state of research on the model in order to comprehensively analyze possible relationships with coaching and consulting competencies As a first step the competency requirements of selected coaching and consulting associations were analyzed to determine whether they are related to ego development and whether they express minimum requirements for ego development The analysis revealed that the competency requirements of all associations show clear parallels to aspects of ego development The majority of these requirements point to a fully developed self governed stage E6 of ego development as a prerequisite for process oriented coaching and consulting services In a second step empirical studies were examined to systematically analyze the relationship between ego development and aspects relevant to coaching and consulting The results of the current empirical studies show a clear correlation between these competencies and ego development This means that as ego development increases higher coaching and consulting competencies become more likely Many studies also indicate that a fully developed self governed stage of ego development can be expected as the basis for consistent work at an intermediate level of competence

Handbook of Narrative Inquiry D. Jean Clandinin, 2006-12-28 Composed by international researchers the Handbook of Narrative Inquiry Mapping a Methodology is the first comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of the developing methodology of narrative inquiry The Handbook outlines the historical development and philosophical underpinnings of narrative inquiry as well as describes different forms of narrative inquiry This one of a kind volume offers an emerging map of the field and encourages further dialogue discussion and experimentation as the field continues to develop Key Features Offers coverage of various disciplines and viewpoints from around the world Leading international contributors draw upon narrative inquiry as conceptualized in Anthropology Sociology Psychology and Philosophy Illustrates the range of forms of narrative inquiry Both conceptual and practical in depth descriptions of narrative inquiry are presented Portrays how narrative inquiry is used in research in different professional fields Particular attention is paid to representational issues ethical issues and some of the complexities of narrative inquiry with indigenous and cross cultural participants as well as

 Intended Audience The Handbook of Narrative Inquiry is a must have resource for narrative methodologists and students of narrative inquiry across the social sciences Individuals in the fields of Nursing Psychology Anthropology Education Social Work Sociology Organizational Studies and Health research will be particularly well served by this masterful work Cultivating Virtue Nancy E. Snow, 2015 Though virtue ethics is enjoying a resurgence the topic of virtue cultivation has been largely neglected by philosophers This book features essays by philosophers theologians and psychologists at the forefront of research into virtue Publisher's description The Psychology of Personhood Jack Martin, Mark H. Bickhard, 2012-11-29 What is a person Surprisingly little attention is given to this question in psychology For much of the past century psychology has tended to focus on the systematic study of processes rather than on the persons who enact and embody them In contrast to the reductionist picture of much mainstream theorising which construes persons as their mental lives behaviours or neurophysiological particulars The Psychology of Personhood presents persons as irreducibly embodied and socially situated beings Placing the study of persons at the centre of psychology this book presents novel insights on the typical everyday actions and experiences of persons in relation to each other and to the broader society and culture Leading scholars from diverse academic disciplines paint an integrative portrait of the psychological person within evolutionary historical cultural developmental and everyday contexts The SAGE Encyclopedia of Lifespan Human Development Marc H. Bornstein, 2018-01-15 Lifespan human development is the study of all aspects of biological physical cognitive socioemotional and contextual development from conception to the end of life In more than 800 signed articles by experts from a wide diversity of fields this volume explores all individual and situational factors related to human development across the lifespan The Encyclopedia promises to be an authoritative discipline defining work for students and researchers seeking to become familiar with various theories and empirical findings about human development broadly construed Some of the broad thematic areas will include Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood Aging Behavioral and Developmental Disorders Cognitive Development Community and Culture Early and Middle Childhood Education through the Lifespan Genetics and Biology Gender and Sexuality Life Events Mental Health through the Lifespan Research Methods in Lifespan Development Speech and Language Across the Lifespan Theories and Models of Development Featuring signed articles by experts from the fields of child development psychology neuroscience behavior analysis education sociology and more this five volume encyclopedia promises to be an authoritative discipline defining work for students and researchers seeking to become familiar with the various approaches to and theories of human development as well as past and current research Commerce and Community Robert F. Garnett Jr., Paul Lewis, Lenore T. Ealy, 2014-11-27 Since the end of the Cold War the human face of economics has gained renewed visibility and generated new conversations among economists and other social theorists The monistic mechanical economic systems that characterized the capitalism vs socialism debates of the mid twentieth century have given way to pluralistic ecologies of economic provisioning in which complexly constituted agents cooperate via heterogeneous forms of production and exchange Through the lenses of multiple disciplines this book examines how this pluralistic turn in economic thinking bears upon the venerable social theoretical division of cooperative activity into separate spheres of impersonal Gesellschaft commerce and ethically thick Gemeinschaft community Drawing resources from diverse disciplinary and philosophical traditions these essays offer fresh critical appraisals of the Gemeinschaft Gesellschaft segregation of face to face community from impersonal commerce Some authors issue urgent calls to transcend this dualism whilst others propose to recast it in more nuanced ways or affirm the importance of treating impersonal and personal cooperation as ethically epistemically and economically separate worlds Yet even in their disagreements our contributors paint the process of voluntary cooperation the space commerce and community with uncommon color and nuance by traversing the boundaries that once separated the thin sociality of economics as science of commerce from the thick sociality of sociology and anthropology as sciences of community This book facilitates critical exchange among economists philosophers sociologists anthropologists and other social theorists by exploring the overlapping notions of cooperation rationality identity reciprocity trust and exchange that emerge from multiple analytic traditions within and across their respective disciplines

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
